TO THE SOPHOMORE AND FRESHMAN CLASSES

There exists in the regulations of the Institute a rule applicable to the undergraduate student body which was not made to be broken. This rule has become familiar to Sophomores through its publication under the Institute seal prior to the last Field Day. The purpose of this rule is to prevent excessive participation on the part of the men of Technology who shall participate in unauthorized demonstrations shall be liable to immediate expulsion.

This is an excerpt from the faculty rules on general good order and in the form usually seen on bulletin boards is signed by Dean Lobdell, Dean of Students. The evident importance of this rule is indicated by the penalties prescribed, and is designed to prevent a dependence among junior classes of any sort for which the student body is held responsible.

The Institute, as undergraduates well are aware, is severe in making strict rules which must be fulfilled to the letter by the student body. Undoubtedly this can be ascribed to the belief that the part of the power can be the men of Technology should be treated as men, and allowed to make their own decisions unhampered by restrictions which are necessary only for the direction of those who cannot be trusted to exercise prudence in their judgment. Outstanding examples of the privilege of free action which the Institute has seen fit to bestow upon the student body are the unregulated fraternizing system, the lack of a system of class cuts, and the independence accorded the undergraduate activities. Since the Institute has reposed full confidence in the sagacity and loyalty to the school of the men of Technology, it remains for us to justify that confidence.

The probable reason for the existence of the rule against demonstrations is the belief of Institute authorities that although students will in general act with mature balance, some provision should be made so that they should fail to do so, the name of the Institute would be discredited.

In the light of recent events it appears that the adoption of such a rule was a wise step.

Recently there was a demonstration between freshmen and Sophomores in a place completely open to the public. Yesterday there was a notice on one of the bulletin boards of the Institute to the effect that if Sophomores were interested in recovering some missing neckerchiefs they could do so by appearing at a specified time and place. Whether this note was intended as a joke or whether the authors were trying to promote an interclass struggle on Boston streets it is not our intent to conjecture; if a joke it is easily dismissed, but the fact of its existence demands a serious treatment.

The one demonstration that took place, and the other that may have been in the offering, might do much to besmirch the name of Technology, especially in wartime.

Perhaps this aspect of the situation did not occur to some of the participants; by others it may have been dismissed as unimportant. To the former, we take the liberty of suggesting that they develop a more responsible attitude toward maintaining a good public opinion of their Alma Mater. This sort of loyalty is just as vital a factor in college spirit as loyalty toward the crew or track teams.

To those who consider the name of Technology unimportant we have to say that to be men of the men of Technology render them liable to expulsion; if they care no more for Technology than their actions indicate, we are not sure that such an expulsion would not benefit the student body.

In all probability, all such public disturbances were undertaken in the spirit of thoughtless good fun. We hope that they will not recur.

Frosh Swimmers Impress Coaches

"If the Sophmore want to make a decent showing on Field Day they had better sharp up out of it," said Coach Gordon Smith's comment on the Sophmore chances for winning Field Day.

All Frosh Must Work To Beat 21-4 Record

"The Sophmore squad and show up occasion and for a real effort," said Coach Gordon Smith who charged the Sophmore in the race. Due to traveling difficulties, this event may be limited to competition on August 26-30. The Sophmore team will have a good chance to break the Freshman relay record.
