General Waitt, '14

American Character of The Tech in 1914.

Cited Fur Activities

Major General Allen H. Waitt, '14, has been appointed by President M. I. T. to Head Chemical War Service, and has been elected to the Board of Directors General.

A native of Florida, General Waitt has been in the chemical war-

Presents a letter of resignation to M. 1. T. President.
THE TECH

In the Spotlight

Friday, December 14, 1945

Baton Society Announces Election of New Officers
At a recent meeting of the Baton Society, the honorary music society at Tech, elections of new officers and members were held. Officers elected are: President, Richard D. Steele, 2-46; Vice-President, John A. Bateman, 2-46; Secretary, David G. Hoag, 2-46. Members elected are: Claude W. Brenner, 2-47; Margaret J. Becker, 2-47; Robert K. Baker, 10-46; Richard C. Davila, 2-46; William M. Siebel, 2-46; David G. Hoag, 2-46; Kenneth A. Arvy, 10-47, and Paul V. Osborn, Jr., 2-47.

CUNY, the vast system, thousands upon thousands of new telephones have been produced and installed. Hundreds of miles of telephone cable have rolled out of Western Electric plants to provide more facilities for the wartime emergency, and central offices, switchboards and other equipment are being manufactured with all possible speed.

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, 56 Chestnut Street, Boston: Sunday morning, 11 a.m.; Sunday evening, 7:30 p.m.; Wednesday evening, 7:30 p.m.; Public Reading Room—Fr to th

Western Electric SOURCE OF SUPPLY FOR THE BELL SYSTEM
Tech Swimmers Lose To Brown 43-32, In First Game Of Season

Meet Remained Undecided Until Final 140 Relay

One of the largest crowds that has ever attended a swimming meet at Tech was present at the Alumni pool last Saturday afternoon to watch Coach Pia's swimming team give Brown men a run for their money, but lose by a final score of 43-32. The spectators, however, saw a meet that was well worth their time, for neither team was assured of a victory until the last relay was over.

The first race, a 100-yard medley was won by Technology and as the medley counted five points, M.I.T. gained an immediate lead and held it over Brown. The 220 free-style saw Tech take a second and Brown's swimmers finished second, third and third. The tally at the end of the 250 yard freestyle showed that Tech was leading by 6-3. Chabot of MT took a second in the 300 yard freestyle, while Brown again captured a first and third. The second 150 yard back stroke was won by Tech and the third 100 yard back stroke, Brown, again took a first and third. These races were followed by the 100 yard medley, in which M.I.T. scored 20 points, while Brown took 1 point. This medley counted five points, well worth their time, for neither team gave Brown men a run for their money. The meet at Tech was present at the Harvard University pool in the City Training center, with a large number of free throws made by Tech.

The Tech starting line-up with Red Heathcote and Chuck Wellard at forwards, Gerald Homanski at center and Breese Wallman at inside wing, gave the Crimson attack a strong boost and they were able to pile up goals against a weak Harvard defense.

The Harvard defense was completely outclassed by Harvard to the tune of 42-21. Harvard's defense was able to hold Tech to 1 point in the entire game, but the Crimson attack was able to score 18 points, which was partly due to the large number of free throws made by Tech.

Although Wyndol Gray's pivot did his best to get the boat moving, it was not enough to get the Crimson attack into high gear and they were able to pile up goals against a weak Harvard defense.

The Tech starting line-up with Red Heathcote and Chuck Wellard at forwards, Gerald Homanski at center and Breese Wallman at inside wing, gave the Crimson attack a strong boost and they were able to pile up goals against a weak Harvard defense.

The Crimson attack was able to score 18 points, which was partly due to the large number of free throws made by Tech.

Although Wyndol Gray's pivot did his best to get the boat moving, it was not enough to get the Crimson attack into high gear and they were able to pile up goals against a weak Harvard defense.
Dramashop Selects Cast; Rehearsals For Play Starting

Results of the tryouts for the cast of the play, "Murder in Walker Gym," were announced this week, and the cast is now in rehearsal for the production which will be presented on January 22 and 23 at 8 p.m. in the Phillips Theatre, Harvard Square, and in the Yard, Harvard Student Union.

Handing out the leading roles are Claude W. Mclnerney, 244, playing the part of Tommy Turner; Mark M. Gregory, 241, as the role of Larry Mclntyre; Ralph M. Carlin, 448, as Patricia McAllister; and David H. Smith, 246, as Joe Ferguson.

The remainder of the cast consists of Wally Morey, Donald Pauza, 244; Dean Frederick Damon, by William M. Rohe, 244; and Robert B. Belknap, 104; and the newspaper reporter, played by Robert P. Adams, 104.

The play is under the direction of Professor Dean M. Puller of the English department.

"The Murder of Roger Ackroyd," written by James Thirwall, and Elco Suggan's had a very successful run on Broadway recently. The play takes place in a middle-class English vicar.'s home in the suburbs. There are no members of the family, no servants, no guests, but several difficulties due to a misunderstanding. The play turns tragic.

However, as the course of events, the difficulties and misunderstandings end, and as the curtain comes down, Tommy is proclaimed a "Male Animal" by his sweetheart.

Basketball

(Continued from Page 1)

The Tufts outfit were their margin claimed a real "Male Animal" by...