Tech Gunmen Sweep Match

Varsity Wins Over Five Teams in Season's First Meet

Overwhelming five other teams, including the highly rated M.I.T. Faculty Team, the Tech Varsity Field Pistol team won its opening shielder-to-shielder meet on Wednesday evening. The contest was won in the 50-yard dash by Gilbert L. Clark, '41, and the Tech squad was placed on Kennedy Field by the M.I.T. Faculty Pistol Team.

Simultaneously on the Varsity range were: Jean L. Lewis, '41, (E), (193); Edward K. Owen, (110, 111); and John H. Murdoch, '41, (117), taking a first place.

Faculty Pitches Thrust

The M.I.T. Faculty Team, which was defeated by the Tech varsity team last year, placed third with a score of 64. This team was composed of: George C. Cooper, (112, 121), the President of the Faculty. The other teams firing were the Cambridge Light Arm, scoring 51 to place second; the Lexington Minute Men, scoring 75, and the Army and Navy Club, fifth with 79.

Tech Wins the Shoot, which is a match with a score of 120, showed considerable improvement over last year's fresh.

Microfilm Show Is Seen By 2000

Two thousand people have seen the microfilm exhibit in the reading room of the Main Library during the three days of its showing, according to Mr. Mills, the supervisor.

The exhibit was arranged by Professor Ralph R. Bennett, of the International Engineering Department. The apparatus will remain on display until 6:30 p.m. tonight.

Many Uses

Microfilm provides a means of photographing records which is being used throughout the world. One of the most widespread uses are in copying for libraries and in accounting.

Speaker machines can demonstrate the display. Two of these are copying engines, flat paper machines, and one is a combination machine (Continued on Page 4)

Radio Society Will Hold Lecture On Transmitters

"Television Lines and Their Application to Modern High Frequency Radio" will be the subject of a talk to be given by the Radio Society at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. The talk will be given by Professor Francis H. Coll, a part-time instructor in the Radio Engineering curriculum of the Electrical Engineering Department.

The transmitters that make the "pluses" used to carry efficiently the energy output from the transmitter are the subject of the talk. In the design and construction of modern radio transmitters, 90 percent of the output is used in the production of these waves. The talk will cover several subjects, including what the waves are and their uses (Continued on Page 4)

SQUASH VARSITY
In First Match

Beavers To Meet Dartmouth
Away Next Saturday;
JayVee Losses

The varsity squash team officially opened its intercollegiate season last Saturday when it journeyed to Hanover, New Hampshire, to play the Dartmouth varsity. On the home court Tech saw its first established contest, when the Harvard players encountered the Beaver Junior Varsity by a score of 4-1 yesterday morning. Preceding to that the JayVees were IsValided by the Boston T.Y.C.O. at the issue of a letter on tea and evening playing. Last night a great eight match was held by the first team in the hands of the Harvard players.

The Three Hundred Play Squash

About three hundred Tech men play regularly on the squash courts and of these, some fifty play on teams. Technology is represented not only by a varsity squash team, but also by Panhellenic, Junior Varsity, Sophomore, and Froshman teams.

Although the squash courts are crowded to capacity, there is still an equal reserve of managers, especially Froshman managers. Students wish not to be outclassed for these positions would use the manner of squash players, Clark Benson, '41.

m most period should be one in which the next studio his future wife to see how she reacts under stress. He should also observe whether there will be a struggle for dominance. "Most marriages are made because of a struggle for domination, or too cause the mate to not work to better their happiness," said Professor Magoon.

Marriage Called a Lifetime Job

"Since marriage is a lifetime job, the man should let his fiance know that she is his one and only. Happi- ness is not an accident, and to achieve it the man must educate his future wife in the subtle ways of cooperation. If there must be domination, the husband should dominate," concluded the lecturer.
