WHEN TO INVESTIGATE OUR RIGHTS

IN THE majority opinion recently handed down by the Supreme Court on the question of the authority of the A. S. E. C. investigatory committee to form the offering in evidence of a statement made by Joseph Ri-

The function of government, broadly speaking, is to provide security for the governed. This cannot well be accomplished by iniquitious and high-handed tactics. That investigations with a definite purpose in mind have value is very true. In order to form any sen-Sibility neutrality legislation a clear concept of the actions of munitions makers is necessary. The danger of investigations of this sort, as has been shown by experience, is that they will expand their scope and become instruments of personal agenda-grindling for those in charge. Not only the Nye investigations, but also Governor Hoffman's attitude toward the late Bruno Hauptmann, are examples in evidence.

But there is another side to this question which cannot be overlooked. Our modern corporate law is hopelessly anachronized. It was formalized at a time when business as we now know it was unknown. Its purpose as then formulated is unsuitable in view of the fact that at present it is a source of much injustice. In a corporation the stockholder supplies the capital. Actually he is not a partner, he entrusts to the management the running of the enterprise. Yet our laws at present make it impossible for him ever to determine the acts of his employees. Stockholders have no access to the books of the corporation, even though to determine who beside themselves are stockholders, unless they can show just cause, and they cannot show that cause unless they see the books. It is truly a vicious circle which excludes the investor from his rightful place.

The said Royalties arising from the false service

ner as to deceive them concerning what science merit serious consideration.

Sports Comment

After two losses to the Boston Lacrosse Club and to Brown, the undermanned Tech defenses lend hand for tomorrow's game.

Three other Tech sports open their seasons tomorrow. Great Houdini's tricksque gill-tight executive ability against those of other Greater Boston colleges in Harvard Stadium to officially open the Tech lacrosse season. Led by Seow Earl Hazard and Bill Hunt, the Engineer tennis racket wielders break the 1936 ice against Brown's netmen. Then to complete the inauspicious on the morrow, a lightweight-studded rarity crew, together with the jayvees and the freshmen, will row on the varsity Yale at Newco. Incidentally that story emanating from Syracuse recently in the effect that the Orange and Black crew would not participate in the Sino-American race was more truth and less psychologicalpaddingstuff than we bargained for, as evidenced by the announcement today that the race will be a dual affair.

Beaver Soccer Team's Final Game Tomorrow

For the final soccer game of the current season, an archon in the contest of rain several months ago, the Beaver soccer team will meet the Rev. Caeli's Turtles at the Cup Field on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. Caeli's Turtles number a stepper, fast-breaking team from the Bay State and will give the local boys plenty of competition. However, this is the last game in collegiate competition for six seniors on the team, a close, hard fought contest should result.

Peace Conference

Hosted to support the conference was received last week by the Managing Committee. This support came in addition to that already voiced by President Conant, the Institute Committee, the Interfraternity Conference, the Dormitory Committee and the Kappa Club, and promises to make the party truly representative of All Technology, according to Leonard A. Seder, '27, chairman of the committee arranging the conference.

Monday's meeting supplants former anti-war discussions at the Institute conducted by the N. R. L. and the S. L. I. D. and other liberal or radical organizations. It was originally called by the Tech and Tech Union in an effort to present in an impartial manner the essential points to be considered in any organized attempt to solve the problem of war.

Other nations containing other financial industries on which their life depends upon, may engage in a war with the United States. It is probable that the United States will be drawn into a war with some of the European nations for the control of the Panama Canal. The United States will be drawn into a war with Germany for the control of the Suez Canal. The United States will be drawn into a war with Great Britain for the control of the Mediterranean.
