Two of the Stear Players are shown here in a scene from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" which opened last night in Huntington Hall. The actors are caracteres from all of these said by the play to effect small moments of scenery.

War With United States Not Wanted By Chinese States Ex-Vice Consul

"Communist China's leaders do not want war with the United States--their interior problems are too immense," said Dr. John L. Rawlinson, former Vice Consul in Teesin, China, in a talk before the Young Republican Club and guests. They are willing to take a "hit" of Chinese which might precipitate war, he continued, because they know that they have the full support of the Soviet Union.

Since 1844 China has been torn with immense problems. Poor distribution of land, overpopulation, and property losses are used to offset the full support of the Soviet Union.

Eastgate Employment Offers 12 Student Jobs

Two of the Stear Players are shown here in a scene from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" which opened last night in Huntington Hall in the FAmst Signal Corps Photographic Center.

Two of the Stear Players are shown here in a scene from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" which opened last night in Huntington Hall in the FAmst Signal Corps Photographic Center.
FACULTY RECOMMENDATIONS

We were somewhat surprised last week when in a conversation with one of the Institute’s Deans we learned that both graduate schools and industrial concerns throughout the country seem to be placing increasing emphasis on the importance of letters of recommendation written by faculty members. These letters have always been one of the three major factors affecting the decisions of directors of admissions and prospective employers, the others being scholastic rating and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Every year a great many Seniors are dismayed when asked to list “M.I.T. References” on their placement sheets. They feel that no one on the faculty knows them well enough to warrant a letter of recommendation. While at first it might appear that the faculty is too busy to take advantage of the particular interests of the individual, past year, and although many suggested solutions have been proposed, it is hoped that the Institute faculty would be able to get to know his students, than for them to spend an evening time for class discussion, even if it means some sacrifice of the total coverage of the course.

While at first it might appear that the faculty is too busy with research or suffers under too heavy a teaching load to take the desired interest in the average student, this is not born out by the facts. Actual sponsorship of projects takes up only seven per cent of most of our instructors’ time.

Finding the best means of bringing about a student-faculty relationship in which the faculty member would be able to form a fair and accurate opinion of the student is a problem which has received a great deal of attention here during the past year, and although many suggested solutions have been offered the situation does not seem to be much improved. More active student participation in classroom work, so that the instructor could find out what type of person the student is as well as his knowledge of the subject under discussion, would be the first step. Certainly, if it were acted on in an informal basis, preferably in a seminar room, would be highly desirable. A course in atomic physics is as fully conducive to informal discussion as any honors course.

We should be drawn up with enough flexibility so as to allow ample time for class discussion, even if it means some sacrifice of the total coverage of the course.

There is no better way for a member of the faculty to get to know his students, than for him to spend an evening talking about anything but schoolwork.
Everett Moore Baker was born in 1901, the son of George D. and Helen Macdonald. He graduated from the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Directors of the Cleveland College in 1948-1949. His achievements were influenced for good, often unconsciously. He never in my experience have I known of a man who made such a profound contribution to the life of a college community in so short a time as did our late Dean of Students, Everett M. Baker. In his three years of service to the students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he came to a time shortly after the war, when undergraduate activities and traditions were being reestablished. He brought a zeal for a richer and more effective life of individuals and of the social group to which they belong—all tempered by a sympathetic understanding of young people and their problems. He was a rare combination of spiritual leader and practical personal friend. Though his time with us was tragically cut short, his influence on the character of this institution and on the lives of its students will always be with us.

Dean Baker was always prompted by strongly held ideals and hopes for international understanding and for the brotherhood of man. These ideals and hopes were expressions of his deep preoccupation with the central importance of the individual and with those human values which contribute toward making the individual a better citizen and a better human being.

Here in this community we shall always remember him as a resolute protagonist of every activity that subordinates the individual to a system or that places material values above human values. We shall remember him as the resolute protagonist of the students of this institution. He lost no opportunity to promote the welfare or to be of help to them. A student with a personal problem had top priority on his time. He never hesitated to break a rule when the rule appeared to promote their welfare or to be of service to them. A student with a personal problem had top priority on his time. He never hesitated to break a rule when the rule appeared to promote their welfare or to be of service to them.

In his writings, speeches, and letters, his personal words will continue to be influential for good, often unconsciously. His legacy is essential to an educational institution, that they help to make a community or a school that feels that its activities have significance and permanence.

JAMES R. KILLIAN, JR.

Everett Moore Baker was a man of the League of Nations Association and served on the Editorial Board of "The Christian Register." He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Cleveland College in 1948-1949. His achievements were influenced for good, often unconsciously. He never in my experience have I known of a man who made such a profound contribution to the life of a college community in so short a time as did our late Dean of Students, Everett M. Baker. In his three years of service to the students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he came to a time shortly after the war, when undergraduate activities and traditions were being reestablished. He brought a zeal for a richer and more effective life of individuals and of the social group to which they belong—all tempered by a sympathetic understanding of young people and their problems. He was a rare combination of spiritual leader and practical personal friend. Though his time with us was tragically cut short, his influence on the character of this institution and on the lives of its students will always be with us.

JAMES R. KILLIAN, JR.

Dean Baker was always prompted by strongly held ideals and hopes for international understanding and for the brotherhood of man. These ideals and hopes were expressions of his deep preoccupation with the central importance of the individual and with those human values which contribute toward making the individual a better citizen and a better human being.

Here in this community we shall always remember him as a resolute protagonist of every activity that subordinates the individual to a system or that places material values above human values. We shall remember him as the resolute protagonist of the students of this institution. He lost no opportunity to promote the welfare or to be of help to them. A student with a personal problem had top priority on his time. He never hesitated to break a rule when the rule appeared to promote their welfare or to be of service to them.

In his writings, speeches, and letters, his personal words will continue to be influential for good, often unconsciously. His legacy is essential to an educational institution, that they help to make a community or a school that feels that its activities have significance and permanence.

JAMES R. KILLIAN, JR.
Steering Committee Now Guides Actions Of Baker Memorial

Soon after Dean Baker's sudden death last June 17th, and recent graduates inspired by his memory, a student group was formed which eventually became the Everett Moore Baker Memorial Foundation.

...Continued from Page 9

We, the students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, do hereby establish the Everett Moore Baker Memorial Foundation. It shall serve as an instrument for advancing his ideals and objectives. The purposes of the Foundation shall be, implemented by a student committee approved by the student body, as follows:...

Biography

Dr. Baker was a member of the American Arbitration Association, the Board of Directors of the Railroad Labor Board, the Contra-

3. The expansion of on-campus facilities, including the acquisition of Riverside which he strongly advocated for.

4. The development of the International Association, the reorganization efforts of Tech Show and M.I.T. fraternities and strengthen-

5. Invaluable encouragement to publication of several book-length manuscripts in the by-laws...
I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

I will be able to find additional electives in accordance with the humanities. Undergraduate Policy in the fall. The Humanities Program---

"No Formal Complaints...

in comfortable

Arrow Formal Shirts

No struggle to go formal when you have Arrow dress shirts. They're specially designed to fit your body to make you "Shoeless" and "Mayfair" at important and now at your favorite Arrow dealer's.

--60 up

ARROW SHIRTS & TIES

- HANDKERCHIEFS - SPORTSHACKS

Make Your Selection of ARROW SHIRTS, UNDERWEAR, TIES and HANDKERCHIEFS at the Technology Store

College means campus, and "THE CAMPUS" means Harvard. Here's a few suggestions:

1. For a Harvard course in "How to Look like a Harvard man", try our popular blue flannel, deep blue jacket with center pleat and printed pocket with brown letters of "THE CAMPUS" and brown woolen, 42.95, 44.95.

2. For an "intimate" approach to a Harvard social, try our exclusive clothing, scarves, cummerbunds and cummerbund ties---the best tradition of "THE CAMPUS".

Howard Style "THE CAMPUS"

Best for you College Men

Priced-

$8.00 to $10.00 Daily

for Beginners. Conti-

On Sunset

4-mile Downhill Trail

4,000 Foot T-Bar Lift

Expert. Free use of

all from Novice to I

$8.00 to $10.00 Daily

for Beginners. Conti-

On Sunset

4-mile Downhill Trail

4,000 Foot T-Bar Lift

Expert. Free use of

all from Novice to I

$8.00 to $10.00 Daily

for Beginners. Conti-

On Sunset

4-mile Downhill Trail

4,000 Foot T-Bar Lift

Expert. Free use of

all from Novice to I

$8.00 to $10.00 Daily

for Beginners. Conti-
Eastgate
(Continued from Page 1)
work by the boys is satisfactory and that relations between them and residents are diplomatic and cordial. Mr. Delmer, another supervisor, also reports favorably on the work plan.

Enterprised Self-Help Program
The students’ reaction is also encouraging. Those men interviewed found the work efficient and the management congenial, and enjoyed meeting boys from another school. They have also purchased a tidy sum in tenants’ tips.

Student employment at Eastgate is the second major enlargement of extracurricular opportunities this term. A crew of Riverside Dormitory residents has been doing housekeeping work in that building since September. With dining hall work at Walker and Baker Houses, these plans bring to fruition the overall program of employment envisaged by Mr. William Cratiss, Assistant Manager of the Dining Services, and other administration officials.

Dorm Doings
(Continued from Page 8)
so far. Another Dorm team that looks very good is the Senior House with Cliff Herdman leading the way. It is undefeated in League 6. This season in intercollegiate sports, being at the moment led by the Harvard Football, is gratifying to many in Dormitory circles. We hope that it will continue to give us good Dormitory competitors after so many years of relative dormancy.

NOTICES

Hillil Society
Dr. Ralph Yarrow, Professor of Hellenistic Culture at the University of Chicago, will speak on Hellenism and Helenism* at the Harvard, Radcliffe, N.I. Hillil Foundation, 505 Mass. Ave., on Sunday evening, December 31 at 8:00 p.m.

WMBI Schedule
Monday thru Thursday 1-7:00 p.m. - Placement news
Friday at 7:45 p.m. - Harvard basketball games

READ & WHITE
MIN’S NEW TUCKEDOS
Formal
Clothes
Aeased
111 Summer St., Boston

for your next test in dorm labs.
"It looks like we quite alike; the only way you know we’re the same is that Lucky Strike!"

"I know, I know, I know.
"You look the same, same, same, same, same, same, same, same, same, same...

by Michael
Westminster University

Enjoy your cigarette! Enjoy truly fine tobacco that combines both perfect mildness and rich taste in one great cigarette - Lucky Strike!

Perfect mildness? You bet! Scientific tests, confirmed by three independent consulting laboratories, prove that Lucky Strike is milder than any other principal brand. Rich taste? Yes, the full, rich taste of truly fine tobacco.

Only five tobacco gives you both real mildness and rich taste. And Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. So enjoy the happy blending that combines perfect mildness with a rich, true tobacco taste. Be Happy - Go Lucky!

by James G. Arthur
Virginia Polytechnic Institute

Lucky Strike

Enjoy the American Tobacco Company

"I know, I know, I know. You look the same, same, same, same, same, same, same, same, same, same...

Be Happy - Go Lucky!!

Copies of the Examination Schedule will be available in the Information Office, Room 7-111, about Dec. 18. Extract from Catalogue, p. 39: "Each student is held responsible for obtaining an examination schedule at the Information Office, Room 7-111; for attending the final examinations required in the subjects for which he is registered; and for reporting any conflicts in his examinations before the time limit given on the examination schedule."