NEW EMPLOYMENT QUALIFICATIONS
A PTER having made predictions some time ago concerning the factors which will be considered by future employers in placing men, The Tech was pleased to find that the recent report of Mr. John M. Nalle, director of placement at Technology, conformed to the predictions of the Future Employment Qualifications Conference.

NEW EMPLOYMENT QUALIFICATIONS

OUR MONEY'S WORTH
1936 JUNIOR PROM
COMING on the heels of Monday's report that only 25 percent of the Junior class is employed, Monday's morning news is that there are only 22 sign-up left out of an original 55. The prediction of last year's committee to the effect that this year's committee will benefit their junior class by reducing the size of the prom to 55, is justified in that the size of the junior class is not large. The committee's reason was that the size of the junior class is a factor in determining the number of Junior proms.

A MARRIAGE COURSE
Last spring when the youth society tried out its course in marriage education, the results were not encouraging. The course failed to reach its objective of teaching youth marriage and family life. This year the youth society has decided to continue its course in marriage education and to introduce a new course in family life.

Reviews and Previews

KEITH MEMORIAL—Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in their another trip to the heavens, their old charm is still there. Unfortunately the costumes with which they are regarded are not the least bit amusing. Each succeeding show of the "Keith" series has been better than the last, but the irrepressible Mr. Dillingham, the former star of "Keith" in all but his best role, the picture hits its high spot.

Although the picture was adapted from the famous play "The Big Street" and "The Street" played at the Keith and Shure Review, plot is not one of the movie's stronger points. The story is moderately well written. The movie features a lot of action and a great deal of excitement. The characters are well developed and the action is fast paced.

METROPOLITAN—Fred A Girl, the 0-1 musical starring Jeanette Mac, who can wonder of wands, sing, dance and carry on comedy. Wal- leer Berry, making his first stage appearance, alone star, holds a large stage revival.

KEITH II—Next Time We Were with Margaret Sullavan in the lead, supported by Grawn Mitchell, and John Davis, playing and Towy Wing and pes are ready.

PALM AIR FAY—Wwva Jeffries "modern romance," and Bert Gerlitch Michael and Timothy's "a tale of the north west," for the benefit of the Hospital.

TOPS—Ralph Ford in "The Milky Way," and adolesence was a grey October day in the 1930s.

UPWORTH—The problem started with "The New Makeover with Irene and Peter Taylor, the latest March of Time, with Superman, " and Billy and other super heroes.

PIRATES—The audience is now composed of the G-B musical starring Jessie Mat- the, and

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The Boston Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Arthur Fiedler, has announced the new concert of its series of concerts. The program includes works of the Italian composers, and the new album of some of Bach's shorter works. The orchestra is now composed of the G-B musical starring Jessie Mathis and Alvina King.

SNOW TRAIN

Two Technology students and members of the Ski Club, Alden H. Anderson, '38, and Herman F. Freidlander, '38, will be in charge of the Armstrong Com- pany's equipment. Those who wish to ski during the winter sports season may obtain them from these men.

At the University, there are some used skis with harnesses and poles to be sold at costs. The prices of the skis, which are all "rideable" skis, vary from $2.00 to $10.00 complete. Used hand pole and 30 losers may be had for $3.00.

W. A. Harriss, passenger agent for the B. & A. Railroad, has ordered that the ski season at the University be made available and that all orders and inquiries be sent to him.

Tickets for the concert will be on sale on February 21st. Tickets may be purchased on the track from members of the Ski Club.

On February 21st, tickets will be on sale in the Main Lobby at 3:00 P.M. Monday, February 21, 1936

Sports Comment

We are told that training table meals will be served regularly for crew members in the near future. However, since the season will be short, the meals will be provided only four to five times a week.

Coach Bob Bowie and Oscar Holland are looking to the future, by having Stan Johnson out of competition until his leg is in top Tip-top condition again. Stan is aiming for a place on the U.S. Olympic track squad in one of the hop, step, and jump events.

By not risking the aggravation of a minor injury, the Tech track team is bettering its chances of going to Berlin.
