Compton, Greene Discuss Compulsory Military Training

Talks Will Be Given
On Monday, May 7;
Sponsored By T.C.A.

President Karl T. Compton and Prof. William C. Greene will speak on "Universal Military Training" under the sponsorship of the Technology Christian Association on Monday, May 7, at 5:00 P.M. in Room 10-250. President Compton is known to be mildly in favor of compulsory military training, while Professor Greene is definitely against any such program.

The talk by President Compton will be his first address before an open meeting of the Technology student body in a little over two and one-half years.

Professor Greene, a member of the Institute's department of English and History, has actively discussed the topic in question many times recently. He is a graduate of Brown University, Phi Beta Kappa, was a Rhodes Scholar, and is well known for his vivid and entertaining speaking.

Tech Lightweights Win Right To Row As J.V.'s; Ray Gets Coxswain Post

Tomorrow marks the opening of the college crew season for the East as Navy, Harvard, and M.I.T. meet in two races over the Charles. The course, which begins in front of the Tech Boathouse and ends near the Union Boathouse just short of Longfellow Bridge, is 1¾ miles long. In order to get the best views of the contests, spectators should watch the races from either Harvard Bridge or Longfellow Bridge. However, the race can be seen easily from any point along Memorial Drive parallel to the course. The Junior Varsity race is scheduled to start at 4:30 P.M. and the Varsity contest will follow a half hour later at 5:00 P.M.

The Tech Varsity crew, which faces its first test, has several veterans of last year's fine eight, although the better part of the boat is facing real big-time competition for the first time. The only change in the lineup since last week has been the shifting of Stu Edgerly from the port side to the starboard

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

On Monday, May 2, the T. C. A. is sponsoring a discussion on the vital question of compulsory military training. In planning the discussion, and in securing the services of President Compton and Professor Greene, the T. C. A. is taking a most commendable step toward making Technology students familiar with the pros and cons of a proposal which may have a profound effect on their lives and careers.

As yet, the Congress has failed to take any definite action on the proposed bill for compulsory military training, possibly because pressure from various groups has prevented any such action. The May Bill, introduced in the House of Representatives in January, provides that "every male citizen of the United States and every male alien resident therein shall, upon attaining the age of eighteen years, or within four years thereafter, be subject to military or naval training, and shall be inducted into the Army or Navy of the United States for this purpose alone, for a period of one year. . . ."

There is much to be said both for and against the bill, and it is certainly fortunate that we will have the privilege of being exposed to the mature, well-considered opinions of the two distinguished speakers. Every undergraduate who possibly can should make a point of attending what should prove to be an extremely interesting and valuable discussion.

SAN FRANCISCO

Armed with, as President Truman stated, "a revival of an old faith in the everlasting moral force of justice," a faith which obscures the memory of a long line of past failures, the diplomats of the United Nations have gathered in San Francisco in an effort to rid the world of the plagues of hate and bloodshed.

We must view the conference in a spirit of sober realism, with our minds clouded by neither cynicism nor lofty idealism.

Lacrosse Team Victors Twice

Tech Sweeps Harvard, 19-3, And Andover, 4-3

The Tech lacrosse team chalked two victories during the past week, the first over Harvard by a score of 19-3, the second over Phillips Andover Academy, 4-3. In a battle of last Saturday, waged on the Harvard field, Tech's up-tem rival presented a green, prior squad, but on Wednesday Andover displayed an organized back and a strong defense to keep the Tech team extend its efforts to insure success.

In the game against the Crimson Tech regulars saw only limited action, as a total of thirty-five players was pressed into the fray. Ed Meduski paced the victors' effort by driving home seven goals.

Andover Game Close

The Andover game, played on a rainy day, was closely contested all the way, as is evidenced by the fact that the contest was dead-ended three times during the course of the afternoon. Although wet weather impeded passing, Andover displayed better teamwork than had been evident previously this season. The score at the half stood at 3-3, Chuck Wellard having accounted for all of Tech's scoring. In the final session, however, Smith came through with Tech's fourth goal to provide the margin of victory.

Tomorrow the team travels to Andover for the fourth game of the season. Next Tuesday Tech enters Tufts on the Tufts field.

Beavers Show Power

In Sprints, Distances;

Andover Meet Saturday

In the first dual track meet with Harvard on the home field in almost twenty years, Tech auspiciously opened the spring season last Saturday with a crushing 93-41 triumph over the Crimson. Since the visitors predominated in only two events, the high and low hurdles, Tech easily overpowered their opponents through unquestionable superiority in the sprints and distances and through complete command of four field events.

Run off under gray skies and in a chilling east wind, the meet was featured by excellent times in several events. Crimmin covered the 440 in 50.7 seconds, and Casey took the 100 and 220 in times of 9.8 seconds and 22.0 seconds, respectively.

Casey, Serrie High Scorers

High point man for the meet was Harvard's Jenkins, who captured the high hurdles and won seconds in both the high jump and low hurdles. Scoring was well divided among the M.I.T. contestants, as Casey and Serrie both chalked up ten points, Kornreich nine, and Hines eight.

Tomorrow the team travels to Andover for the second varsity meet of the season.

The results of the Harvard meet were as follows:

100-yard Dash—Won by Casey (T); Clark (H), second; Fritts (H), third. Time—9.8 sec.
 220-yard Dash—Won by Casey (T); Clark (H), second; Crimmin (T), third. Time—22.0 sec.
 440-yard Dash—Won by Crimmin (T); Steinbauer (H), second; Chapman (T), third. Time—50.7 sec.
 880-yard Run—Won by Serrie (T); Goldie (T), second; de Fries (H), third. Time—1 min., 59.5 sec.
 Mile Run—Won by Serrie (T); Robbins (H), second; Moriarty (H), third. Time—4 min., 33.2 sec.
 Two-mile Run—Won by Keegan (T); Bowen (T), second; Ray (T), third. Time—10 min., 30 sec.

Coast Guard Ac. Sweeps Regatta

Technology Skippers Defeated On Charles

After triumphing 181-137 on Saturday in an informal meet with Coast Guard the favored Technology Tars and twelve other college dinghy teams went down to defeat last Sunday before the Coast Guard Academy Cadets who for the second consecutive year took the Greater Boston Dinghy Trophy back to the Severn River. This is Tech's first defeat since last August.

The regatta started at 10:30 A.M. when the sailors in the first division took to the water of the Charles Basin, churned white by the gusty 30 knot wind. Chuck Bloomer, skippering for Tech, rounded the course in the shortest time, and was one of three out of seven boats which started that did not swamp or capsize. It was then decided to delay the rest of the regatta until the wind abated somewhat. At about three o'clock the meet got under way again, the plan being to sail 4 preliminary races for each of the 4 divisions, and then 2 final races in two divisions. Bloomer and Brite, easily reached the finals, both with perfect scores.

Here, however, they went down to defeat. Blomer fouled out in the first race when he was headed in tacking and consequently was in the way of the Coast Guard dinghy; in the second race he led the pack.

Leigh Brite recrossed the starting line in the first race, and lost his mast in the second.

This Saturday and Sunday the team will pay a visit to the Coast Guard Academy on the Severn.

After the talk, the sound film "Inside The Flame" will be presented and this will terminate the meeting. Everyone is free to attend the meeting.

and return of tall Chick Street to the boat. Coach Jim McMillin has selected Buck Ray to cox this boat. Ray, although a novice at the game, has shown a great capacity to pick up the tricks of the trade.

The position of the Tech J.V. crew will be taken by the lightweight who have won that privilege by defeating the second heavyweight boat in the time trials. This is the second year in which the same thing has occurred. Last summer's lightweight crew also rowed as J.V.'s and wound up with an excellent record as a result of victories over Cornell and Harvard. Bob Hoffman, stroke; Bill Shuman, 6; and Ralph Huschke, 5; are all members of that crew and will be striving to keep their record clean.

Earlier in the afternoon at 3:00 P.M., there will be a race between Kent School, the Harvard third boat, and the M.I.T. fourth boat. This race will be of only a mile and five sixteenths duration and will end a short distance beyond the Tech Sailing Pavilion. Mr. A. N. Winslow, Jr., of the Union Boat Club will referee the races.

Next Saturday, there will be another set of races here over the same course as Cornell comes to Boston to meet Harvard and M.I.T.

B.K. Swim Meet Winners Changed

Reviews & Preview

Last Sunday night, April 22, Glee Club presented a concert Longwood Towers, Brookline in conjunction with the Simmons College Glee Club and Choir.

The performance was one of the best given by the M.I.T. Glee Club in several terms. Only thirty members of the eighty-man club participated, under the baton of George S. Dunham, but the group did a remarkably fine

Outstandingly sung were "Bedouin Song" by the New England composer, Arthur Foote; Meade's arrangement of the favorite "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and the two Italian Folk Songs.

The Simmons Club, under the direction of Mr. Lyle Ring, presented their numbers with vigor and spirit. The twelve-girl A Capella Club was received with warm approval for their rendition of "In Still Night," a Suabian Folk Song; "The Younger Generation," popularized in the film "The New Star."

Of the two pieces sung jointly by the clubs, the finale from "Gondoliers" by Gilbert and Sullivan was far superior. It was sung at a lively tempo and was enjoyed by the audience as much as by the clubs singing it. The second voice selection "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" was a little slower, well presented, nevertheless.
