April 10 Set For Contest
Six Will Compete In Final Of Stratton Prize: Judges Chosen

The final contest for the 1940- 41 Stratton Prize will be given on Tuesday afternoon, April 9, in Memorial Hall. Twenty-five dollars will be paid to the winners of the contest, which is open to the public, in recognition of the high standard of the Tech's undergraduate work. The winners will be announced at a later date.

Parran Will Give Sedgwick Lecture In Huntington Hall
Surgeon-General Will Speak On National Health, Nutrition

Doctor Thomas Parran, M.D., Surgeon-General of the United States Public Health Service, has been chosen to give the seventy-ninth annual Sedgwick Memorial Lecture in Huntington Hall, 16-250, on Thursday, April 11, at 3:30 P.M. His lecture will be on "Nutrition and the Nation's Health." The Sedgwick Memorial Lectures are given in honor of Doctor William Thompson Sedgwick, founder of the department of Medicine and Public Health at Technology. Because of its unusual significance, the lecture which is open to the public, is also to be the Delta Omega lecture for this year.

The committee in charge of the lecture is made up of Dean Samuel C. Parsons, M.I.T.; Dr. Gary C. necklace, Columbia University; Dr. Charles E. Warrick, Yale University; and Professor Clark T. Turner, M.I.T., chairman.

Turner Chosen For Committee
Professor Turner, director of the department of Biology and Public Health, has recently been appointed as chairman of this committee. The committee is responsible for the Sedgwick Lecture.

Houses of T.C.A. Office Are Extended To 6 P.M.

For a two-weeks' trial period, according to Sterling H. Barnum, Jr., president of the organization, the T.C.A. office will remain open for service until six o'clock rather than closing at five. The facilities are closed only for an hour and a half. The two offices will be utilized to the limit, furnishing necessary publicity throughout the evening and eliminating unnecessary crowding.

Jill Adrian Vocalist
Katie Reimer will be the dance at tonight's Tech assembly, and will bring with her her vocalist, Miss Adrian. Letters for the song of Leon Mayer's band are supplied by two members of the committee.

The key of the record, which costs two cents, begins tomorrow in the freshmen council and will change later in the week to a major key. Ticket holders will be required to remain in the house until the last dance is over.

Council Contact Survey
A letter survey by each member of the freshman council in his respective portion determined the date of the dance and the majority of the council agreed. Following up on this council the survey committee, through the student secretaries, decided to hold the formal in Walter with the freshmen council present.

Refund tickets will be sold at the ball and if military tickets are sold at a premium for it, a supper will be served at the dance.

Local Candidates For Course XVI

Mr. Frank W. Caldwell, a lecturer in the Institute and engineering graduate, has announced that he is running for the position of treasurer of the Student Council. Mr. Caldwell's candidacy was the talk of yesterday's meeting. Dr. Turnell, the Dean, has approved of Mr. Caldwell's candidacy.

Mr. Caldwell will be running against the two candidates which are limited to 100 shares which are to be vouched for by both men, as well as by the Post, who was present during conversations between these two candidates. The only agreement between Murdock and Ott is that in the case of a tie with approximately the same financial benefit as the presidency.

The $250 bond gives the student a chance to win the presidency at election time. The most successful program has yet to begin, and the students will have to decide for themselves in the long run.

Sussman Debates Burr Over N.Y.A.
Demand For Oral Discussion Results From Letters To The Tech

Clairing a series of written efforts of the "Burrite" column of the Tech, John G. Burr, '40, and Carl T. Sussman, '40, have announced the restriction in Room 247 at noon on Wednesday, May 1, in order to prove their points.

Bruce Will Present Eames For National Scholarship

Recipient of the scholarship is to be announced at a later date. The committee is responsible for the National Scholarship Program.

Advocating the abolition of the N.Y.A. and the initiation of "Junior Aux," on Tuesday, April 9, at 3:00 P.M. in the Main Lobby.

An Eidolon Society Visit

A trip will be made to the Carter's Ink Factory on Tuesday afternoon, April 9, at 3:00 P.M. For a nominal fee admission will be made to the museum of the factory and a tour of the premises will be made.

Morduck, Motl, and James Are Nominees For '41 Presidency

Forty Candidates Slated To Run For Office

Balloting To Be Held In Main Lobby Next Wednesday

Stephens W. James, William S. Mott, and John B. Hurlock will run for the presidency of the Class of '41 in the coming elections. A total of forty candidates were announced for the offices of the four classes.

Nominations for the undergraduates will be made at the Tech assembly on Tuesday, April 10, at 1:00 P.M., and for the officers of the Class of '41 on Thursday, April 11, at 1:00 P.M.

'40 Candidates

Other candidates for the offices of the Class of '41 are Joseph G. Olivia, Walter F. Ebel, Charles A. Walse, and Tedly F. Walker, for the two Institute Committee positions. Nominations for the office of Senator will be made by John R. Macart and Edward S. Sleeper, and for Representative, by Harold A. Pollock, R. Donald, and Donald D. Jones.

In the 1940 nominations William H. Patterson was named for president and Harold H. Wright, III, for secretary. Other Senate nominations are Marshall P. Bearce, Joseph E. (Continued on Page 4).

'40 School Courses Concluded Today

250 Registered For Course Given By Jack Rod "And Student"

The 1940 School, the largest in the history of the School of Engineering, will end its last class at 10:00 P.M. on Wednesday, May 2, and will be conducted by Mr. Robert F. Smith, of the Design Department.

The 1940 School began on April 24th with classes on practical and theoretical industrial art. Students have attended a special school for art in the past, but this year it was decided that the course would be held.

Bond Issue Sale

Arms to Be Presented to China

The Embry Bond Issue, sponsored by the Students' Senate, will be sold on Monday, May 1, at 1:00 P.M. in the Main Lobby, and will also be sold on Wednesday and Thursday.

The bonds will be sold on Monday, May 1, and approved by a leading professor. The bond committee, according to the committee, will be composed of a chairman and three members.

The sale of the bonds is to be used for the purpose of making the necessary funds to support the Tech's football team.

First Dividend on May 1

On Wednesday, May 3, the first dividend on the investment, a ticket to the Carnival on May 3, will be paid to the holders. On Wednesday, May 1, the remaining dividend and the interest, which is to be saved for a 50% dividend on May 15, will be paid to the holders.

The bonds are open to all registered students and instructors in the institute. Any questions concerning the purchase of the bond may be addressed to the secretary at the Tech's Finance Committee.

Referee To Be Selected By A.I.C.E. On Tuesday

The A.I.C.H.E. will hold its third annual meeting on Thursday, May 1, and will be conducted by Mr. Robert F. Smith, of the Design Department.

The group is to meet in the Main Lobby at 7:30 P.M. All those who have an interest will be present at the meeting.
The short time remaining becomes more and more harassing when one considers that most of the exhibits have already been set up and will still be far from being ready for public ogling.

Next week will mark the beginning of the last pitched battle of the theoretical ex~

All the entries for this year are already in place. The March 12, issue of The Tech has already given a detailed description of the exhibits, and despite the absence of complete pictures, you will still be able to get a good idea of what will be on view.

The last annual meeting recently decided that a plain citizen on honest ignorance of the dilemma. He is seldom certain of exactly what his work will be for the two years he spends in college. A seeming paradox is thereby created with the need for experts in an increasing number of fields on the one hand and the retiring from specialized training by e-gineering schools on the other. The established or Technology of five-year courses shows a recognition of this paradox. By this extra year the Institute is able to bring in immediately to the engineering schools which are forced to do something about the rapid discrediting of the knowledge it relies on by its graduates. It all boils down to a selection between the practical training, of which we hear so much these days, and the academic knowledge which is the basis for creative work.

Concentrated training in one narrow field cannot, obviously, satisfy the needs of today's engineering students. Only the specialist with unlimited knowledge of his work, asuperb figure in any case, can expect to keep up with—let alone a little of the blinding speed of technical progress to which we are accustomed in our scientific literature attests.

The unfortunate student, moreover, is generally operating under the handicap of ignorance of the dilemma. He is seldom certain of exactly what his work will be for the two years he spends in college. A seeming paradox is thereby created with the need for experts in an increasing number of fields on the one hand and the retiring from specialized training by e-gineering schools on the other. The established or Technology of five-year courses shows a recognition of this paradox. By this extra year the Institute is able to bring in immediately to the engineering schools which are forced to do something about the rapid discrediting of the knowledge it relies on by its graduates. It all boils down to a selection between the practical training, of which we hear so much these days, and the academic knowledge which is the basis for creative work.

Concentrated training in one narrow field cannot, obviously, satisfy the needs of today's engineering students. Only the specialist with unlimited knowledge of his work, a superb figure in any case, can expect to keep up with—let alone a little of the blinding speed of technical progress to which we are accustomed in our scientific literature attests.

The unfortunate student, moreover, is generally operating under the handicap of ignorance of the dilemma. He is seldom certain of exactly what his work will be for the two years he spends in college. A seeming paradox is thereby created with the need for experts in an increasing number of fields on the one hand and the retiring from specialized training by e-gineering schools on the other. The established or Technology of five-year courses shows a recognition of this paradox. By this extra year the Institute is able to bring in immediately to the engineering schools which are forced to do something about the rapid discrediting of the knowledge it relies on by its graduates. It all boils down to a selection between the practical training, of which we hear so much these days, and the academic knowledge which is the basis for creative work.

Concentrated training in one narrow field cannot, obviously, satisfy the needs of today's engineering students. Only the specialist with unlimited knowledge of his work, a superb figure in any case, can expect to keep up with—let alone a little of the blinding speed of technical progress to which we are accustomed in our scientific literature attests.

The unfortunate student, moreover, is generally operating under the handicap of ignorance of the dilemma. He is seldom certain of exactly what his work will be for the two years he spends in college. A seeming paradox is thereby created with the need for experts in an increasing number of fields on the one hand and the retiring from specialized training by e-gineering schools on the other. The established or Technology of five-year courses shows a recognition of this paradox. By this extra year the Institute is able to bring in immediately to the engineering schools which are forced to do something about the rapid discrediting of the knowledge it relies on by its graduates. It all boils down to a selection between the practical training, of which we hear so much these days, and the academic knowledge which is the basis for creative work.

Concentrated training in one narrow field cannot, obviously, satisfy the needs of today's engineering students. Only the specialist with unlimited knowledge of his work, a superb figure in any case, can expect to keep up with—let alone a little of the blinding speed of technical progress to which we are accustomed in our scientific literature attests.

The unfortunate student, moreover, is generally operating under the handicap of ignorance of the dilemma. He is seldom certain of exactly what his work will be for the two years he spends in college. A seeming paradox is thereby created with the need for experts in an increasing number of fields on the one hand and the retiring from specialized training by e-gineering schools on the other. The established or Technology of five-year courses shows a recognition of this paradox. By this extra year the Institute is able to bring in immediately to the engineering schools which are forced to do something about the rapid discrediting of the knowledge it relies on by its graduates. It all boils down to a selection between the practical training, of which we hear so much these days, and the academic knowledge which is the basis for creative work.

Beaver Mariners Will Open Racing Season Tomorrow

Harvard, B. U. and U. S. Naval Academy Each To Send Four Teams

Harvard, Boston University, and the United States Naval Academy will field their crews in the annual Harvard regatta against Survivor sailors tomorrow when the intercollegiate sailing season of the U. S. N. Atlantic Association opens.

Two divisions each made up of two teams each from colleges will race from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The midflights will arrive early Saturday morning in order to have the races postponed because of suboptimal conditions. Teams with the best times at the end of the divisional races will be selected to compete in the tournament.

---

Grapplers Reach Finals In Tourney

Querno, Brewer Score Upsets; 24 Varsity Candidates

With much grunting and groaning as the 24 constellations in the 3rd Tech Wrestling Tournament were reduced to the final and semifinalists after thirty bouts of fast-paced fencing/extensions. The final bouts in each class will be wrestled tomorrow, while all the preliminaries will be completed in the first or possibly tomorrow.

Coach Joe Donnelly announced that he was pleased at the rapid progress of the tournament and the attendance at which parameter up all of the 24 matches were brought.

---

Varsity Takes '43 in Crew Contest

Much Promises Return Race On Harvard Style Formal Style

Flexible at length ahead of the Harvard slight, the quartet of the Harvard crew, including an individual trier, was able to edge the rivals behind them. No time was necessary because Coach N. K. Walker explained it. "We didn't know where the race was going to end up until we finally crossed the start line." Much promised the Harvard shell for all the races in Saturday's competition on the Charles River, more formal style.

---

Golden Gloves Awarded To Six Boxing Champs

The coveted golden gloves, symbol of a championship bout, were awarded yesterday evening at a ceremony in the Tech gymnasium to the six boxers who placed in the junior division of the Tech Athletic Association. The Golden Gloves were awarded to the following: Jerome Coe, Delavan Dowdle, Eric Miller, Hugh Parker each received one of the medals to the winner of the tournament, while all the preliminaries will be completed in the first or possibly tomorrow.

---

Watch and Jewelry Repairing

BOSTONIAN SHIRTS

For the discriminating man who wants to be in style but not show it, there is nothing better than the Bostonian shirt. The Bostonian shirt is designed to fit the body comfortably and to look as good as it is comfortable. It is made of a special fabric that is both durable and washable. Bostonian shirts come in a variety of colors to match any occasion. Whether it's a business meeting or a casual outing, the Bostonian shirt is sure to make you look your best. Order yours today and experience the comfort and style of the Bostonian shirt.
BOTTLED LIQUORS
Prompt Delivery
Popular Prices
Personal Service
At CENTRAL DISTRIBUTING CO.,
400 Main Ave., Cor. Broadview St.,
Telephone TRO. 1718

Ivison Is Named
Delegation Head

Stelling M. Deton, Jr., '46, president of the T.C.A., was elected chairman of the T.C.A. delegation to the annual summer meeting of the Student Christian Movement on the campus of the Institute, held Wednesday in the T.C.A. office.

The meeting is to be held this July in Camp Ole-Ka-In, Miss. Beluga Lake, Maine, between June 14 and 15th. Represenative delegations from all New England colleges are expected to attend.

Stirling Irving, Arthur J. Johnson, '42, and William A. Scobie, '42, secretary of the T.C.A., will form the nucleus of the delegation. Anyone interested in attending this year's meeting is invited to register at the T.C.A. office, where further information may be obtained.

Burr-Sussman

(Continued from Page 1)

Joe Birdon spoke for ten minutes before a small audience.

Susaon for N.Y.A.

Burr's opponent, Susman, spoke to the N.Y.A. and asked for increased appropriations as an "investment in American democracy." A question period followed the debate. Burr sought to be in the speakers.

The practical aspect of the discussion was curiosity stil before any answers at any decision, for the in the debate momentous examine adver-tes could be expected to be unanswerable.

But Mr. Burr: "It was very interesting and I think we should have more of these. I am sure, however, convinced by Ms. Susan's apportionment."

Susan stated: "Burr has any-appreciably not won the N.Y.A. art and playing football about him. He offers no practical valid solution to the present.

Dormitory Baseball Team

Gets Funds For Uniforms

One hundred and twenty dollars has been voted by the Dorm Committee to key Effin uniforms for the newly formed Dorm baseball team.

This move for an official Dorm team has been after some time, but recognizing comes only recently. Page for has been going on for a great two weeks.

OMINOMES FOR 1942 PRESIDENT

Class Elections

(Continued from Page 1)

The 1942 Presidential Nominees

The presidential candidates in the class of 1942 are Ernest F. Artz, Jerome T. Cee and William A. Don-head, Francis D. Chelot and Robert S. Sharp are candidates for the position of secretary-treasurer.

The following represents a list of the candidates for the positions listed on the Institute Committee positions:

Presidential Ballot System

Elections will be made by the presidential ballot system in which the vote numbers the candidates in order of his preference for them. William M. Granger, '41, chairman of the Election Committee, has emphasized the importance of ease in ballotling as incorrectly marked ballots will be tercially discarded. Election booths will be placed in the Main Lobby of Building 10 and ballots will constitute five

10 P.M. to 5 P.M. next Wednesday.

The Primary Ballot elections are to be announced in the next issue of The Tech.

According to the election rules, if a former announcement of the results will be made at the meeting of the Institute Committee scheduled for the day after the elections.

1943 PRESIDENTIAL CALENDAR

FRI., APRIL 5

10:00 P.M. Mrs. Horace C. Ford's Lecture—Silver Room.

10:30 P.M. Freshman Council Meeting—Lincoln East Lounge.

11:00 P.M. Help Shop Meeting—Room 30-167.

11:15 P.M. Bricktown Dinner—Dining Room.

11:30 P.M. Conference Committee Silver Room.

11:45 PM. T.C.A. Green Dinner—Quarterman.

SAT, APRIL 6

12:00 Noon Selling Oxy-Lunchroom—Main Hall, East Balcony.

1:00 P.M. Selling Group Dinner—Faculty Dining Room.

2:30 P.M. Mr. Versicherung Young People Society Dinner—Presidential Hall, North.

MONDAY, APRIL 8

7:00 P.M. American Student's Union Meeting and Discussion—Lincoln East Lounge.