High Spirit Shown By Class Of '40 At Field Day Rally
Freshmen Tear Down Effigy And Banner Bearing Numerals Of Sophomore Class

New Freshman Football Coach Alby Beverage, Introduced By Prof. Rogers

Disapproval By Faculty Of Effigy Bearing Numerals Of Sophomore Class

At a high-spirited freshman rally, during which the contumacy for the Sophomore class was shown by vigorous and enthusiastic tearing down of an effigy bearing the numerals '39 and honor having the same numerals, the class of 1940 officially launched its campaign for the succeeding quarter of Field Day.

Frederic K. Biddle, Senior class president and "Undie" to the freshman class, introduced Professor Rogers, the principal of the Freshman department, to the "freshmen." Mr. Biddle brought up the subject of the Sophomore effigy, which he stated had been "smashed up" by the Freshmen.

Mr. Biddle declared that it was the right of the Freshmen to have a banner bearing the numerals '39 without interference from other classes, and he hoped that the Sophomore banner would remain undisturbed.

The freshman banner was presented to the Sophomores, and the Sophomore banner was received by the Freshmen, who agreed to protect it from further tampering.

With "Victory" on its banner, the class of '39 will hold its final rally against the Freshmen this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Theatre.

The Sophomores, who under the leadership of their class president, Harold Sweeney, will array themselves in a line, will be led by the "Gang" against the Freshmen invaders on October 30th, and will take opportunity to acquaint the freshmen with forlornness of their upper class fags.

With cheer and shouting, the Sophomore hopes is expected to be on hand tomorrow afternoon when the call for freshman "Blood" is raised.

THE PHONOGRAPH NEEDS A ROOM

LAST year an important step for the benefit of students interested in music was made when a few Electrical Engineering students installed a new pickup in the phonograph in the Music Hall. This system, which consists of two rows of turntables with an empty row for spares, was installed at the suggestion of Victor J. O'Brien, a freshman. The system was immediately successful, and has been in use ever since.

However, there is still a problem with the system. The room in which it is installed is quite noisy, and it is difficult to hear the music clearly. The solution to this problem is to install a soundproof room specifically designed for music listening.

The fall concert of the Mass. Inst. Tech. Orchestra was held in the Music Hall on October 6, 1936. The orchestra, conducted by James C. Longwell, '38, performed a variety of classical and contemporary pieces, including works by Beethoven, Mozart, and Brahms.

For the opening numbers, the orchestra played Beethoven's Symphony No. 5. This was followed by a performance of Mozart's Symphony No. 40, which was conducted by the assistant conductor, John J. Jοrdan. The orchestra then moved on to play Brahms' Symphony No. 1, which was conducted by the associate conductor, A. Seder.

The concert concluded with a performance of Beethoven's Symphony No. 9, which was conducted by the senior conductor, James C. Longwell. The audience was appreciative of the orchestra's performance, and gave a standing ovation at the end of the concert.

Sports Comment

With Field Day practices for freshmen starting this afternoon, the class of 1940 may yet surprise us. Its lack of spirit in Frosh Camp around such a year of favorable conditions when it has been stringed into action; however, the turnout tonight will tell the tale. If not fleet enough for the relay, strong and fast enough for football, or heavy enough for tug-of-war, we advise the freshmen to strengthen their grip in preparation for the glove fight.

Sports Comment

We are sorry to report that the Tech junior varsity was defeated by the team from the University of Michigan, 3-0, on Saturday. The Tech forwards, however, scored two goals in the second half, but the Tech defense could not prevent the Michigan goal. The Tech team was composed of R. B. Murray, J. T. Dooley, and T. R. Johnson, with T. E. Sutton as the referee. The Tech forwards scored two goals in the second half, but the Tech defense could not prevent the Michigan goal. The Tech team was composed of R. B. A smoke that treats you right!
You who go in for sports ... and you who don't ... you both have reason to treat yourselves well ... to reach for a light smoke ... a Lucky. For a light smoke is gentle with you.
Easy on you when you inhale. Kind to your throat. And since your Lucky ... a light smoke ... is made from the choicest center-leaf tobacco, it tastes good, too, even when you smoke all day long. So, for a smoke that means right, it's wise to reach for a Lucky.
