Institute To Recruit professors in Big Scrap Drive

Technology became the first educational institution in Massachusetts to actively enter the nationwide scrap metal drive. During Component this was appointed Pre-fessor of scrap materials, Professor Davies emphasized that not only metals, but rubber and fabric, including hemp products, are valuable.

The Department of Naval Architecture has already announced that it is now setting a goal of containing thousands of pounds of valuable salvage material. A great variety of research work now in process in the Department, it is related, is expected that the recovery of scrap metals alone will amount to many tons. The members of the staff who will have charge of the machine drive in their various departments are: Professor H. B. Sherrington, nautical engineering; Professor E. M. Gage, architects; Professor B. T. Coffin, biology and biological engineering; Professor F. T. Hard, instrument and construction; Professor G. R. Dyer, engineering business.

Solons Discuss Clee Club Formals In First Meeting

At its first meeting of the fall, yesterday afternoon, the Institute council decided that members of the Clee Club should form formalities for the dress of the Junior Prom and Senior Ball. It was, however, stipulated that this formality would be for those men slimming in the comcerts in order to make their appearances uniform. So that the rules would come informal almost as final as in the past.

For, in order to give the Institute council a basic constitution from which to work it was moved that the constitution of the Undergraduate Association be accepted as now printed in the T.C.A. Handbook, so that the Institute council could know exactly what material it has to work upon. The chairman of the Budget Com-

Student Poll To be held Tues., by Junior From

Will Ask Advice On Running Weekend of November 20-22

A Junior group body will be held Tuesday in the Main Lobby of Building 10, by the Student Senate, in order to find out what kind of a week-end the students wish to have for 1942. This ballot opens to members all four classes will ask four major questions.

The first question will ask what classes the students wish to see in the second will give the veeter a choice of seven officers, three of which he would prefer. In voting for this the student must remember that the higher price he pays the more the number eligible for the committee to provide.

Questions three will be as a suggestion as to entertainment for the afternoons of Saturday and Sunday. The committee promised that there will be a formal dance on one of the afternoons of Saturday night. The decision of what to do with the rest of the activities is left to the result of the poll. The committee suggested however that the entertainment for Saturday morning come from music or drama.

The fourth problem which the committee wishes the student body to consider is that of flowers and decorations. Students will be asked whether they think the college should be in keeping with the war effort for the girls that must elect or not whether they should be abolished for this, and others during the war.

tories. It will be available to all students upon requests at the office.

The Blotto contains the Institute calendar, a 1942 calendar, Institute and fraternity telephone numbers, and other general information about Technology.
LET'S MAKE UP OUR MINDS

We look forward to a big year for the M.I.T. Musical Clubs; under the special privileges that have been granted to that organization by the Institute Committee, it should be able to attract the largest membership that any undergraduate activity ever has possessed. For only as a member of the Glee Club will social-minded students be able to enjoy a large number of formal dances throughout the year, about which the musical clubs are concerned.

According to the amended recommendation passed by the Institute Committee last night, the Glee Club concerts will be permitted to remain formal in spite of the ban which the Institute Committee has suggested to all other activities excepting dances at the Institute throughout the period of war.

Perhaps the letter of the law has not been broken, but the spirit certainly has. As an example to other activities and as a means of insuring the success of the entire program, reconsideration of the decision by both the Musical Clubs and the Institute Committee is in order.

TECHNOLOGY IS IN THE SCRAP

Technology becomes the first college in Massachusetts to cooperate with the nation's intensive drive for scrap in conducting its own scrap collection. Plans are complete and officers have been appointed to carry out the drive in the various Institute departments. According to the releases thus far, however, student participation in the drive has not been organized as completely. THE TECH, consequently, reprints the advice which the WPB has issued in a release to college newspapers.

"Acting through their representative bodies, students might well organize salvage committees, it was suggested, to work with college authorities in conducting campus drives. All sorts of waste, from science laboratory, gymnasium, kitchens, storerooms, boiler rooms, clubs, and fraternities. There is a wealth of material available from old Bunsen burners to discarded soda bottles, from rubber tubing to steam pipes, from old fences to broken down pianos; from hemp rope to old rags.

"Any student who has a jalopy which has outlived its usefulness, may do his country a real service by taking it to an automobile junkyard. Articles such as keys, badges, machine tool parts are good scrap and can be found in the very rooms where students live.

"The students' salvage committee might also make certain that all school and fraternity kitchens are cooperating with the salvage drive by saving fats and grease regularly."

The importance of the scrap drive in the war effort is apparent to everyone; it deserves our strongest support.
