Dr. Jan Masaryk
To Lecture On "Iron Curtain"
Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia Will Speak
Webster Saturday, 8:15 P.M.
Dr. Jan Masaryk, Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia, will speak at Webster Saturday, December 13, at 8:15 P.M. Dr. Masaryk, who is the son of President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, will talk on "Iron Curtain," a subject he is particularly well qualified to discuss, having spent almost his entire life in Russia and other countries behind the Iron Curtain. In his presentation, Dr. Masaryk will be assisted by the Lecture Series Committee and the International Relations Division of the Department of Economics and Social Science. It will be open to the public.

The speaker is in this country at the present time as the leader of Czechoslovakia's delegation to the United Nations General Assembly. Dr. Masaryk is one of the most noted figures in world politics. He is intimately acquainted with the Soviet Union and thoroughly familiar with events in Europe. His foreign policy has been almost to unite the east and the west.

The Lecture Series Committee hopes to handle possible overflow in a good-natured way. If reservations are made for the drop-in lectures at 4:30 P.M. Thursday, this time no provision has been made for the drop-ins of classes at the time of the lecture.

On Thursday, December 17, the Lecture Series Committee is joint sponsor with The Tech Engineering News of two showings of the color movies of the atomic bomb, "The Atomic Bomb," presented by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, author of the book "The Peaceful Uses of the Atomic Bomb." The showings will be at 4:00 P.M. and 5:00 P.M. in Memorial Hall, room 1027. The admission price is 10 cents.

Tryouts For Show To Be Next Week
Coeds, Sec's, Wives Especially Solicited
Tryouts for the Tech musical revue to be presented sometime next week will be held next Thursday, December 17, at 8:00 P.M. to 11:00 P.M. At that time all dramatically interested, even those musically gifted individuals concerned in any way with Institute activities, are invited to appear in the newly formed managing committee.

On Monday, Wednesday, and Friday this week, the committee will be in session at 8:00 P.M. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday will be devoted to auditions at 11:00 P.M. Thursday and Saturday, and the committee will set aside for dramatic specialists.

The actors in the play include: Dr. Karl T. Compton (left), and Mr. Howard C. Petersen (right), who will argue on the Army's plan for compulsory military training. Mr. Petersen's side, is well known for its strong stand on the necessity of compulsory military training.

The show will be presented just as the Army's plan for compulsory military training is being set at the start of the drive. Today, Thursday, the Drive Committee is making an all-out effort to get the drive over the top.

Although breakdowns of Thursday's totals are not available, the breakdown of the Wednesday night show, lists that show members of fraternal orders are leading the other Tech groups in both the percentage of group that have contributed and in the average contribution of each member. 83% of those living in fraternities have contributed a total of $3,354, an average of $31.50 each. One fraternity's members have contributed a total of $31,300, an average of $520 each. The average contribution of $324. The committee's side will argue against the Army's plan for compulsory military training. The show will be presented just as the Army's plan for compulsory military training is being set at the start of the drive. Today, Thursday, the Drive Committee is making an all-out effort to get the drive over the top.

The cause of the drive is one of the most pressing of our time. It is a pressing issue to every Tech student, and Tech students are expected to bring their own music.

Here's Tech—Dormitory Committee Superseizes Broad Activity Programs

As an integral part of the system of student self-government at the Institute, the Dormitory Committee has the responsibility of fostering and regulating activities among the dormitory houses. The committee is organized by the senior houses, and the emergency living quarters are in charge of the college.

The Dormitory Committee is responsible for a number of activities, including but not limited to, organizing various events, maintaining dormitory discipline, and ensuring the well-being of the students. The committee is composed of representatives from each of the senior houses, and the senior house is responsible for selecting the committee members.

The dormitory houses are organized into several sub-committees, each with a specific area of responsibility. These sub-committees include, but are not limited to, the social committee, the athletic committee, and the academic committee. Each sub-committee is responsible for planning and organizing events and activities within its specific area.

In addition to these sub-committees, the Dormitory Committee also organizes several events throughout the year. These events include dormitory socials, dormitory sports, and dormitory dances. The committee is responsible for ensuring that these events are safe, enjoyable, and educational.

The Dormitory Committee is also responsible for maintaining dormitory discipline. This includes enforcing rules and regulations, addressing complaints from students, and ensuring that the dormitory houses are well-maintained.

In conclusion, the Dormitory Committee plays a crucial role in the self-government of the Institute. It is responsible for fostering a healthy and enjoyable living environment for the students, and its efforts are essential to the overall success of the Institute.

Gingham and patches, bonnets and wigs, straw hats and mascara wrinkles played a convincing part in the rural costume party at Texas State College for Women at Denton. With 66 ears in two minutes Dorothy Goebels and Louise Crane defeated 2,600 other girls in the ninth annual Huskin' Bee.

That old school spirit comes to life as the cheering squad at Alabama State College for Women gets the gang together around an open fire for "College Night."

Rhode Island Frosh Frolic

Freshmen at Rhode Island State College must spend one day a year entertaining upperclass members. Costumes vary from fashions to fads as each frosh tries to surpass her classmates. Above a lovely coed struts her stuff in a sleek raven velvet. At right the mood is more fun than fashion and ranges from bags to black face. But no matter how exciting the event, there is always time for refreshments.
FLYING FAMILY

Attractive 18-year-old Nancy Spencer, Pennsylvania State College sophomore, got off to a flying start with several solo flight hours to her credit and is scheduled to receive her license soon. Not to be outdone by his daughter, Herbert L. Spencer, president of Bucknell University, started taking lessons in his Piper Cub. He now makes his business trips by air whenever possible.

The question, "Will he make that kick?" stands out on the faces of graders and coach alike as members of the Southeast Missouri State College football team of Cape Girardeau wait for the ever important point after touchdown.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

In the issue of The Tech dated November 13, you published, under the heading of "Student Union," a letter advocating the installation of pay toilets in the restrooms of the various dormitories of our revered Institute. Gentlemen, such a proposal is not feasible in any argument advocating the replacement of democratic institutions as is at once breathtakingly real if one considers the present day economic condition, as it is, everywhere, and one finds that the item "litter bug" in prevalence is due to our general horror we find the youth of the country. What is even worse is the term as a "perren before a pay toilet with only four cents in his pocket."

Gentlemen, the doors on pay toilets extend to the floor.

In careful examination of the Bill of Rights we find that each person has "certain inalienable rights" and that these include "life, liberty, and pursue of happiness." Since all people are happy when relieved of grief, worry, or pain, it is at once apparent that every citizen of the country, granted, constitutionally, the right to relieve himself. Nevertheless, the pay toilet of today places a certain premium on the "pocket." Gentlemen, this is a grievance of national water, and any effort often been a pleasing problem in the past. The Tech should vigorously prosecute a complete campaign against pay toilets.

In closing, gentlemen, I wish you good night and continue the policy that you do not forget a common excrent abuse—the penny paper clip.

Sailing Season Brought To Close With Tech Boating 2 Trophies

The Tech was recently awarded second in the annual Invitational Regatta held at the Brown University Yacht Club at Providence on November 3. On October 20, the Varsity sailors finished second in the final Invitational Regatta hosted by the Regatta at New London, Captained by Steve King. When they defended the Danmark Trophy, the sailing team was in sixth place at the end of the first race.

Beaten By Two Points

The Yale sailors defeated the Tech by a score of 4 to 2 for the second-best in the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association annual fall regatta, and also pulled up in second-place when they captured the Danmark Trophy. The competition for the Tech Trophy was from the Techmen in sixth place at the end of the first race.

Professor Keith Dies Suddenly

Professor Keith began his association with Technology in 1911 as a student and graduate in 1916. Five years later, he was appointed as an instructor and subsequently assistant professor. His World War I service as lieutenant-commander briefly interrupted his teaching career. Returning to the Institute after the war, Prof. Keith was made associate professor in 1922, and six years later became a full professor. In 1927, he succeeded Professor James H. Jack as head of the department of Electrical Engineering.

Besides his work at the Institute, Professor Keith was consultant for the Foss River plant of Bethlehem Steel at Quincy, where he planned the installation of the power plant of the carrier Leningrad and the technology for the construction of the ship.* Keith had been widely known as an authority on the power of ships.

Magoun Concludes Marriage Series

Professor F. Alexander Magoun's fall series of four lectures on the topic of "Marriage" was concluded on Thursday, December 5. Professor Magoun discussed various forms of extramarital sex expressions, including masturbation, homosexuality, prostitution, and free love. In each case the problem was discussed from the viewpoint of its effect upon the character and personality of the individual, rather than upon the moral or social aspects.

Outing Club Plans Mt. Climbing, Hiking, Biking

Mountaineers of the M.I.T.O.C. are invading the Mon- tagnon Mountain region this weekend, December 7th. All those that have signed up will meet at the club office in Walker Memorial at 12:00 Noon, Saturday, December 7. Transportation will be by car. The Outing Club plans all those who participate to contact the others since the number who can attend the outing is now limited by a shortage of cars. Alas, the Club suggests that participants be prepared for cold weather. Nightly the party will attend Ralph Page's Square Dance.

On Sunday, December 9, a group will head for the Lynn Woods. Hikers will meet at Walker steps at 2:30 P.M. Sunday, and hikers will meet at Park Street Under at 6:00 P.M. Sunday.

Although no definite plans have been made yet as to the M.I.T.O.C. to sponsoring a Ski Carnival for the coming season, Donald W. Murphy, '47, has resigned his position as trips director to accept the position of M.I.T.O.C. Winter Carnival Director. It is hoped that this trip the Ski Carnival will expand until it is in the class of Dartmouth and Middlebury Winter Carnival.
