French Art Work Is To Be Featured In Library Exhibit by STEPHEN ELMERT

Passers-by on their way to English and History libraries will probably remarked the uncharacteristic and stacking of large paint- ing, models, and various other objects in the Exhibition Gallery, and wondered what in the way of exhibitions was next to gratify their artistic aspirations.

The truth is that they will have seen the works of several well-known French artists when the exhibition marking the 2000th anniversary of the founding of Rome begins on Monday. Antoine Bourdelle, Chapil, Rose, and Fernand Leger have already brought the colors, and sculptures by these artists are part of the collection of exhibits.

2000th Anniversary

The exhibition is sponsored by three organizations, in collaboration with the markets marking the 2000th anniversary of the founding of Rome, beginning on Monday. Antoine Bourdelle, Chapil, Rose, and Fernand Leger have already brought the colors, and sculptures by these artists are part of the collection of exhibits.

Equality of Sacrifice Needed

All shall we preserve our liberties at home and abroad, the subject of a lecture to be given by Charles W. Wyckoff, Jr., U. S. District Judge of Massachusetts. The talk is sponsored by the Lecture Series Committee and the School of Humanity. The lecture series will begin on October 21, 1952 at 1 p.m., in Room 1045.

Common Rooms Provide For Formal Or Informal Meetings

In order to provide the students with a place not just a formal education, many of the departments here at the Institute have set aside a fund set up in 1927 by Mrs. Moore, a Former of Chemistry here at the Institute. The fund is for the use of the various members of the faculty, students, and visitors who use the facilities. These rooms are used ranges from very informal to formal, and each room is a little different from the others.

The deadline for receipt of applications for the Undergraduate Activities Ball and $200 reserve for the activities which is re-approved last year. This includes only participations expenses in athletics, and does not include coaches' salaries, new athletic equipment, or buildings for activities. Budgets for paper activities are all under $1,000 except for Technique which is for $2,656. This increase is due to payments of 7% of last year's Technique budget, for space purchased by the Institute for the undergraduate activities and is not to be granted to Technique for its own projects.

Light to Raw River

The Charles River will be the focus of the outdoors' event at the B.S.C. There will be no continuous races. Harvard, Princeton, Yale, Cornell, Dartmouth, and Columbia.

The proceedings will leave under way for the distance 1:30 p.m. at 2:40 with the Franklin motor. At 2:30 and the J.V. will take over and 4:20 the light river will battle it out. The Tefskin, after the two weeks of intensive training that Zim Medalist has given them, here also done some heavy improving. So things look pretty good all around.

The budget approved for last year includes $49,600, an increase of $4,972 over last year's grant; for Activities, $3,939, a decrease of $422 from last year; for Incomes, $27,234, a decrease of $202 from last year; and for Tuition, $20,000, a decrease of $1,700. In the special appropriations are $500 for the Arts, and $500 for the Undergraduate Union.

The total budget for Activities, $40,673, is 4% over last year's budget of $28,811. This increase is due to payments of 7% of last year's Technique budget, for space purchased by the Institute for the undergraduate activities and is not to be granted to Technique for its own projects.

GOOD PUBLIC RELATIONS

The important part that public relations plays in the presentation and acceptance of any policy was demonstrated by the discussion that has taken place during the last few weeks over the student body's interest in the Campus's Proposal on Campus Living.

Those who drafted the Proposal should have realized that it would be greeted with apprehension by the student body. The same service and the same program, besides the copy posted at Baker House, serve to point this out. For example, it was sheer folly on the administration's part to include in one document the idea of handling public relations poorly, making telephone service, as well as a plan for requiring all freshmen to live on campus. It has taken every effort to prove the student body wrong.

There have been other cases where the administration has handled public relations poorly. By not posting a detailed report of why it was necessary to raise food prices in dining halls, the president has not have the time or opportunity to present all the facts. For example, anyone who stops to eat, that the new prices are too high, and that the administration makes every effort to obtain a really good head chef.

Likewise, the administration should present its reasons for requiring dormitories to pay for themselves, and for considering them as a whole as far as finances are concerned, rather than taking each unit separately. The preparation of a plan for requiring all freshmen to live on campus was advocated by Dean Baker three years ago, and that it was not included as a plan for requiring all freshmen to live on campus.

President Fitch said, at the last school year is coming to a close, that the next year's campus residents should not be greeted with apprehension by the student body.

LIGHT IN GALLERY

The Memorial Gallery at Hayden Library may undergo a change if seems to diminish the amount of light streaming through the small window is put to use. As the situation stands at present, the window faces the full glare of the low western sun in the afternoon; it is a cause of inconvenience to visitors and a source of danger to those exhibits which for lack of space have to be placed near it. The alteration would be fairly costly and execution still has to receive official sanction.
Survey Of Colleges Shows Strict Open House Rules

At a recent conference in St. Louis, Assistant Dean T. T. Ilnin, president of the Institute, questioned the desirability of several colleges on the subject of Open House Rules. Of the ten colleges he collected information on, only one, Cal. Tech, had more liberal rules than M.I.T. and Dartmouth.

At Oberlin, Antioch, Northwestern,
Texas Tech, and Antioch girls were entertained in lounges only, and in Cal. Tech only at certain hours or special occasions. At the University of Illinois girls may not enter the dormitories beyond the hour assigned.

After Hours Only

Ilnin said there are no lounges and little entertainment in rooms only after football games. No liquor is allowed in residence halls in Illinois, and probably at some of the others.

Dartmouth has open house every night until 11 p.m. and weekends until 11 p.m. The students govern the privileges of

Proposals Made To Counteract A Continued Dormitory Deficit

The Dormitory Committee has made proposals to meet the deficit in the dormitory budget. The most important of these is the setting up of a section of Rivertone as an economy dormitory.

There would be no porter service in the rooms, but porter service would continue in these rooms. In addition, students would be required to use a fines system to pay for damage to rooms and equipment. The Dormitory Committee would be responsible for the rooms and equipment.

Continued Surveillance of Services

It is further suggested that the administration investigate maintenance, porter, and linen services to determine if there are any economies with a view towards reducing the cost of these services. The proposed rent schedule could be maintained except for the economy dormitory.

Dorm service would be maintained with reductions in personnel and services.

Ever Hold Hands Like These?
They're not soft and warm, these hands. They're hard and cool—and mechanical. They work at the Oak Ridge atomic energy plant, preparing radioactive isotopes for shipment to Bell Telephone Laboratories and to other research centers. These isotopes—which serve as tracers—are used by Bell scientists to study the materials that go into the telephone system. Our research men, working with Celotex counters, are able to detect wear or delay, defects, in metals, the penetration of preservatives in wood.

New research tool helps us to learn more in less time, helps us to make telephone equipment even more rugged and dependable. That's especially important now when the Nation relies on the telephone to help get things done.
