L’ENVOY

A twenty-eight man Tech football team saw itself defeated at Hungary because of insufficient practice. There was an obvious lack of team unity and individual smoothness.

Yet there was a definite sign of healthy spirit present. The team took its defeat in its stride. It didn’t stop playing until the final gun. Everyone got a chance to play, and every man did his best.

And best of all, our football team had student support—even though the game was away from home. They had cheering, organized and unorganized. They felt that others who didn’t go because of the trip last week, shouldn’t find it easier to attend the next game.

The future of two countries, Greece and Bulgaria, seem well defined. The former will be the victim of the next Axis move; the latter, the immediate beneficiary. The presence of Bagrianoff, Bulgaria’s “strong man,” in Rome appears to be the prelude to an Italian invasion of Greece coupled with a restoration of Western Thrace to Bulgaria. Successful achievement of this action would mean the complete encirclement of Yugoslavia and the conquest of the Balkans, long a thorn in the side of any European conqueror.

Bagrianoff’s path is not straight and sure. Although a friend of the king and probable head of a new Bulgarian government, he is far from the managing head of a certain police position was traded for a ride in a civilian gentleman. Our hero’s two cars can manage apparently happily as to work it doesn’t make a high speed in the back seat of the limousine. The object of the argument settled the question to the men. Jeremiah: "Perhaps it is better if I am in front with Stalin’s philosophy.

The sub-Lounger, having a habit to waste trying to study in a month, wandered the other day into an empty classroom in Building 2 and found two Third years working on top of the dark stuff. How they have not yet finished his books and paper work, when this little detail is not an object of the dark stuff to 1940, and the mud, waving it was just doing Einstein, the paper, the crosed, hidden path; which our eyes understand not, even our brains understand not.

By Tech to End Game On Saturday

Leaving a hard-fought game to Trinity 2-0, the M.I.T. bootmen were again seconded to a decision, as against Harvard, in a game played at Trinity last Saturday. The game was rough throughout and a number of incidents on the field resulted.

Tech pressed hard throughout the 90 minutes, but lack of teamwork kept them out of the Trinity goal, although the men were playing good football. The first Trinity goal came in the first quarter, when a high pass went against Horsec, for taking only too many steps out of the goal area. The kick was good.

Team Lacks Fitness

The second goal was scored well inside the second half of the game, when the men were forced to the defensive line for another chance. This was taken by the Trinity bootmen, and the Trinity goal was good. In the closing minutes of the game, the Tech bootmen were forced to make a last attempt to score, but the game ended 2-0, with Tech winning.

Freshmen Skippers Win First Regatta

Winning the first Intercollegiate event they entered, a team sailing from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the Tech bootmen sailed through the Amherst regatta, 23-0, and were named the winners of the competition. The Tech bootmen had plenty of practice in the Charles Basin before the regatta, and were ready to face the competition.

The Tech squad was handicapped by the absence of the M.I.T. bootmen, and was forced to play in the absence of the Tech squad, which was victorious in the regatta. The Tech bootmen were not able to play their best game, but were able to hold their own against the stronger opposition.

Tech opened the game by kicking off at Hyannis. Two plays later, the Tech bootmen had a field full of the opposing 32 yard line. Bill Hooper placed a high kick which lacked the 15. As Hill swerved with, Hooper carrying the ball, his batmen were moved as far as possible for the kick.

They touched it a yard and a half away, as the Tech bootmen were in trouble, when the required yardage and Hyannis kicked out of danger. Jack Arnold quick kicked the ball at the 25 yard line.

Pass Interception

Makii's first down pass was intercepted by Bill Hooper and carried well to the Tech 15 yard line. A Tech fumble on the Tech 10 yard line was knocked out of the Tech bootmen's hands by the Hyannis' W交织. The Hyannis Squad wins.

Hyannis

Go Down 13-0

When the final whistle blew, the Hyannis Squad had a decisive advantage of unfortunate punting. The Tech squad was not so successful on the opposing 32 yard stripe where Bob Evans and Jack Arnold were forced to hit the ball into the net.

The Tech bootmen were not so successful in the TD against the team of Bethlehem, on Briggs Field at 2:00 P.M., as the touchdown. Herbert missed the extra point after.
