T.C.A. Census Shows Interest in Church Greater This Year

Episcopalians Largest Group; Congregationalists Second

120 more students are affiliated with churches this year than were registered last year, according to the report of the T.C.A. Church Relations department.

Episcopalians have climbed to take the top position among students, with the T.C.A. list showing 400 students ranking in the Episcopal Church, an increase of 53 over the number in 1936. Next in line are the Congregationalists, who rise by 24, with 385, a decrease of 131; Congregationalists, with 376, an increase of 21; Lutherans, with 278, a decrease of 16; Baptists, with 27; Methodists, with 20, a decrease of 13; and Presbyterians, with 19, a decrease of 14; Christian Scientists, with 18; and Jews, a decrease of 6.

There are 39 representing miscellaneous religious groups, a decrease of 7, and 498 not reporting, a decrease of 25. Of the students not reporting, 22 are transferred, 11 are transferred, and 27 are no longer at the college. Several of the decreases are partially explained by the fact that since 1930 in 1931 to 1932 this year.

5.15 Lunchroom Success, 150 Fed

"The cancellations!" lunchroom is a success, according to the report of the T.C.A. Student Council which met recently here every day and we expect that number to increase. A. A. B. Bridges, head of the Walker Dining Hall, states that the lunchroom, located in the back of the 5:15 lunchroom, was added to provide a place for the students to eat. The food is fresh and good and its price is reasonable, the council also reports.

The lunchroom is run by the food workers as Walker, the food sold and student workers are chosen to serve the tables. The price of the food sold is very low; nothing is over ten cents.

Institute Committee Sees Latest Mode For Meetings

Evidence of unprecedented formal meeting was evident at the Institute's Wednesday morning session of the Institute. An attempt was made last night for the first time to make the Institute meeting last night when one of the members, Mr. Aiken of the New Hampshire College, appeared formally garbed in a stiff shirt and its attendant accessories. Feeling near, curiously conjectured up all kinds of imaginable ingredients. However, it turned out to be no more than a white paper scroll, honorary society of the T. E. N.

Tech Snow Train Leaves On Jan. 17

At the meeting of the Corporation of the Institute Wednesday afternoon, it was announced by Treasurer Horace S. Ford that gifts received by the Institute since last July amounted to $497,478.

Of the total amount, $2,478 is to be used for general and miscellaneous purposes, while $164,000 represents additional contributions to the Technology Loan Fund.

Part for expansion, a part, exactly as amount is misunderstood, of the $2,478 is to be used in the twelve and a half million dollar expansion program now being affected by the Institute.

ELEGY

IN AN INSTITUTE COURTYARD

"FULL many a flower is born to blush unseen ... ." And many a general manager, who has been demanding high standards of efficiency in his operation, including an efficient office staff, may begin to see his office, and to begin work toward his goal—and yet many men pass through even their entire college career with not the slightest notion of what the different sports, publications, and special activities is needed; the way in which it is possible to take part in them, then these opportunities could be most effectively presented. Education that must be passed over in extinction is the most striking drawback to modern man. It is unfortunate for any educational committee to be under Church influence in this manner, for its independence of thought ends here; Church policy begins.

EMBARGO AND WAR PREVENTION

DURING the last few days, America has been demanded to back up its pro- motions to Spain in order to keep itself from being drawn into the threatening European conflict. On the face of it, this seems logical, since it was just such tactics of supplying munitions that supposed to have been the cause of our entrance into World War I. Actually, the main reason for our entering the war was our large commercial and financial interests in Europe. In view of this, it is to be wondered whether we should not have entered the war for protection of American interests. President Wilson himself, in 1919, stated that it was essentially because of these reasons that we were drawn into it because we were unwilling to surrender our preeminent trade position, which we would have had to do if Germany had won. Similarly, it is doubtful if any embargo now on war materials would keep us out of European conflict. It is likely that we would have the same trade and financial conditions which bound us to Europe in 1914 exist today. It is therefore necessary for the United States government to consider the question of keeping the United States out of War.

There is no doubt that if a universal embargo, both on troops and materials of war could be imposed on Spain, it would be of immense value in localizing the present "sore- point." But unfortunately the countries who are determined to see the Spanish people brought under the rule of Fascism, and will seemingly stop at nothing to accomplish this, is a matter of common knowledge that the fascist powers would most likely have a chance to take a personal interest in the Spanish struggle, and that their political and military position would be immeasurably strengthened by such an event. Germany's recent seizure of Spanish ships, in violation of International law shows that she is ruled by a man who, if not stopped, will attempt to realize his dreams of conquest whatever the cost.

By allowing Hitler and Mussolini to attack the Spanish people un molested, Britain and France are piling up trouble for themselves in the future. By allowing them to do their "block-ading" of the legal Spanish government, we are indirectly aiding the aggressive nations who threaten the peace of Europe and the World.

In depriving the Spanish people of their right to international self-determination, abroad, we are letting ourselves for more than we bargain for.

Tech Mermen To Meet Amherst On Saturday

Fairly Strong Amherst Team Is Expected To Win

The Tech swimming team will have their hands full when they meet the Amherst swimming team at the University Club on Saturday afternoon.

Tufts lost to last year's Amherst team by a margin of twenty to sixty-five this year so that not too much is expected of the Tech team.

In the last two meets, Captain Folly has broken the Institute records for the mile and two-mile run.

Kneeland says that the Tech team should be able to win in the meet.

Indirectly, Coach McCarthy is best known to the students because of P. T. classes, which expressions mention to frighten freshmen when they get out of hand. Without the slightest intention of doing harm, the students often make the moves of the exercises and are mostly ignored by the instructor.

But before he had gotten his wings the war was over. "I never even tried to fly," he conmonted, "and friends of mine went over and were killed."

In 1922, Coach McCarthy came to the Institute as assistant to Cha- mity, now track coach at Harvard. He became head of the Physical Education department here in 1928.

Under Coach McCarthy basketball has remained one of Technology's few winning sports. Fully as important as this, he has trained his squads in the Grand Old Tech Tradition of Harvard men being 'sissies' sometimes uses.

The Beavers are conceded a good chance of winning the Interscolastie tournament which is held in the Hangar gym each March, and In the last two years Tech has not been able to come up with anything better than get inside.

Hockey Team Meets Mass. State Monday

Beavers Are Favored To Win As Opponents Lack Practice

George Owen's puck-chasers will try again for their first victory of the season against Mass. State at Am- herst on Monday

The Beaver connoisseurs are a good group of business men and students that will go to Amherst. They believe that their team has a distinct disadvantage, as they play on natural ice, and this year's mild winter has softened the ice. Without a good outdoor rink, the Beaver team will be at a disadvantage.

The game is as follows: ref, Cap. Kubert, C. Olsen, 1st, De Velser, 2nd, Hillier, M. Eddy, 3rd. The student corps are Cook, Archer, Dury, Staths, Min- sota, and Bohen.

Squad Team Battles Yale In Coming Meet

Jack Summer's varsity squash team will meet Yale in the first intercollegiate match to be held here on Sunday afternoon at three-thirty in Memorial gym.

The meet which was scheduled for December 27th and was postponed due to the Christmas holiday is probably the most important of the year and it is hoped that the Tech team will win the match.

Tech will be greatly handicapped by the Illness of Captain Allyn and Sargent, F. M. who will not play.

The men who will play for Tech are: Stuart Beeren, 36, William Ellis 39, John Van- Volkenburg 39, and Louis Bloom 39. Noting is known about the Yale team.
