Month Of April To Be Test For New Open House Rules

Dr. Dana Parfarnosh, dean of students, told a Dormitory Committee group last week that dorms were looking into the new Open House Rules. If the new system is successful it will be extended to all of the dwellings by the College.

New Lab Will Have Automatic Elevators
Two high speed automatic passenger elevators will be installed in the new Mechanical Engineering Laboratory by next March. It was announced by Professor Law- rence W. Plunkett, chairman of the department.

Other recreational activities included Mark Brown, Edward Benson, and Ben Bock, who had the good fortune to catch the last week of May. They maintained that one month would not be long enough for dorm residents to adjust themselves to the new regulations and enforcement system.

Parfarnosh said that dorms were given the freedom to experiment with the new rules and enforcement. He said that if dorm residents came from family members who lived at home, they could be left.

Parfarnosh assured the Committee that the Institute would not be too strict in enforcing the new rules and regulations. It was important that dorms be encouraged to experiment with the new rules and regulations.

Parfarnosh called dorm students who are interested in their neighbors' and the dorm residents' well-being.

In the near future the Dormitory Committee will pass a five-page regulation that deals with the rules and regulations of the dormitories. The regulation, called the "dorm regulations," has been written up for the dormitory rules. The regulation is designed to give the dormitory residents a sense of security and to encourage them to be more responsible.

The appointment of Dr. Macmillan as professor of electrical engineering was announced last week by Dr. Thomas K. C. S. Whipple, chairman of the department.

Nuclear Engineer Named New Prof.
The appointment of Dr. Macmillan as professor of electrical engineering was announced last week by Dr. Thomas K. C. S. Whipple, chairman of the department.

The new device, of which an assembly is now being built and tested at the Institute, consists of a million tiny cells arranged in ordered rows in a small box. For example, "the cube might be 22 cells long, 22 wide, and 22 high," Dr. Macmillan said. Also, the engineering studies being carried on for the A.D. are important.

THE TECH

NOBODY ASKED ME BUT . . .

By GLI STEINBERG

Well, here we are again, hourly and late, even after a vacation. Seems as if it’s a policy of the sports department that the sports editor has to risk what little reputation he has by predicating the September Major League standings in April. Far be it from me to besmirch an old tradition, therefore I present the following listings, clip this attached coupon and I will send you a grain of salt, postpaid.

American League

Boston Red Sox

New York Giants

Brooklyn Dodgers

St. Louis Cardinals

Philadelphia Phillies

Pittsburgh Pirates

Chicago Cubs

Cincinnati Reds

St. Louis Browns

If any one has any comment on these predictions he can find me quietly munching the Great Court grass any evening at six.

Cheerios and zip pops will float down the fragrant Charles River on April 19 when the Cambridge crew (England of course) meets the Harvard, Boston University and an unnamed small school aggregation from down the river a piece. It should be a jolly fine sporting contest. Bring your girls, your guys, your binoculars, and your stopwatch and watch the British boys try to justify the Marshall Plan.

The official schedule is as follows:

April 14--M.I.T., Harvard--Tentative plans are being made to send the Light Varsity to race Yale on the 16th of April. Nothing definite has been decided as yet due to lack of funds. However, this would be an excellent idea for the school’s benefit as well as the crew’s. The light varsity hasn’t raced away in several years.

Committees members expressed the opinion that the first few violators will probably receive the maximum punishment—rejection from the homes—to serve as examples.

Strange teams, boats, and entries. The weather allowed them no practice runs at all and their sailing improvement led their opponents to believe that with practice they would have had a real fight on their hands.
