

Beaver Matmen Defeat Crimson Grapplers 18-16; Freshmen Win 23-16

Varsity Wrestlers Floor Harvard For First Time In Twelve Years

The Tech matmen won a double victory over the Harvard grapplers last Saturday afternoon in Hangar Gym, when the varsity beat the Crimson men 18-16, the first varsity defeat of Harvard in twelve years, and the M.I.T. freshmen grunted out a 23-16 victory over the Cantab Cubs.

Bob Gillooley, little 121-pounder, fought the fastest moving match of the afternoon, when he floored his opponent in 2'28" of the first period. Bill Clark pinned his man in the third period of what was another outstanding match of the afternoon.

Frosh Star

Before the meet, Les Ackerman, freshman 165-pounder, was elected captain, pro-tem of the '45 squad, and lived up to his appointment by pinning his man handily during the first period. Ev De Guzzie, wrestling out of his weight class, won his match against a heavier opponent.

Coach John Lutz evidenced his pride when he stated that he was "very pleased, and that all the men turned in good performances". The squad is now looking forward to an extremely successful season.

The results of the individual matches in Saturday's meet are: Varsity Tech—18, Harvard—16, 121-lb., Gillooley of Tech pinned J.

Sales Coordinator Speaks At Institute Mr. A. A. Hood Delivers Two Different Lectures Tomorrow In Walker

Mr. Arthur A. Hood, director of dealer relations of the Johns-Manville Corporations, and nationally known for his pioneering work in the field of co-ordination of sales and management, will address Technology students twice tomorrow.

Mr. Hood, director of the National Society of Sales Training Executives, and holder of numerous other positions on various committees connected with manufacturers, will speak tomorrow at 5:00 P.M. in Room 6-120 on "Free American Enterprise," and, at 7:30 P.M. in Walker Memorial, on "The Need for Trained Men in the Building Industry."

The speaker is among the men who correlated production and distribution into one group integrated

Technology Matrons Hold Tea For Husbands

The Technology Matrons will give a large tea in honor of the instructing staff on Friday, December 19, from 4 to 6 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Karl T. Compton, with the husbands of the members as guests.

Tea will be served before and after the musical program which has been arranged to take place between 4:30 and 5:00 P.M.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Compton are to be Mrs. Ralph E. Freeman, Mrs. Jerome C. Hunsaker, Mrs. Walter R. MacCornack, Mrs. Robert S. Williams and Mrs. George E. Russell. The choral group, led by Mrs. George Scatchard, will sing Christmas carols and tea will be served by Mrs. W. Rufus Maclaurin's committee.

Red Cross Asks Blood Donations By Institute Men

Technology students who wish to contribute blood to the blood banks, which are kept for this country's armed forces and for any conceivable civilian disaster, may do so under the program of the American Red Cross, it was announced by Dean Harold E. Lobdell last night.

15,000 units has been accepted as the quota for the Greater Boston Chapter of the Red Cross. In connection with this it was explained that rigid standards are maintained for the donation procedure. Donors must be from 21 to 60 years of age and in good health. If the person is a normal, healthy individual the process takes about 45 minutes and involves no ill effects.

Medical Department Cooperating

Dr. George W. Morse, director of the Institute Medical Department, stated that the department was cooperating with the Red Cross in the campaign and would furnish the prospective donors from Technology with information about their health from their records, the clinic physicians or the nurses. Since the actual taking of blood is performed only in regularly designated hospitals, the Medical Department will not do this, but will assist the donors in making arrangements.

Appointments for donations should be made in advance by telephone to the Red Cross Headquarters at 17 Gloucester Street, Boston. The number is Kenmore 6226.

Gridiron Holds Banquet Tonight

Initiates Present Satirical Sketch Of Defense Program

The annual initiation banquet of Gridiron, honorary publications society, will be held tonight at 6:30 P.M. in the Howard Johnson's on Memorial Drive, it was announced last night. Professor Frederick G. Fassett, editor of the Technology Review, is to be the guest speaker.

The initiates will present a play satirizing the role of the Institute in National Defense. The play written and directed by the twenty initiates will feature Philip E. Phaneuf, '42, in the masculine lead and Robert C. Meissner, '43, in a stellar feminine role.

The dinner was originally scheduled to take place last week but was postponed because of the illness of the president of the society.

Twenty Copies Of Vu Will Be Bought At $.30

The managing board of Vu wishes to get back twenty copies of the first issue of the magazine, which was sold out on the second day of sales. They are therefore willing to pay thirty cents each for the first twenty copies which are brought to The Tech Business Office after Wednesday afternoon.

Anyone having copies of the magazine which they would be willing to sell at this price, provided they are in good condition, should bring them to room 309 in Walker Memorial on Wednesday afternoon between 2:00 and 5:00 P.M. If twenty copies are not secured on this day they will be accepted on Thursday and Friday afternoons until twenty are received.

Magoun Gives Fourth Lecture

Period of Engagement Is Subject of Talk To be Delivered Today

Professor F. Alexander Magoun will give his fourth lecture on the pre-marriage period today from 4-5 and 5-6 in Huntington Hall. The subject for this third address is "Period of Engagement."

"The period of engagement is an invention of mankind," Professor Magoun stated, "no other mammal on this sphere has created a transitional period between bachelorhood and the actual mating." This period is of utmost importance, he claims, because it allows both parties to learn the problems of adjustment, meet their respective families, and realize the troubles that would face them in the future.

Long Engagement Desirable

Among the numerous statistics compiled from many reports, Professor Magoun regards the following as being of significant import: In states that require a five day period between issuance of marriage licenses and the actual civil ceremony, six per cent of all licenses are dropped annually. Forty per cent of all unhappily married people had no, or an extremely short, period of engagement.

Major Harwood Leads Open Forum Discussion On Strategy Of Axis

Last Technique Drive At $4.25 Closes Thursday

"Today, tomorrow, and Thursday are the last days during which the student body can buy Technique for the price of $4.25," said J. Henry Henderson, '42, General Manager of the year book. After this drive there will be a substantial increase in price. Because the number will be strictly limited by priorities and the state of national emergency, it is also advised that students order their copies as soon as possible.

It is also important that all seniors wishing to make additions or corrections to their biographies should do so this week in the Technique office, Room 309 in Walker between 1:00 P.M. and 6:00 P.M. This must be done before Friday as the articles must go to the printers on that day, according to Henderson.

Defense Stamps Will Be Sold At Institute

Volunteers Needed To Organize Selling After Xmas Vacation

As a result of the proposal of Thomas T. Crowley, '42, at the Institute Committee meeting last Thursday night, a committee to promote the sale of United States Defense Savings stamps at the Institute has been established to go into action after the Christmas holidays. The members of the committee consisting of Cutler Jones, '42, and Sutton Monroe, '42, with whom the idea originated, and Jonathan H. Noyes, '42, Frank Barber, '43, and Langdon S. Flowers, '44, have developed a working plan and are issuing a call for volunteers who wish to aid in the actual selling program.

The idea has shown its feasibility in other schools and the committee expects it to prove a success at the Institute since plans have been made to place selling desks at convenient points throughout the buildings. A similar sales group at Emerson College sold over $400 worth of the stamps in a period of six weeks. A suggestion was also made that defense stamps be substituted for corsages at any big dances held at the Institute if the cooperation of the girls could be obtained.

T.C.A. Will Offer Travel Service

Those students who are faced with the transportation problem for the Christmas Holidays will find a complete service at their disposal in the T.C.A. office. The men who wish to fly home may communicate with Franklin Wilbur, '43, at any time between 11:00 and 12:30 P.M.

Beginning Monday, December 15, representatives of the various railroads and bus services which maintain stations in Boston will be in the T.C.A. office daily from 12:15 to 1:45 P.M. Students wishing information or reservations may obtain the same from these representatives, announced Warren I. Signell, '44, head of the T.C.A. ticket service.

The Passenger-Driver Service is available to men who enjoy the company and, incidentally, the saving of driving home with another student. Anyone wishing to offer or obtain a ride home for the holidays (and share the expense) may sign up in the T.C.A. outer office.

Speaker Will Outline U. S. Countermoves To Thwart Thrusts By Axis Powers

The strategy of the Axis powers in the past and present with predictions of their future plans will be the topic of discussion tomorrow at the first Open Forum on the current War to be held at 5:00 P.M. in Huntington Hall, Room 10-250.

Major Edward C. Harwood, of the department of Military Science, is to open the discussion and explain the necessary countermoves that the United States must adopt to thwart any possible planned thrusts by its major foes, Japan, Germany, and Italy.

Questions Answered

After Major Harwood has outlined our prospects in the current war, the forum is to be thrown open for discussion. He will attempt to answer any and all pertinent questions on the subject without revealing any military secrets.

This is the first of a series of forums on war, to be held monthly during the school year, sponsored by the Debating Society. As an unintentional prologue to the series, Dr. Karl T. Compton addressed the first open forum of the year at which the discussion centered around Technology's part in National Defense.

Second Dorm Dance Planned For Jan. 10

Informal Record Dance Is Repeated By Popular Demand

In response to popular demand, the Dormitory Dance Committee will sponsor the second of its series of informal record dances, exclusively for dorm men, in Pritchett Hall from 8:00 P.M. till 12 midnight on Saturday, January 10. The Faculty Lounge and the East balcony have been reserved for the exclusive use of the dancers.

Two instructors from the Arthur Murray School of Dancing will be on hand to give instruction in the latest dance steps. Only carefully selected, danceable music will be played, it was announced. Tickets will not be placed on sale until January 5, but men desiring to reserve tickets may do so by calling John G. McMullin '43, in Wood 208 or Robert W. Keating '42, in Runkle 107. The price of the dance, including the instruction, has been set at $.95 per couple and ticket sales are strictly limited to 60 couples.

Glee Club Held Concert With Simmons A Kapella

The combined societies of the Technology Glee Club and A Kapella Society of the Simmons Glee Club held a joint concert on Saturday, December 13, in the Temple Israel Grand Auditorium.

The program included joint presentation of "Wake, the Dawn of Day Is Here," from Die Meistersinger, by Richard Wagner, and "the Pilgrims Chorus" from Tannhauser, also by Wagner. Another piece was "Rock Gently Our Cradle," arranged by Thompson.

After the concert the two groups held a dance at the Simmons College Auditorium, to the music of the Simmons Popular Orchestra.

HEARTS BEAT LIGHTER

The good old Christmas spirit of spreading gladness shone forth when four undergraduate groups held kiddy parties for some of Boston's underprivileged children last Saturday.

Two social fraternities, the Student House, and the honorary scouting fraternity all managed to secure the services of good Saint Nick to give these children an unusual thrill. For three of these organizations, the kiddy party was a new venture and from all reports, the hosts had just as good a time as the guests.

We believe that this is one of the finest displays undergraduate life has had that the soul of the Technology student is not entirely dead. The fact that these organizations are willing to put forth the time and the little money required to give these children a little glimpse of the real meaning of Christmas should prove to the public that all students are not self-centered wastrels. Affairs of this nature are the kind that help to dispel the antagonistic attitude the general public displays toward college fraternities to a regrettable extent.

We wish to stand behind the spirit of these parties. No one can contest the fact that the world has been made happier by this example of the teaching "It is better to give than to receive."

LISTEN! AND YOU SHALL HEAR

The Debating Club has the honor of being the first student organization to swing into action after the declaration of war with its organization of the War Forum. The first of four lectures will be held Wednesday night at which the military phase of the world conflict will be discussed.

As planned, this lecture series will present a complete picture of the multiplicity of social and economic as well as military problems. The first lecture should prove to be exceedingly interesting to the student body since it concerns the war strategy of the axis powers including predictions by a member of our military staff.

While these lectures in themselves do not contribute directly to the nation's war effort, by presenting the views of qualified authorities, they should give the students a much broader outlook than before. This is highly important in total warfare since men with vision and background are needed to administer the war effort and the even more difficult peace that must follow. Technology students can help in no better way than by doing everything in their power to see all phases of our country's problem.

THE READER SPEAKS

Blood For Defense

Editor, The Tech:
Dear Sir:
At the request of the Medical Department of the United States Army and Navy, the American Red Cross has undertaken a program for the collection of blood from volunteer donors to be processed and stored under government supervision for our armed forces and for any conceivable civilian disaster.

The Greater Boston Chapter of the American Red Cross, which has accepted a quota of 15,000 units as its contribution to this important need, has requested that the following be brought to the attention of the students and staff:

"Medical authorities have established comprehensive standards to be used in the collection program. Donors, for example, must be between the ages of 21 and 60 years and in good health. Every prospective donor is given a thorough physical examination by competent physicians to ensure this desirable physical condition. For such an individual the procedure is simple, safe, and painless.

"The entire process is conducted under strict medical supervision. Extensive experience has demonstrated beyond any question that a donor in good health suffers no ill effects, that the body recuperates from the small blood loss quickly and completely and that there is no lowering of resistance to infection or other abnormal physiological phenomena. The whole procedure takes about 45 minutes after which the donor can continue on his way perfectly normally."

Concerning this important matter the Institute Medical Director, Dr. George W. Morse, makes the following comment:

"This procedure of donating to blood banks has become a well established procedure in this country and in England. The Medical Department at M.I.T. will be very glad to cooperate in this valuable work. We will be glad to furnish any further information that we can to any prospective donor and advise anyone as to their state of health in connection with it, in so far as we can from our records, clinic physicians or nurses. The actual taking of blood is only performed at a regularly designated hospital under the control of the Red Cross and will, therefore, not be carried out by the Medical Department here."

Appointments for donations must be made in advance by telephone, Kenmore 6226, to the Red Cross Headquarters at 17 Gloucester Street, Boston.

Very sincerely yours,
H. E. Lobdell
Dean of Students

Shirk Not Responsibility

December 9, 1941
Editor, The Tech:
Dear Sir:

At 1:30 p.m. this afternoon there developed on the Harvard Bridge such congested traffic as might well have been fatal to many had an enemy been bombing Boston. The reason for the congestion was not the inadequacy of Memorial Drive and Massachusetts Avenue to accommodate the six-lane exodus from Boston, for at no time was there a back-wash of traffic on either thoroughfare.

The reason for the delay and confusion was the lack of authorized personnel to direct the motorists. The Metropolitan District Commission, caught short-handed, could spare only one officer to control the traffic at that junction, which is in effect two entirely separate intersections.

No member of any organization, of the community or about the school, professing defense preparation or wearing uniforms, appeared to assume his responsibility. Conspicuous by their absence were the members of the Military Science Department and of the Cambridge Police Department. No air-raid wardens came to assist; no students of the defense classes. It is not well known, but it is nevertheless true, that the delay became so dangerous Boston Police officers were ordered across the river to disentangle the traffic on the Cambridge side.

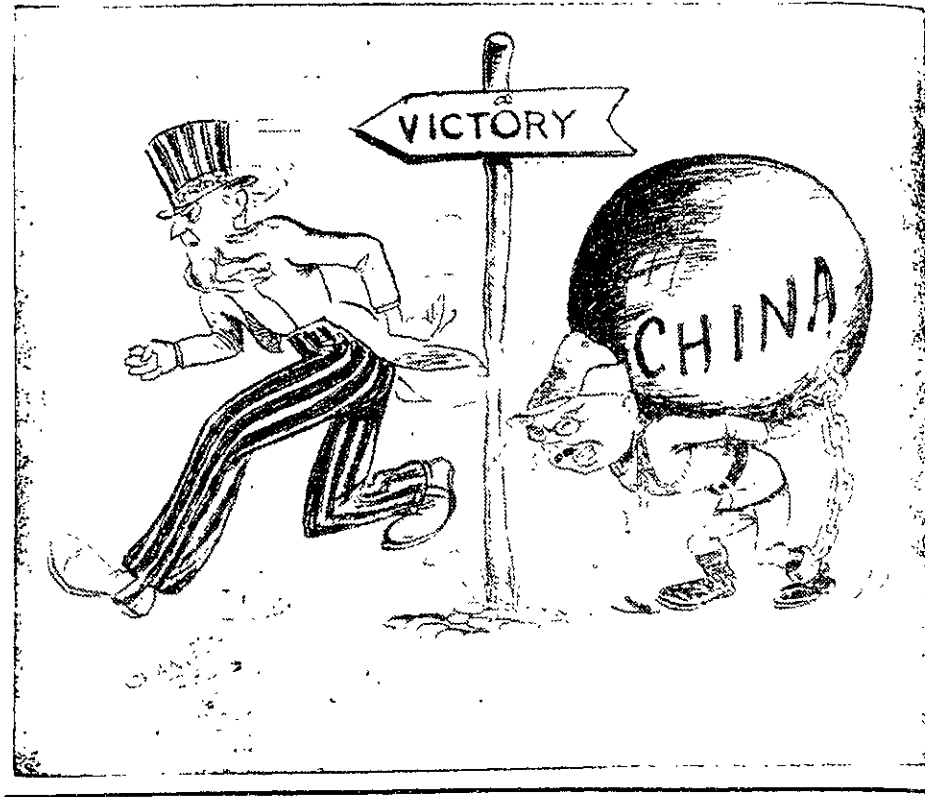

It was twenty minutes before the Tech students loitering on the corners would assist the two Seniors who had assumed some of the responsibility.

I would like to suggest that when the next warning is sounded, all cars parked in the vicinity of the intersection, and especially in front of the Graduate House, be moved. They were a considerable obstruction this afternoon.

If the time is too short in which to completely organize, let us at least develop a general spirit of cooperation in the student body.

Very truly yours,
Sutton Monroe, '42

problem. He has applied his formula for business, to the problems of the community. His concepts of "interdependence without destruction of independence" combined with his plans to have greater distribution of economic advantages are unique. Mr. Hood defines a successful democracy as consisting of these four "D's", Divine Guidance, Disciplined Individualism, Disinterested Planning, and Dynamic Action. He believes that if these conceptions gain in strength during the present emergency they will be potent factors in the solution of the problem of the nation.

Hoopsters, Puckmen Play Tonight

Varsity Hoopmen Meet Jumbos at Medford 8:00 Tonight

Tech hoopsters tapered off a light drill yesterday in preparation for their tilt tonight at Medford. Fresh from victory last Friday night over Middlebury cagers, the Beavers stepped up well against their opponents from central Massachusetts.

H. P. McCarthy plans to lead the same veteran squad at Tufts that fared so well in the dribblers from Vermont. The starting lineup will probably consist of George Marakas, and the engineers attack on and Jerry Coe at the forward positions; Red Dolan at the point; and Co-captains Ernie and Jack Whelan in the back positions.

Jumbos Are Imposing

Jumbos will be able to send a strong aggregation onto the court against the Tech cagers since they have several veterans returning. Sharpshooter Nick Marino and Bob Scannell will probably be in the forward positions. Opponents while Captain Redgate, a pivot man of varsity experience, will start at the center. In all probability, Zeke and Marshall Snyder will be in the guard positions by reason of their fine performances in the season.

Art Cochran's boys will be up by a substantial reserve which may easily determine the outcome of the contest since the ability to substitute freely is a large factor in their opening series to Cantabs.

Beavers Behind Last Year

In the past two years, the Tech hoopsters have failed to win a victory against the Jumbo. Last year they were defeated 56-33, after having led for the first quarter, 13-11. They allied to gain a 23-21 lead at half and then went on to lose their 56-33 margin.

In a preliminary contest, the Tech squad which has yet to meet the Tufts team. Coach Pete Berry probably send a slightly revised team to the floor tonight after a defeat the freshmen suffered Saturday against Tilton. Starting will be O'Leary and his forwards, Domin and Lick as guards, and either King or Shingleton at the point.

Tilton Edges Frosh

Right setup in the second cost them victory in their first of the season on Saturday when an alert Tilton School piled up a sizable lead they held until the final held a slight edge in three four periods but lost when their opponents scored 10 to Tech's 4 in the second. O'Leary sparked the Carl Grey attack with 7 points and Shingleton followed closely with 6 markers apiece. Coz and Mahor led the home individual scoring with 11 each.

Racquetees Go to Dartmouth

Varsity squash team lost to strong opposition of the Dartmouth racquetees 8-1 last Friday. They took every match except in which Jaques Shaw of Dartmouth at Guy Mallett, 15-7, 15-7, 15-4. Her players for M.I.T. were Lou Stouse, C. Trexel, Bob Gunther, Ted Badger, Morrison, Chris Peek.

Mermen Lose To R.P.I.; Amherst Over Week End

Two Records Broken In Troy Meet; Harvard Next Foe Wednesday

The varsity swimming team returned Saturday night from a rather unsuccessful weekend, having dropped two meets. The first was a very close meet to Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute on Friday night, and the other was a more severe defeat at the hands of a very powerful Amherst team which is expected to take the New England Intercollegiate Championships at the end of the season.

The team hopes for better luck when they go up the river to Harvard tomorrow night for their third meet of the season. The meet there will be at 8:30 P.M., preceded by a meet between the two frosh teams.

R.P.I. Edges, 40-35

The score of the R.P.I. meet was 40-35, which might easily have been the other way had a few of the close events gone the other way. In the fifty-yard free style, Captain Bill Denhard of Technology took first, and Hank Tiedemann took third in a very close race although the time was not exceptional at 25.9 seconds.

Jack Loveland set a new Institute record for the 200-yard breaststroke with a time of 2 minutes and 43 seconds. R.P.I. broke their own 220-yard free style record with a time of 2 minutes and 20 seconds.

Amherst Sweeps Meet

At Amherst the story was quite different. Here the mermen were outclassed by a team which took first place in all but one event. This was in the 50-yard freestyle which Hank Tiedemann won followed by Ralph Garrett also of Technology. In diving Jack Hunter took second while Bob Reebie took third, both being bettered by Shay of Amherst.

The detailed report of the meet with R.P.I. is as follows:

- 300-yd. medley relay — won by R.P.I. (Ewing, Murphy, Borden), time 3:20.
- 220-yd. free style—won by Stokke (R.P.I.), Pepper (M.I.T.) 2nd; Dodge (R.P.I.) 3rd, time 2:24.1—new R.P.I. record.
- 50-yd. free style—win by Denhard (M.I.T.); Cook (R.P.I.) 2nd; Tiedemann (M.I.T.) 3rd; time 25.4.
- Diving — won by McFarland (R.P.I.); Hunn (M.I.T.) 2nd; Stoner (R.P.I.) 3rd.
- 100-yd. free style — won by Thomas (M.I.T.); Denhard (M.I.T.) 2nd; Kinken (R.P.I.) 3rd; time 56.7.
- 150-yd. backstroke—won by Ewing (R.P.I.); Cook (R.P.I.) 2nd; Gershenow (M.I.T.) 3rd; time 1:50.4.
- 200-yd. breaststroke — won by Loveland (M.I.T.); Murphy (R.P.I.) 2nd; Lichten (M.I.T.) 3rd; time 2:43.6, new Technology record.
- 440-yd. free style—won by Stokke (R.P.I.); Dodge (R.P.I.) 2nd; Denhard (R.P.I.) 3rd; time 5:29.9.
- 400-yard free style relay—won by M.I.T. (Tiedmann, Garrett, Thomas, Pepper); time 3:58.2.

Beaver Key Hoop Tourney Will Start On Jan. 6

The Beaver Key basketball tournament, the only intramural tourney which has not been cancelled because of the emergency, will start on January 6, the first Tuesday after Christmas vacation, Frank E. Briber, '43, chairman of the tournament, announced last night.

Twenty-six teams from the fraternities, the Student House, and the 5:15 Club will battle for three positions in the round robin play, which will decide the champion. These three together with the two top aggregations from the dormitory teams will make up the round robin competitors. All games are to be played in the Hangar Gym, Briber said.

Hedlund Stages Christmas Meet

Tracksters Receive Prizes And Gifts In Handicap Match

Throwing more or less of a party meet for tracksters, Oscar Hedlund ran a handicap meet last Saturday in which the winners won prizes and each entry received a gift.

The notable event of the meet was the 600-yard run in which Bailey, Brady, Ziegler, and Grimes finished nearly abreast and Bailey and Brady very close at the finish.

Meny Beats Hall

In the eight man two lap relay race, anchor man Meny beat Hall to the finish line. The high jumping results were: (1) Adams, (2) Azarian, (3) Ashley. The shot put record shows: (1) Bavicchi, (2) D. Ashley, (3) Azarian, (4) Jester, (5) E. Ashley.

The broad jump winners were as follows: (1) E. Ashley, (2) Azarian, (3) McKee, (4) Steiner, (5) D. Ashley and Jester. In the pole vault the only two leapers rated (1) E. Ashley, (2) Azarian.

Stewart Wins Hurdles

Hurdlers Stewart and Steiner finished in that order over a 60-yard stretch of low hurdles. Meny, Stewart, McKee, Bryant, Steiner was the order in which they crossed the tape in the 50-yard dash. The results of the 300-yard run event were: (1) Hall, (2) Meny, (3) Rosenthal, (4) Bryant. In the 1000-yard distance event, the following men finished in the order: (1) Spear, (2) Cabral, (3) Miller, (4) MacGregor, (5) Cummings.

Coach Oscar Hedlund stated last night that he was pleased with the number of freshmen who are continuing to come out for track in spite of the cancellation of required P.T. Oscar stated that he was preparing his men for the Knights of Columbus Games, January 31, at the Boston Garden; the Millrose Games, February 7, at Madison Square Garden, New York City; and the Boston Athletic Association meet, February 14, at the Boston Garden.

Pucksters Face Colby Team In Boston Arena At Seven O'clock

Having steadily improved since their initial defeat at the hands of B. U., George Owen's pucksters intend to knock the pants off the well-practiced Colby veterans tonight at the Boston Arena, and from the fight displayed in the Northwestern game last week they are capable of doing it.

A slight alteration in lines made by Coach Owen shifts Johnny Arnold into the center of the White-Bettes line. Johnny Neal in turn will center for the Hart-Gillen line.

New Line-up

The alternate forward line consists of Jim Hart, right wing, Johnny Neal, center, and Bob Gillen, left wing. The co-captain Dave Christison and Dick Small will pair up as a defense unit.

Note Time Change

The face off time has been advanced from the originally scheduled 8:00 P.M. to 7:00 P.M. Besides M.I.T. and Colby, Northeastern and Boston College play. M.I.T. and Colby will play two consecutive periods, followed by two consecutive periods by N.U. and B.C. The final periods will be played in the same order.

Hockey manager, Bob Mason wishes to announce to all players, coaches, and spectators that the time of tonight's hockey game has been changed from 8:00 P.M. to 7:00 P.M.

According to The Colby Echo, Coach Bill Millet has a veteran squad on the ice this year. Every man of last season's starting line-up is back again this year.

The forward threesome will probably be Joe Wallace, Ernie Weidul, and Bud Johnson. The defensive triangle will be made up of LaLiberte and Butcher with goal-guarder Loring. For reserves Millett has Larry Field, Ed Collins, and Jack Wagner, all of whom saw plenty of action last year.

Mules Practice Plenty

The White Mules, unlike Dartmouth whom the Engineers were unable to play last week because the Dartmouth rink had not frozen, have had plenty of practice. A prevailing terrific cold spell froze all the small ponds of Waterville, giving the Colby pucksters a real chance to get in some good workouts before the season started.

A. P. O. CHRISTMAS PARTY

Christmas Parties Thrill Underprivileged Children

The true Christmas spirit held forth last Saturday afternoon as several fraternities and residential groups threw open their doors to allow the underprivileged children from the Morgan and Ellis Memorial Foundations to file in.

Santa Claus himself was on hand to meet the youngsters as they arrived. There were games, presents, Christmas trees, and decorations and the usual sophisticated atmosphere of college parties gave way to congeniality and a return to boyhood days.

Lambda Chi's Fifth Year

The Lambda Chi Alpha house pioneered the idea of a party for underprivileged children, and this year the Beacon Street fraternity held the annual affair for the fifth consecutive year. At the suggestion Carthrae M. Laffoon, Jr., '42, the Student House, Sigma Alpha Mu, and Alpha Phi Omega, honorary scouting fraternity also held parties.

Most of the groups reported that no trouble was experienced in getting the fellows to join in the fun. W. Hoover Shaw, '42, of the Student House stated, "We had as much fun as the kids had and probably more." There was spontaneous acclaim of the idea, and all but one group were almost sure that the affair would be continued next year, so successful were the parties.

Most of the youngsters were approximately eight years old, and they were of all races and colors. The Student House members were overcome by an urge to show the kids "how to do it," with the result that they were well trimmed by the children in the race that followed.

S. A. M. Hear Prodigy

The Sigma Alpha Mu house reported a prodigy in a negro boy, seven years old, who entertained them with excellent delivery of one of Bach's piano works. He also sang "Ave Maria," "Silent Night," and several negro spirituals, in touching tones.

Alpha Phi Omega honorary scouting fraternity held its party in Tyler Lounge and entertained seven boys from the Morgan Memorial.

Clark Collection Of Naval Prints Revealed At Last

The famous Clark Collection, consisting of twenty-five hundred lithographs, prints, and engravings of naval vessels has at long last been unshelved by the Nautical Museum Committee. With exhibits dating from the 15th century to the time when the development of the clipper ship was at its peak, the series had lain dormant until the committee decided to exhibit part of the collection.

Selected groups of the prints have been chosen to be displayed at various times in the future, and the first set is now on view in the Main Lobby. Though the collection had no sequence value, the museum committee has selected special prints to depict the battle of Trafalgar. The whole group is framed and mounted with suitable comments along with historical notes so that the casual observer may follow the progress of this great naval battle, as well as read of the events leading up to the engagement.

Nelson's Victory at Trafalgar

The battle of Trafalgar was fought on October 21, 1805, by the British fleet under Lord Nelson against the combined French and Spanish fleets. The latter were met near Cape Trafalgar off the coast of Spain as they moved from Cadiz in an attempt to break the blockade. In the battle that ensued, Lord Nelson was killed, but the English fleet triumphed. It was this battle which saved England from Napoleon and started the great French military leader on his way to defeat.

The Clark Collection was the result of a hobby of Captain Arthur H. Clark who used them to illustrate his own book, The History of Yachting, published in 1904, and they also were used in his book entitled The Clipper Ship Era. The prints themselves are of historical value, but their greatest usefulness lay in their applicability to research work in naval construction.

Clark a Great Sea Master

Clark is an exemplar of all American sea masters during the days of the clipper ship and before the days when America let sea power slip through her fingers. He was an oarsman, yachtsman, collector, student, and historian.

Besides the prints, many of which are beautifully tinted, there is a display of models showing the development of English ships from the very first sailboats up to the time of first World War. This display is entitled "A Pageant of English Naval History."

Maxwell H. Kaplan, '42, reported that his gang, too, thoroughly enjoyed the party, and that all the trimmings were on hand, with a Christmas tree obtained and decorated especially for the party.

For Boys To Play

by Stewart Rowe and Joseph Tankoos

As we sit down to write this column we have a copy of New Yorker at our elbow, Cue propped up on our typewriter, and Esquire tacked to the wall in front of us. Yes, indeed, vacation time is almost at hand.

Before we turn to consideration of the recreational facilities of the world's greatest city, we must call attention to last week-end's fun festival. We didn't think it could be done, but don't let anyone tell you it is impossible to beat the house at the D.U. Carnival. A very happy combination of the Crimson Grille, a penny arcade, Bluebeard's castle at Playland, and the Rose-land State, the Carnival brought with it more fun than we've seen in a long time. Notable during the evening was an impromptu version of the All-Tech Sing, and the sight of Bruckman going around with some weird machine collecting all the pennies in the house. Made quite a haul, so we hear. Congratulations are definitely due to Bob Rumsey and his committee.

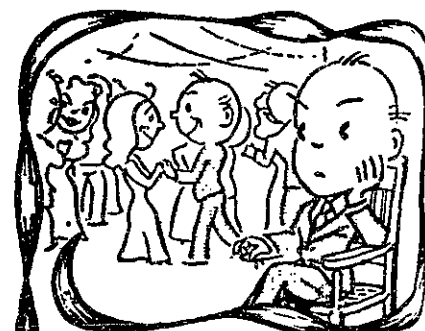

The previous night the Dorm Dance Committee held their annual Christmas dance in Walker. We didn't go, but we have heard no complaints from those who did.

But putting aside thoughts of the past, along with Christmas seals, green wrapping paper, and imitation gold bracelets, we turn to New York. For that snazzy but informal evening, we wish to advise that Duchin is holding forth in the Wedgewood Room (formerly the Empire Room) at the Waldorf, and Miller is back at the old stand in the Cafe Rouge. Also in New York for the holiday season are Sammy Kaye at the Essex House, Goodman and an ice show at the New Yorker, the ever-present Lombardo at the Roosevelt, and Harry James at the Hotel Lincoln. The perennial Cugat must be around somewhere, although we're not quite sure where.

For that really big night, Mat Malneck is smoothing it at the Rainbow Room, along with a magician and the usually suave and sophisticated entertainment which goes over so well with New Yorkers, but seems to fall flat with the people from the provinces. La Rue, up on 58th Street, is one of our favorite haunts; Harvard, Yale, Princeton and similar gentry practically live there over the vacation. Very slick atmosphere and music not bad.

The holiday season comes to New York with a plethora of plays for your entertainment. Very much to be recommended is George Abbott's Best Foot Forward, Rosemary Lane is in it, but she doesn't rate beside the unknown kids who make the show. Without music, Maurice Evans as usual makes Shakespeare a pleasure rather than a chore. Filled with propaganda, but good nevertheless, Candle in the Wind, The Watch on the Rhine, and The Wookey are all worth seeing. And several old faithfuls, still hanging on from last season, are even yet dragging in respectable audiences.
