Vets Association Becomes Class B

Vote on CPS is Tabled

After a two-hour session of the Class Board Committee, a vote in favor of dropping the Vets Association to Class B status was defeated. The committee was divided on the issue, with some members feeling that the Vets Association is an important part of the Tech community and should not be downgraded, while others felt that the association was too focused on one activity and should be spread out among other groups.

Walter Memorial

Dear Sir:

I attended Professor Strick's lecture on "What We Export to the Soviet Union" and was deeply impressed with his frank expression in front of an audience comprising mostly of students. It is the pride of this country to have freedom of speech and allow everyone to express his personal opinions. It is proper for him to give an audience facts that are not true statements that are not correct, and resolutions based on inaccurate premises.

The students of this college and all of the United States want to learn the true and unbiased facts about the world's biggest problem today—the thorn of Soviet Jacobitism. They are weary of hearing propaganda and counter-propaganda thrown back and forth as if they were through newspapers, radio, books, or lectures.

In attending Professor Strick's lecture I expected to hear an impartial discussion of the Soviet problem. What I heard was the strangely familiar phrasology of the universal propagandist.

"U.S.S.R. is a true friend of the small nation and their people." Does Professor Strick know that over two million Poles were deported to the Gulag, over 200,000 imprisoned or taken to their graves at forced labor camps in Asia? Were they all "money" and "capital" when it increased billions? "U.S.S.R. wants, friendly democratic participation in broader terms for its own security and the security of democracy." Is a government that is behind the wall, that delivers through a masquerade of popular elections, that defends with a free enterprise controlled government of an independent nationalistic pride, that is governments such as that of Bulgaria, which is not recognized by the United States, friendly and democratic?

"The best proof that people of the United States are happy is in the fact that no attempts at revolt were made, although arms were always ready and in time of war." Prof. Strick seems to forget about the 1939 Ukranian revolt, about the youngest of the Warsaw insurrection, the battles of Kowel and Abrosimoff, and the plains of Normandy.

An Army of over 100,000 Poles in Italy refuses to return to their occupied home. Are they the "fascists," the "bandits," the "enemies" of the U.S.S.R.? It is easy to use student clubs, it is harder to express antipathy and emotions for which they have no lives.

Prof. Strick said that the Russian peasant is happy, that he is looking forward to better his standard of living and attain a higher prosperity. Did he speak to this peasant, did he mix with the crowds in small villages, did he discuss with the workers when they are in Party Communism around?

I did. Very truly yours,

S. K. Kamieniecki, 6-47

Amateur War-Mongers

It is not the usual policy of this column to step out of the semi-secreted sanctuary of school affairs into the frightening world of public affairs. But in the last few recent weeks the world has been thrown back and forth upon the "Red Bear," that we would like to add our comments to the conglomeration of opinions clashing upon the same issue.

A lot of people today are generally scared of Russia's potentialities as a world power and as a war-making nation. They are giddy over the prospect of evading the war, of the United States, Great Britain, and the Soviet Union as three nations genuinely interested in preserving world harmony, and in contribution to the peace unclouded without a view to the benefits they may derive from the negotiations. The constant bickering, the side-taking, the jealously nationalism of the throws is casting a despondent shadow nowadays.

With Russia Week. Why should there have to be such a move. The students of this college and all of the United States want the true and unbiased facts about the world's biggest problem today—the thorn of Soviet Jacobitism. They are weary of hearing propaganda and counter-propaganda thrown back and forth as if they were through newspapers, radio, books, or lectures.

If we directed our energies more to fulfilling our pledge for war making nation. They...
Beaver Lacrosse Team Defeated by Rensselaer

Stickmen Defeated 12-7

By Exeter Academy

In Season’s Fourth Tilt

Wednesday of this week, the Tech lacrosse men suffered their fourth setback of the season at hands of the Beaver lacrosse team. The final score found the Beaver stickmen 15-7.

The game opened with Smith of Exeter tallying the first goal. This was followed by a score for Tech by Riley at 2:25. Then Beaver scored several times from the crease. At half time the score was 8-3.

In the third and fourth periods the Tech defenses lightened as it has done in many of its previous games, and allowed every 1 point to be scored by the Exeter Ten. Cliff Riley, Tech, scored three in a row: two in the third and one in the final period. The other three points were registered by Robert and Riley.

On April 13, the varsity lacrosse team journeyed to Troy, N. Y., to engage the strong R. P. L. A. squad with a 126-138, consisting mostly of Navy cadets. R. P. L. A. has gone in strongly for the sport, they started flat and built up and finally came out the victors.

The Tech squad came out of the half time intermission to score and placed three quick goals and continued a much higher standard of play than they had shown during the first half.

Tech Trackmen Oppose Brown

Two Teams Meet For First Time In 5 Years

For the first time in five years Tech and Brown will hold an outdoor dual track meet. Five years ago, in 1941, Brown University ran through with a lead of one and half points, thus beating Tech. The meet this year will be held at Brown University this Saturday afternoon.

Track Coach Oscar Hedlund predicts this to be one of the closest meets of the season thanks to the differences of scores being not more than five points. Although this will be our first meet of the season, we will be Brown’s third meet. They have already beaten University of Connecticut and Northeastern by scores of 1005 and 85-40 respectively.

Coach Hedlund has already notified the Dartmouth track men that this meet will be one of the greatest meets of the year. Stand and supporter at three of the events in the line up and three of the men, Harry, Speck and Boomer are returned veterans. Meny and Speck have just returned to Tech while Boomer was just discharged from the V12.

The Big Four and the Small Two

On April 20, while Tech was entering the preliminaries and Ralph Hunt held a perfect record throughout the entire competition were Williams, Sargeant had the hitters and the Yale held the lead all the way until the last man of the field in fielding did not defeat Hayden.

Bemis suffered two defeats, one from a rejuvenated Hayden team, the other from Goodale. On April 17, Hayden collecting hits after hits from Bemis won 14-10. After leading at the end of the first inning by ten runs Hayden proceeded to ease up and allow Bemis to come back into the game. Jim Ferson, Paul Gallico's own story, told by Nicky

Prof. Tucker Talks On Job Prospects

Guest speaker at the Combined Professional Societies' meeting yesterday was Professor C. G. Tucker, of the Menlo electrical engineering problems of the engineers. The meeting, which was open to the general public, was held in Room 3-126 at 5:30 P.M.

Prof. Tucker explained the function of the placement bureau, and the way in which they operate to aid the student. Students are responsible for the first step, that of filling out a questionnaire, before the bureau can be of assistance. Companies in need of men inform the bureau of their needs, and the bureau arranges a meeting between company representative and student.

Most in demand at present are graduates of chemical engineering, with power of advanced electrical engineering also much in demand. Graduates with bachelor degrees can expect a starting pay of from $150 to $200 monthly. Professor Tucker reports, with masters de- grees bringing about $20 more. Graduates with a Ph. D. can expect a starting pay of around $300.
