On January 30, there was an informal debate with Middlebury at Charlottesville, Virginia. The debate was won by the opposition to the proposition that "the campus of the pacifist hero is a living thing with a life of its own." The debate was lost by the opposition to the proposition that "the university is a place of the greater world society." In the Spotlight

Though thought by many to have been born and bred in Hollywood, Miss Ellison is actually a native of Boston, and has lived in the Parish City all her life. She comes from Boston University, where she entered Technology in the fall of 1940 and spent a year (1941)." She is now of the few students left taking the course, for the fact that the campus is the actual combat zone, often under fire.

The real feature of the exhibit is the Lobby of Building 10, which contains the most impressive collection of photographs ever exhibited in the United States.

Activities

The first activity of the week is a Open House for Freshmen. The day is set for March 22, and the women are already preparing for the event. The theme for this year is "The Yankee Girl" and the guests will be entertained with music and refreshments. The event is open to all freshmen, and it is a great opportunity to meet new people and get involved in student life.

The first of March will also see the beginning of a series of evening lectures. The lectures will be held in the new cafeteria and will cover a variety of topics, including history, science, and literature. The first lecture will be given by Professor A. R. Davis, and it will be on the history of Technology.

The Tech news this week includes the return of the new Activities Committee, which will be charged with organizing and coordinating all of the activities on campus. The committee will be made up of freshmen, with the exception of one coed from each of the other classes.

The Tech is proud to announce the opening of a new office on the first floor of Building 10. The office will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will be staffed by a full-time reporter. The office will serve as a clearinghouse for all Tech-related news and will be the focal point for the Tech staff.

The Tech also has a new feature this week, "Tech Talk," which will be a column run by the staff of the Tech. The column will cover a variety of topics, including campus news, events, and entertainment. The first issue of "Tech Talk" will be published this week, and it will be available at all Tech offices.

In summary, this week will be a busy one for The Tech. The staff is working hard to bring you the latest news and updates, and we hope you enjoy this week's issue.
