Compton Gives Promotions To 9 Professors

Forty-five Members of Institute Faculty Receive Advancements

The annual list of promotions on the staff of the Institute have been announced by President Karl T. Compton. Nine faculty members were included on the list.

Promoted to the rank of full professor, with tenure and increase in salary, were: Dr. J. David McGrew, Harold E. Edgerton, William C. Motz, Dr. Ernest A. Haecker, Dr. John A. Holmes, Dr. Wilfrid Hurewitz, Dr. Arthur T. 1uppen, Dr. Robert M. McIver, and Dr. Alfred H. 1. For the Friday dance will be given Saturday, May 1, in order to facilitate the final preparations for Open House.

The ground-breaking ceremonies were attended by President Compton, President of the Institute, Mr. Charles E. Page, President of the Hardy Foundation, and many other representatives of the Institute faculty. A model of the library was viewed by the guests, and a brief address was made by the Chairman of the Board of Visitors.

The building will be constructed around a central paved and landscaped court or garden. On the west, the court will be bounded by the Charles River. In addition to its basic purpose as a center of research on foreign policy, it will also include a crew race on the Charles River. The guides will serve to the public. In the March 23rd issue of The Tech, a letter was printed which had been written by the Provincial Secretary of the society. The letter was signed with the name of a member who had been expelled from the society, but in the March 30th issue of The Tech, the letter was printed again, this time under the name of another member who had been expelled. This was a violation of the rules of the society, and the member who had been expelled complained to the provincial secretary, asking that the letter be reprinted under the proper name. The provincial secretary agreed, and the letter was reprinted under the correct name. The member was satisfied with this, and no further action was taken.

A student in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has been expelled from the school for violating the rules of the society. The student had been a member of the society for several years, but had been expelled for a violation of the rules. The student had been expelled from the society in the past, but had been re-admitted after a period of time. The student had been expelled again for the same violation, and this time the expulsion was permanent.

The student had been involved in a controversy with the society, and had been expelled for participating in the controversy. The student had been a member of the society for several years, and had been involved in many debates and discussions. The student had been a leader in the society, and had been involved in many important decisions. The student had been expelled for participating in the controversy, and the society had been forced to take action.

Is it?

It was not until they arrived near the finish line of the race that they realized they had won the marathon.

Fifer... is that should be Ruppert quality. Higher, smoother, infinitely more satisfying.

Fifer... for a definite reason. Fine beer takes time...needs slow-aging to give superb flavor. And, Ruppert is always slow-aged...slow-outlaid for better taste.

Fifer...by far...is what you'll call Ruppert when you're in hot company and have a lot of fun.

...because it's slow-aged!

Lacrossemen Lose Close Practice Tilt

Boston Lacrosse Club members pulled out a 4-3 decision over the Beaver squad last Saturday at Briggs Field, during a forty-five minute practice scrimmage in which the M.T.L. team held a 3-1 after half an hour of play. Captain Tom Menden led the starting line-up of Allegretti, Reynolds, Toohy, Boyden and Adams to an early lead. Though Coach Don Martin would have toiled at a scholastic team compared favorably to Harvard. "We are in excellent condition," the Beaver squad compared favorably with the Harvard. Most of the team saw action at some time during the game.

This afternoon at 3:00 p.m., the Harvard lacrosse team will meet Tech in a practice scrimmage on Briggs Field, for the Beaver's second practice scrimmage of the season.

Shell Blown Into River In Launching Saturday

Crew Follows Into Drink

Only three days prior to the christening of a new shell for the Tech crew, a lightweight shell was damaged while being launched. Saturday afternoon at the Crew House, a new shell for the Tech crew, named "Stuffy," was placed in the water. Mr. Harold E. Lobdell, chairman of the Loan Fund Board, will christen the new vessel. Bob Chernoff, chairman of the Loan Fund Board, will christen the new vessel.

Wallace Committee To Adopt Platform

The Committee for Wallace, an independent school organization, will hold a meeting in Room 2-100 this afternoon at 5:00 p.m. The purpose of the meeting will be to adopt a platform and a full discussion will be open to members although anyone interested is invited.

Mr. Wallace was one of the speakers at the founding convention of the Progressive Party which was held at the Hotel Bradford last Sunday. Wallace spoke to 2900 delegates representing labor, fraternal, and religious groups. In addition to Mr. Wallace, Mr. Fitzgerald, head of the U.E.W.-C.I.O. also spoke.

The main purpose of the convention was the adoption of a political platform and the election of party officers. Attending the convention were students from every major college in Massachusetts.

Next weekend the students for Wallace will organize nationally at a meeting in Chicago. Technology Students will co-operate with other Cambridge schools in sending delegates.

on Physical Electromics, which showed no signs of breaking up.

A quick investigation disclosed that neither the Information Office, the News Office, the Schedules Office, nor the Athletic Association knew anything at all about the alleged baseball movies. When confronted by this rather convincing evidence, we began to suspect that perhaps we had been the victims of a giant hoax.

However, this wasn't the end of the story. Mr. Geiger, the Athletic Director, subsequently disclosed that he had unintentionally been party to the hoax. Having seen the original sign and taken it at face value, Mr. Geiger, being a helpful fellow, proceeded to post another sign outside the A.A. Office, to the same effect as the first one. This necessitated a retraction over WMIT the same evening, and despite our precautions the perpetra- tors of the foul deed no end of merriment. They are probably still laughing over the gullibility of Techmen.

of limestone, Mr. Kimball said, he would be the impression that limestone gets slippery when it gets wet.

Then Mr. Kimball called some secretary and asked her what the rail cost and she knew. It cost eleven dollars.

We gulped at that and asked Mr. Kimball if that figure was in line with Dr. Compton's call for budget economy? Oh, Mr. Kimball said, this rail was planned over a year ago and anyway it was authorized by the corporation. We got the impression that the corporation knew what it was doing.

And oh, yes, a friend of ours told us that a couple of his friends had a grand time the other night, sliding down the railing. The night porter quickly chased them away.
