

Myers Chosen To Be Colonel Of ROTC Unit

Gavin And Folberth, Lieutenant Colonels, Among 178 Appointees

The appointment of Joseph H. Myers, '41, as Colonel of the R.O.T.C. regiment was announced late last night, by order of Colonel Clarence T. Marsh of the department of Military Science. At the same time 178 other assignments as student officers were announced.

Appointed as Lieutenant Colonels were William H. Folberth, Jr., and Joseph G. Gavin. On the Regimental and Battalion staff as Captains are William Cadogan, Irving Ross, Jack J. Kriz, Carl M. Mueller, Lloyd J. Perper, Lawrence C. Turnock, James K. Tyson, and Charles A. Wales.

Major Appointees

Majors appointed to direct the First Battalion are Alan Hill, Conrad N. Nelson, and Charles W. Sauer. The Majors in the Second Battalion are Eugene F. Lawrence and Teddy F. Walkowicz.

In Company "A", Captains appointed are: William S. Doughten, Robert J. Meier, and Norman F. Vandervoort. Included in the First Lieutenants are: Everett R. Ackerson, Henry Avery, Mario W. Conti, Joseph O. Fletcher, Raymond C. Foster, Lester W. Gott, Fred T. Haddock, Cullie B. Harris, Edgar E. Hayes, Rudolph W. Hensel, Donald A. Howard, Walter P. Keith, (Continued on Page 4)

Olds Explains Japanese Prints

Ancient Methods Used In Demonstrating Ancient Art Form

With the use of cherry blocks, paints, knives and other materials employed in the art, Mr. H. Irving Olds demonstrated the method of making Japanese prints at his lecture in Room 7-437 yesterday afternoon at four. Mr. Olds' background of many years in Japan enabled him to give the many persons present a good idea of how to understand and appreciate this art.

Using a picture of a Japanese girl the speaker made a simple print of five impressions to show the technique and results of the process. After that he showed the audience a collection of masterpieces which illustrated the development of the Japanese print through many stages to the final period when fifty to a hundred impressions were involved in each finished print.

Mr. Olds, who was born in Japan, speaks Japanese and worked in the engraving and printing studios in Japan. From this training he has developed a very extensive hobby and has produced many of the prints.

Rule, Edgerton, Fassett To Judge Photo Contest

The entries in the Hobby Shop's Second Annual Photography Contest will be judged in the Technology Photographic Service gallery in the basement of Building 11 at 4:00 P.M. tomorrow. The contest for the cash prizes closed on January 13 and was originally to be judged January 16, but two of the judges were called away.

The judges in the contest are Professors Frederick G. Fassett, Jr. of the English Department, Harold E. Edgerton, of the Electrical Engineering Department, and John T. Rule, of the Drawing Department. The stroboscopic section of the contest was eliminated because of the lack of student interest.

Voo Doo Board Plans Banquet Thursday Evening

Election Of New Boards Will Be Announced At Annual Dinner

Following the presentation of what they hope will be a successful issue on Wednesday the Senior Board of Voo Doo, notorious Institute "comic" magazine, who have just recently been re-invested with authority by an investigating Institute committee will turn over the management of the publication to its new board, at the annual banquet Thursday night in the Hotel Lenox.

Mr. James R. Killian and Professor Frederick G. Fassett will be the principal speakers at the dinner. The retiring board will likewise address the staff members and the incoming managers.

The scheduled meeting of the Woop Garo Society will be held before the dinner, at 6 P.M. in the Miles Standish Bar, not later in the evening as previously announced, according to Richard H. Cottrell, '41, retiring General Manager.

The issue which Voo Doo is putting out tomorrow will be designed to celebrate the coming of age of the magazine, which had its birth here at Technology in the surge of revival of interest in activities after the close of the World War in 1919. The issue will feature within its forty pages eight pages of full color cartoons.

Faculty Men Join Student Honorary

Scabbard And Blade Initiate Army Officers And Peter Rutter

Seven members of the Institute faculty were formally initiated into the Scabbard and Blade Society, honorary military society, as associate members yesterday afternoon in Room 1-190.

The newly-inducted members include Major Albert M. Pigg, Captains Joseph F. Cook, Jr., Arthur D. Caswell, and Jerome L. Spurr; Lieutenants Brannan and Hecker, all of the Military Science department, and Mr. Peter Rutter, of the English department.

The annual Scabbard and Blade Military Ball will be held on February 28, according to Joseph H. Myers, President of the Society. Twenty-two Juniors and twenty-five Seniors, who had been elected to the society early in the term, were initiated the first week in December.

Admiral Yarnell Speaks Friday

Will Tell Juniors, Seniors And Grads About Naval Reserve

Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, former chief of the American Asiatic fleet, will visit the Institute next Friday to point out to Graduate Students, Seniors, and Juniors the opportunities for commissions in the Naval Reserve. Admiral Yarnell will be accompanied by four aides who will assist him in his discussions with the students.

The program outlined for Admiral Yarnell is as follows: a group meeting for Seniors and Grad students in room 10-250 from twelve to one o'clock on Friday, January 24; a meeting for Juniors from one to two o'clock in the same room immediately following.

Three Aides Interviewers

Nathaniel McL. Sage, the Institute Director of Placement, believes that any graduate of Technology will be of use to the Naval department. The Placement Office is scheduling interviews with a representative from each of the following sections of the Navy department: Bureau of Ships, representing ship design and engineering; Bureau of Aeronautics; and the Bureau of Ordnance. A preliminary medical examination will be given on Friday for those men who are still interested after their interview.

Admiral Yarnell's visit follows that of Commander deFlores who described opportunities in the Navy for aeronautical engineers last Friday.

A. S. M. E. Plans Dinner Meeting Thursday Evening

The Boston Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will meet with the Technology student chapter in Pritchett Hall of Walker Memorial at 6:30 P.M. on Thursday, January 23. The speaker will be Mr. W. A. Hadley, the new national president of the organization.

The meeting will be for dinner, to which all members of the society are invited. Mr. Hadley will speak following the dinner.

Aschaffenburg Makes Best Time In Ski Race Down Mountain

Tech Skier Finishes In Second Place In Cranmore Meet Yesterday

Tearing furiously down the 3000-foot ski run of the Eastern Slopes Ski Club at Cranmore Mountain before thousands of staring spectators, yesterday Hans Aschaffenburg, '42, turned in the fastest time of the day, 1:29.4.

Competing against the ace skiers of the East, Aschaffenburg wrested second position from a field of some 100 skiers and in final totals his aggregate time for two runs of 3:01.4 was 1.8 seconds behind the winner, Ted Hunter of the Appalachian Mountain Club.

Technology Team Comes Fourth

Hunter, a former Dartmouth skiing star, was able to turn in an aggregate score for the two runs of 2:59.6, by making the descent each time in 1:29.8 seconds, while Aschaffenburg's time for the first run was 1:32.

Aschaffenburg's masterly runs down the North Conway slope enabled the contingent from Technology to place fourth, beating the famous Dartmouth Outing Club team which took sixth in this meet. Also slope-sliding under Institute title were Benjamin C. Muzzey, '43 and James H. Klein, '42,

Faculty Club Fears Press, Cancels Cosmetic Feature

The Faculty Club reneged on the matter of their "Fair Male Dance" scheduled for last Saturday night in Pritchett Hall. The dance went off as had been planned except for the omission of the cosmetic feature, which called for rouge and powder decorations on the faces of all attending males.

According to an announcement sent out by the Club, the cosmetic sideline was cancelled because "the editors of The Tech have reprinted the notice of the 'Fair Male Dance' with accompanying remarks."

The notice went on to say that, "because this affair would be meat for the daily press whose photographers might appear at the dance, and because this may cause considerable embarrassment, we are cancelling ONLY the cosmetic feature of the dance."

M. I. T. O. C. Enjoys Weekend In Belknap Mts.

McClintock Enters Meet At Gilford, But Fails To Place In Races

Under the leadership of James W. Neighbours, G, four members of the Outing Club left in two groups for the Belknap Mountains near Gilford, N. H. on Saturday.

Those who left in the morning consisted of Frank A. McClintock, '42, who was the only representative from M.I.T. in the U.S.E.A.S.A. Ski Meet held in Gilford over the week-end under the auspices of the Winnepeaukee Ski Club, and Alexander H. Bohr, '43.

The others had a whole day of skiing under ideal conditions and a slight snow-fall. The trip was very successful and the club is planning to have others during the vacation and next term. Though three of the crowd were novices and two received minor injuries, all were glad that they had one day, at least, away from the proximity of Lever Bros.

Gahan To Play At Dorm Dance February 21

Options Go On Sale For Annual Affair Thursday For $2.25

The Dormitory's Eleventh Annual Dinner Dance will be held in the Morss Hall of Walker Memorial Friday evening, February 21, from 7:00 to 2:30, the Dormitory Dance Committee announced last night. Don Gahan and his college orchestra will furnish the music for the dance which will be offered Technology students for $4.50.

Options for this formal affair will go on sale Thursday, January 21 for $2.25. These reservations will be sold by members of the Dinner Dance Committee until February 17, the date set to redeem options for another $2.25.

Gahan Known At Technology

The maestro, Don Gahan, has played at numerous dances around Technology in past years, with his last big dance being the Open House Ball of 1938. Noted principally for his novelty arrangements, Gahan will feature his "Parade of Bands" — an imitation of many big name dance orchestras.

Special entertainment will be furnished by the "Three Flufferettes", a well known trio who sing over the radio every Sunday evening. Other (Continued on Page 2)

Catholic Club Holds Dance

Many Students Hear Jim Carmody Play For Charity Affair

Men from nine colleges and girls from nineteen schools and colleges attended the confederated Catholic Club's charity dance which took place in Morss Hall of Walker Memorial last Friday night. Jim Carmody's orchestra provided the music for the dancing at the affair.

Morss Hall was well filled for the dance. As an unusual condition for admittance, the price was either $5.00 and a bunch of old clothes for charity, or $.75. Proceeds of the dance, after expenses were paid, went to charities in the metropolitan district. Twenty auto loads of clothes were collected. Chaperones included members of the faculties of several colleges in the Boston area. There were a few more girls present than men.

On Saturday evening the International Club held a dance for its members in the 5:15 Club room. Several couples attended the dance. Music was supplied by the club Wurlitzer.

Contest Being Sponsored By English Department

Sponsorship of a short-story contest in connection with Story Magazine has been announced by the Department of English. All Technology undergraduates are invited to submit entries in the nation-wide contest. Since only two entries are allowed from any one college, the stories must be handed in before March 3 in room 2-285, so that members of the faculty in the English Department may select the two best stories.

The winner of the national College Short Story Contest will receive one hundred dollars. Second place will bring the contestant fifty dollars. The winning entry, also, will be published in Story Magazine. Stories must be legibly written preferably typewritten on one side of the paper.

whose times placed them respectively 23 and 31.

Appalachian Mt. Club Wins

The Appalachian Mountain Club, whose champion skier got in ahead of Aschaffenburg, made a clean sweep of both men and women slalom, but for a while was closely pressed by prep school students from Gould Academy. Finishing third was the University of New Hampshire firsts, followed by Technology's unofficial representatives who took fourth ranking.

should be something more than a place for the swimming team to practice.

Rutgers University in New Jersey had a water carnival this fall which was one of the highlights of its fall social season. It included a takeoff from the New York World's Fair Aquacade as well as competitive races and similar events.

Besides being of interest to participate in, the water carnival would be entertaining to spectators. As to the appropriate time to be held: during a big week-end on the social calendar such as the Junior Prom or the I.F.C. week-ends it would help to give to the Institute functions a little of the color and excitement that broadens the lives of the students at the more "collegiate" institutions of learning.

This water carnival idea is just tossed as bread upon the water. We will try not to make the mistake of pinning it upon some activity as was the case with the circumvented winter carnival. We think that this water carnival would fill a definite place here at the Institute, would be a fitting inaugural of the pool's first year, and could gain a decided benefit for some activity sponsoring such an event. Nothing ventured, nothing gained.

THE READER SPEAKS

To the Editor:
We wonder if many of us have ever stopped to consider what confusion must exist in the minds of the members of the freshman class.

We start them off with three days at Freshman camp, where they are exposed to many poorly prepared speeches about Tech activities and "campus life." After registration day starts a four-week period during which the new men are inducted into Institute life with as much rah-rah as the Institute can muster during the pre-Field Day activities. In the dormitories, these men are informed of the errand requirement. It's a part of Institute life, they are told. "You're a scime and a social outcast if you don't do your errand—besides, we'll beat your tail if you don't." Along comes Field Day eve and they are all expected to live up to the old Field Day tradition of performing errands. They go out to do the best they can despite the fact that some of the errands are illegal. Most of them get away, none for the worst, but this year the police nabbed five of them.

Upon returning to the dorms after performing their errands, they found the place rent asunder. All the beds were torn apart, rugs and mattresses were in a pile at the bottom of the stairwell; basins and even radiators had been torn from the wall. They found their clothes and books in heaps on the floor, sometimes even in a puddle of water.

The class of '44 turned out to be a pretty square bunch of boys. They took even this in their stride as a part of Institute life. But a few weeks later, when they heard that the five men who had been caught doing the field day errand had been put on probation, some of them probably began to wonder: "Just what goes on here?" Probation involves being kicked out of the dorms and exclusion from extra-curricular activities as well as the loss of scholarships. Who was guilty here—the freshmen who were trying to do their job, or the upperclassmen who allowed the unlawful errand situation to exist?

But that isn't all! The Dormitory Committee, after weeks of debate, finally decided that the "only fair way" to pay for the pre-Field Day damage would be for everyone in the dorms, including the dorm freshmen, to pay equally. So now we have the situation whereby these poor devils are to pay for the damage done to their rooms while they were out dodging cops. Institute tradition? Rot! After this snappy introduction to Tech life, we could readily see how some of these men may not give a damn whether they pass their first set of final exams or not.

Fencers Swamp B. U. Foilsmen By 22½ To 4½

Krieger, Sherburne, Adelson Lead Team To Initial Victory

Taking up where they left off last year, the Cardinal and Grey fencers mercilessly struck down a Boston University squad, 22½ to 4½, last Saturday afternoon in B. U.'s new Hayden Memorial Gym. Capt. Ray Krieger, "Cap" Adelson, and Ted Sherburne led the attack without dropping a match to their opponents. The Beavers swept all the foil bouts for nine points when Sherburne, Ackerman, Colsmann, Adelson and Dunn found little trouble in the opposition supplied by Sarni, Adamian and Shir. In the saber division, Adelson, Hinchman and Russell accounted for six markers against three for Westcott and Zanger of B.U.

Krieger Leads Epee-Men

Krieger topped the epee-men with three points garnered without one touche being scored against him. After dropping the first bout, Kellogg came back with the two quickest wins of the afternoon over Sellers and Richards. Scharf and Schoffner accounted for the other 2½ points tallied in the epee bouts.

Yearling Trackmen Trim Roxbury Latin 56 To 16

Opening their season with a 56 to 16 rout of the Roxbury Latin School, the Beaver freshman track team brought joy to the heart of Coach Oscar Hedlund last Saturday afternoon on the board track. The Tech yearlings won every event except the broad jump.

With frosh Bob Meny walking off with two events the team took the first five events in a row, then came a third place tie for the high jump

Trackmen Enter Four Big Events In K. Of C. Meet

With their chances for victory depending upon the condition of the men at race time, the Tech track team will enter four events in Saturday night's Knights of Columbus meet in Boston Garden. Beaver entrants will compete in the varsity one mile relay, the freshman one mile relay, the high hurdles, and the high jump. The meet begins at 7:45.

Jester in Two Events

Most of Tech's chances depend on how well Lew Jester has recovered from the cold which has kept him below par the past few days. Lew will have a tough job on his hands in the high hurdles when he comes up against big Ed Dugger of Tufts. Lew is also among the six men entered by Coach Oscar Hedlund for the varsity one mile relay. The others are Gene

Riflemen Defeat Bruins, 1351-1233

Technology riflemen, now leading the New England Intercollegiate League, downed the Bruins from Brown 1351 to 1233 in a shoulder-to-shoulder match at Providence on Saturday. Orr and Gannon led the squad with 273 apiece.

With an average of 1365 in the three matches shot so far this season, the Beavers hold a narrow lead over Norwich and Yale in the N.E.I.L. Captain Charles Butt, Bill Orr and Dick Gannon rank fifth, eighth and tenth, respectively, in the League's individual standings.

The freshmen team went down before the Brown Cubs scoring only 1183 to 1275. Mentor Sergeant Harold F. McDonnell's only comment was that his yearlings should be able to do better and probably will later in the year.

Williams Takes Beaver Five

2nd-Half Rally Fails To Break Blue Lead; Final Score Is 39-31

The Williams quintet topped the Technology varsity, 39-31, last Friday night in the Hangar Gym. The Ephemen never lost the lead although the Beavers rallied to narrow their margin excitingly in the second half.

Even when they warmed up, the Williams squad showed superior shooting ability, compared with the Engineers. Early in the first half the visitors gained a lead which they held with a varying margin throughout the game.

Tech Sinks 13 Fouls

Many fouls were called against the Blue five, and Tech cashed in on 13 points in foul shots during the entire game.

In the beginning of the second half, the rivals exchanged point for point in rapid succession. Then, rallying, the Beavers quickly cut down the lead of their adversary by seven points. This, however, was the nearest they got to victory, for the Williams quintet slowly increased their lead again.

Squashmen Go Down Before Williams, 6-3

Beaver squash racquetters went down to a 6-3 defeat administered by Williams in the home match on Friday, January 17. After Captain Freeman had been defeated by Henry, Williams proceeded to rub the salt into the wound by winning four matches. Technology tried a comeback winning three matches, but Williams put down the rebellion by taking the last match and the game.

Tech Sophs beat the Newton Y.M.C.A. team in an away game 3-2, thus avenging an earlier defeat at their hands and making the team's record 2 wins and 2 losses.

Puck-Chasers Invade New Hampshire, Seek First League Victory Of Season

Captain Bill Cadogan and his puck-chasers will journey to New Hampshire on Thursday to invade the sancum of a New England Intercollegiate League member, New Hampshire University. The Beavers will take the ice seeking their first victory against a League opponent.

The game will be a finale to the first term struggles of the oftbeaten Cardinal and Gray outfit. New Hampshire has been beaten by Boston College and Boston University in League competition. Relative scores give the New Hampshires an edge.

Goalies Star

Highlight of the battle, from all indications, will be the defensive play of the opposing goalies. Wenzel of the Staters is generally rated as the second best net-tender in the League, headed only by Sullivan of B. U.

Brady, Les Corsa, George Clark, Sidney Hall, and Laurence Stewart.

Grippe Hits Relayers

The four men finally selected to run in the event will depend upon the condition of Hall and Stewart, both of whom are recovering from the grippe. The Beaver tracksters will face Brown and New Hampshire in this event.

Senior Johnny Nagle and frosh Johnny Adams are both entered in the high jump. Nagle has cleared 5' 11" while Adams made 5' 10" last Saturday. With the final four men still to be selected for the frosh mile, Oscar has entered Dave Feingold, Franny Hunt, Stan Hammarstrom, Bob Meny, Elbert Pritchard, Sam Taylor and George Ziegler against Northeastern and Boston College.

Mile Feature

Feature attraction of the meet will be the K. of C. One Mile event. Entered are the finest milers in the United States. The six top men are Munski, Menski, Fenski, Venzke, MacMitchell and Becalli. Munski won the mile at the V.F.W. meet here two weeks ago while Gene Venzke surprised to take the 1000 yard run in New York last Saturday.

MacGregor Presides At Plastics Confab

Professor Charles W. MacGregor of the department of Mechanical Engineering presided at a conference held in New York last week on the uses of plastics.

Until recently, according to Professor MacGregor, chemical engineers were almost the only ones concerned with the problems arising in the plastics industry. Now, however, the mechanical engineering phases of the subject are so important to the industry that the Applied Mechanics Division of the A. S. M. E. held this conference in New York to pass around information on the subject. Principal speaker at the meeting was Mr. Harry Burrell of the Heyden Chemical Corporation.

with Johnny Adams and Bill Wallace tying Harrigan of the classical team by topping 5 ft. 10 in.

The remainder of the Engineers' fifty-six points were picked up by victories in the 45 yard low hurdles by Taylor, in the 600 yard event by Pritchard, and in the 1000 yard run by Joseph. Meny won both the 50 and 300 yard dashes while the shot put was taken by John Bavicchi. A freshman relay team will run in the Knights of Columbus meet Saturday night, and the next dual meet will be with Tufts on February 26.
