For Boys To Play

By Gene Schall

To the Editor:

In the issue of The Tech that was out this week, one of the articles was written by a student named Michael Smith. The article was about the latest development in the world of American football.

Mike Smith wrote about how the recent passage of a new law强制禁止了徒步旅行 through the woods surrounding the football stadium.

I agree with Smith's opinion that this is a bad idea. The students who frequent the woods around the stadium are an important part of the college community. They help to keep the woods clean and safe for everyone.

I hope that the administration will reconsider this decision and allow the students back into the woods.

Sincerely,

Wrestling Tournament Proceeds Excellent Grappling Squad

Thirty-eight Men Compete This Week

The amateurs and grunts heard for the past three days in the vicinity of the grapplers' den have finally ceased, as the wrestling tournament last week came to a successful finish with every match a close fight. The event was mostly made up of experienced wrestlers, so from the preliminaries, the finals the observer got a glimpse of good wrestling. The freshman team can look forward to a better season next year, for many of the freshmen showed that they should have at least notified someone that they weren't going to practice before the schedule was made out.

Coach Expresses Disappointment

Coach Lutz expressed his disappointment in the way some followed up, for the tournament and didn't stick to the point in the beginning. They should have at least notified someone that they weren't going to practice before the schedule was made out.

Fortunately, all classes were fairly represented, so they didn't spoil a good match. The second period showed the change to show the coaching ability of the wrestlers. Several of those who did not appear in the first round, who had a good chance of gaining a place on the varsity.

Moochins Wins 119 lb. Class

In the finals of the 119 pound class, Moochins defeated Pollard by a fall in the first period, with the fall coming quickly after 1 minute and 30 seconds. A good example of the kind of match, it was worthwhile to watch.
