Million Dollar Research Grant Awarded
For International Studies At Institute;
Ford Foundation Endows New Center

Two major grants amounting to $1,000,000 by The Ford Foundation for the establishment of a new dedicated Center for International Studies were announced on Sept. 27 by President Killian.

The new Ford Foundation Center for International Studies, and arrangements with The Ford Foundation for its generous support, were announced by President Killian, and have been hailed for the sound and imaginative guidance of Dr. Julius A. Stratton, President, and influence or determination of President Mitro- khan, Professor of Economics, who is Director of the Center. The presence of the Center marks an increased attention at M.I.T. to the economic and social implications of science and technology both at home and abroad.

The program of the Center is interdepartmental in character. It affords opportunities for research in the Departments of Economics and Social Science and History and Government, and others at many points upon the individual interests of Faculty members. The emphasis will be upon basic academic interest and in large part directed towards the important problems facing the country.

The Center has a very open outlook regarding the activities of M.I.T. and the academic community of Metropolitan Boston. It is conceived that researchers of interest from a wider range of areas and of experience and background, and with other institutions conducting parallel research, may work in the Ford Foundation Center.

Research in Human Conduct Factors

The grants were made by The Ford Foundation under a mandate of the Trustee to support, as part of its endeavors, any and all ideas designed to increase knowledge of individuals and groups in society, and to extend each through the medium of the maximum benefit of individuals and of society.

The funds will enable the Center to establish a series of seminars and to conduct a study of international communications. The Foundation especially under this program, the Center will study the nature of communication channels and the different kinds of people in foreign countries, the channelization of ideas that reach various kinds of people and how and what the press, attention will be focused on and the importance of the press, attention will be focused on and the importance of the press, attention will be focused on and the importance of the press.

(Continued on Page 1)

English Department Plans New Course
In News Writing

A new course in News Writing, to be given in the Spring Semester, has been announced by the English Department. It will be an elective course with two hours in the classroom, and two in the laboratory. The course is open to any student interested in writing for publication. Requirements for the course will not be substituted for a regular English course. Students interested in the course will be urged to register early to reserve a place.

The course will be conducted by Edward S. Davis, Assistant Professor of English, and a member of the Journalism Department.

The course will cover the fundamentals of news writing, including facts and figures, how to write a story, and how to prepare a column. The students will be expected to write a minimum of four stories per week.

The course will be open to all students, regardless of major. However, it is recommended that students interested in the course register before the end of the semester.

The course will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2:00 to 3:30 in room 102 of the English Building.
The Tech
Tuesday, September 30, 1953

Page Two

The Lounger

Unification of their class against Sophomore rivals has been marked by apparent restraint on the part of this year’s Freshman Class. They have shown a marked appreciation of the value of demonstrating a rallying spirit. Perhaps this is due to a feeling that there is strength in numbers. If they are under this impression they are in for a surprise come Field Day and the Glove Fight. Last year’s fresh fight was excellent. Perhaps, however, there is the fear that the Administration will apply the "Major premise" to any rally the Freshmen might stage.

This ruling was distributed to all freshmen and declared that mere presence at any unapproved demonstration will be considered prima facie evidence of guilt. Harvard too has a similar ruling which would illustrate their respective positions. The latter included such words as "inconsiderate, disorderly, purposes, trea-

The College Press

By Sheldon Dick, ’54

English words and “direct” meanings

In Chicago 400 college trained applicants for High School teaching posts put on their questionnaires on an English examination. They were asked to use a given list of words in sentences which would illustrate their respective meanings. The list included such words as “incoherent, dictionary, purposes, trea-

CALENDER OF EVENTS

OCTOBER 1 TO OCTOBER 7, 1952

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1

Electrical Engineering Department. Colloquium: "What Every Young Engineer Should Know," Professor E. A. Gulleneim, Room 6-129, 5:00 p.m. Refreshments at 4:30 p.m. in Room 6-321.

Geology Club. Social Meeting. Room 2-290, 5:00 p.m. New members are welcome.

Mathematics Society. Lecture. "Group Theory." Professor George B. Thomas, Jr. Room 4-376, 5:00 p.m.

Staff Players of M.I.T. Supper Meeting and Play Reading. Faculty Dining Hall, 6:30 p.m.

Concert Band, Rehearsal. Walker Memorial, 7:00 p.m. New members are welcome.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2

Mechanical Engineering Department, Seminar: "Adhesion and Friction." Dr. P. F. Bowden, University of Cambridge, England. Professor G. B. Soderberg, Room 6-290, 4:30 p.m. Office from 3:00-4:30 p.m. in Room 3-171.

Glee Club, Rehearsal. Room 2-190, 5:00 p.m.

Lecture Series Committee. Film. "State Fair." Room 1-190, 7:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Admission 25c.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3

Lecture Series Committee. Lecture. "Great Scenes from Great Plays." Blanche Turka, actress, Room 16-250, 5:00 p.m.

Science Fiction Committee. Lecture. "The American Medical Association," Professor L. Sherwood, Room 6-290, 5:00 p.m. Refreshments at 4:30 p.m. All are welcome.

Informal Dance Committee. Freshman Acquaintance Dance. Morse Hall, 6:00 p.m.-12 midnight.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 6

American Society of Mechanical Engineers—Student Chapter. Lecture. "Mechanical Engineering Industry," Professor C. R. Soderberg, Room 1-190, 5:00 p.m.

Symphony Orchestra. Rehearsal. Memorial, 7:30 p.m.

Christian Science Organization. Lecture by Mr. William Stringer, Editor in Foreign News Division, Christian Science Monitor. Room 6-321, 5:00 p.m.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 7

Glee Club, Rehearsal. Room 2-190, 5:00 p.m.

Lecture Series Committee. Lecture. "The American Medical Association and Social Medicine." Dr. J. H. Means and Dr. Leland McIntire, Room 16-250, 5:00 p.m.

Choral Society, Rehearsal. North 2-490, 7:30 p.m.

FULLRIGH SCHOLARSHIPS

A discussion for Fullrigh apprentices will be held in Room 14E-310 at 5:00 p.m., Thursday, October 2. Applications for 1953-54 Fullrigh scholarships should be made in Room 5-108, by Monday, October 6.

EXHIBITIONS

Models of inventions by Leonardo da Vinci are being exhibited in the Lobby of Building 7 (every day) and in the New Gallery of 54 Fulbright scholarships should be made in Room 3-108.

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., College Subscription $3.50 per year, $6.00 for two years.

J. Paul Steddy Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil

Because He Blanked The Finger-Nail Test

HE’S a Lobotomy sid. Steddy was really in for a war. His girlfriend says, "The Maine 5 277 of 13 is a thandle question. Is there a boy way you got your ear? Haven’t you red about Wildroot Cream-Oil? Non-alcoholic. Relieves annoying dryness. Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 1, N. Y.

*of 13 1 So. Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N. Y.

Thursday, September 30, 1953

STUDENT REGISTRATION FOR VOTING

1. Residence Requirements. A person must be a resident of Cambridge, Massachusetts, and a full-time student of Harvard College in order to be eligible to vote in Massachusetts referenda elections.

2. Eligibility to Vote. A person must be a resident of Massachusetts, be registered at Harvard, and be 18 years of age or older to be eligible to vote in Massachusetts referenda elections.

3. Places to Vote. The main campus of Harvard University will be open for voting from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

4. Voting Equipment. The voting equipment will be located in the lobby of Building 7.

The Tech

PAGE TWO

...continued

NEW YORK WORLD TELEVISION PROGRAMS

WGTW SCHEDULE

MIDNIGHT

1. "The Late Show." A news hour program presented by NBC News. (Monday through Saturday)

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, P.M.

2. "Le Chant Des Guerriers." A ballet presented in two acts. (Monday through Saturday)

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, P.M.

3. "The Light of Peace." A dance presented in two acts. (Monday through Saturday)

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3, P.M.

WEEKNIGHT PROGRAMS

7:30 P.M.

5. "The London Night." A news hour program presented by NBC News. (Monday through Saturday)

8:30 P.M.

9:00 P.M.

10:00 P.M.

9:00 P.M.

10:00 P.M.

11:00 P.M.

12:00 A.M.

1:00 A.M.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, P.M.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, P.M.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3, P.M.

WEEKNIGHT PROGRAMS

7:30 P.M.

8:30 P.M.

9:00 P.M.

10:00 P.M.

11:00 P.M.

12:00 A.M.

1:00 A.M.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, P.M.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, P.M.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3, P.M.

52nd Field Day

Recalls History

For those freshmen and sophomores who will not enter the glove fight tomorrow on Field Day, THIS TECH prints a history of the evolution of the Cane Rush to what we know today as Field Day. Why, after reading this, will dare to say that the Glove Fight is too strenuous?

Field Day, as a traditionally annual event at the Institute, is now fifty-one years old, but is much the same as it was when inaugurated in 1915. Previously underclassmen faced an outlet to their rivalry in the annual Cane Rush which was sometimes literally a fight to the death. The freshmen were given possession of the cane and attempted to defend their ownership from the sophomores who contested it. The fight was supposed to end with a pistol shot. Fifty-five minutes after the contest began, but it usually served only to increase the battle tempo. When armistice was finally called, the number of men from each class having a hand in the cane was compared, and the class having the highest number won. The traditional Purple Shaft commemorates this event.

Cane Rush Fatal

In 1910 the Cane Rush had fatal results. At the pistol shot on that day the fight appeared even more desperate. When the members of the rival classes were unpiled and the body met to make merry, usually at a local theatre production. A gang fight was a customary part of the proceedings and festivities usually ended with a parade through the streets of Boston or Cambridge. It was brought to an end when complaints were raised over the loud rumpus Tech Night caused. In its present form Cane Rush probably is as competitive as it ever was.

COMPLICATIONS

by Oscar F. Hedlund

Frosh and Class of '55

Readying For Grid Fracas; Both Elevens Undermanned

Froshmen and Sophomore football teams began workout last week with only fair terrains. Both are looking forward to the traditional Field Day clash on November 1. Although the Sophomores hold a big series edge over the Froshmen, this year's game promises to be a close one.

The Sophomores have about thirty men working out, many of them with experience on last year's Sophomore team. According to their coach, the team holds depth but there are several potentially outstanding players, especially among the backfield candidates. The Freshmen also have about thirty men in uniform but expect several more players this week. Coach Dan Liddy says that very few of the men who have had any real high school football experience, but their spirit is high. "If all the men who have indicated interest in the team were out, we would have a pretty good team."

Each team plans to schedule several games before the Field Day event. The Sophomores already have two games in October with Tabor and Thayer Academies. The Freshmen also plan to schedule prep school competitions.

In the Field Day rivalry, the Sophomores hold a considerable edge over their rivals. With a record of 16 wins, 8 ties, and 8 losses in the games played to date.

Not too much can be told about the teams at this point, because practice just begun, but spirit seems to be high. After scrimmages begin this week the coaches will be able to tell more about their prospects. At any rate, the game looks like a good one.

Essay Contest

(Continued from Page 1)

the contestant, enclosed in a sealed envelope, and clipped to the manuscript. Certificates are obtainable by writing to:

Fox Trot Waltz Lindy
Miss Pat McCann of the Sterling Dance Studio will conduct

BALLROOM DANCING CLASSES

Registration closes October 9

Class starting October 6 ending week of December 8 Required is being taken by Joseph Scheller

Rhumba Samba Tango

FRANCES WATTS WANTED

For Grid events understaffed

For those freshmen and sophomores who will not enter the glove fight tomorrow on Field Day, THIS TECH prints a history of the evolution of the Cane Rush to what we know today as Field Day. Why, after reading this, will dare to say that the Glove Fight is too strenuous?

Field Day, as a traditionally annual event at the Institute, is now fifty-one years old, but is much the same as it was when inaugurated in 1915. Previously underclassmen faced an outlet to their rivalry in the annual Cane Rush which was sometimes literally a fight to the death. The freshmen were given possession of the cane and attempted to defend their ownership from the sophomores who contested it. The fight was supposed to end with a pistol shot. Fifty-five minutes after the contest began, but it usually served only to increase the battle tempo. When armistice was finally called, the number of men from each class having a hand in the cane was compared, and the class having the highest number won. The traditional Purple Shaft commemorates this event.

Cane Rush Fatal

In 1910 the Cane Rush had fatal results. At the pistol shot on that day the fight appeared even more desperate. When the members of the rival classes were unpiled and, to quote The Tech, No. 15, 1915, "The unconquered classes were unpiled and, to quote The Tech, No. 15, 1915, "The unconquered classes were unpiled and, to quote The Tech, No. 15, 1915, "The unconquered classes were unpiled and, to quote The Tech, No. 15, 1915, "The unconquered classes were unpiled, but the usual served only to increase the battle tempo. When armistice was finally called, the number of men from each class having a hand in the cane was compared, and the class having the highest number won. The traditional Purple Shaft commemorates this event.

Tech Night Abolished

The night before Field Day is traditionally one of open rivalry between the freshman and sophomore classes. Until 1920 this night was known as Tech Night, a night when the student body met to make merry, usually at a local theatre production. A gang fight was a customary part of the proceedings and festivities usually ended with a parade through the streets of Boston or Cambridge. It was brought to an end when complaints were raised over the loud rumpus Tech Night caused. In its present form Field Day probably is as competitive as it ever was.

FRANCES WATTS WANTED

For Grid events understaffed

For those freshmen and sophomores who will not enter the glove fight tomorrow on Field Day, THIS TECH prints a history of the evolution of the Cane Rush to what we know today as Field Day. Why, after reading this, will dare to say that the Glove Fight is too strenuous?

Field Day, as a traditionally annual event at the Institute, is now fifty-one years old, but is much the same as it was when inaugurated in 1915. Previously underclassmen faced an outlet to their rivalry in the annual Cane Rush which was sometimes literally a fight to the death. The freshmen were given possession of the cane and attempted to defend their ownership from the sophomores who contested it. The fight was supposed to end with a pistol shot. Fifty-five minutes after the contest began, but it usually served only to increase the battle tempo. When armistice was finally called, the number of men from each class having a hand in the cane was compared, and the class having the highest number won. The traditional Purple Shaft commemorates this event.

Cane Rush Fatal

In 1910 the Cane Rush had fatal results. At the pistol shot on that day the fight appeared even more desperate. When the members of the rival classes were unpiled and, to quote The Tech, No. 15, 1915, "The unconquered classes were unpiled, but the usual served only to increase the battle tempo. When armistice was finally called, the number of men from each class having a hand in the cane was compared, and the class having the highest number won. The traditional Purple Shaft commemorates this event.

Tech Night Abolished

The night before Field Day is traditionally one of open rivalry between the freshman and sophomore classes. Until 1920 this night was known as Tech Night, a night when the student body met to make merry, usually at a local theatre production. A gang fight was a customary part of the proceedings and festivities usually ended with a parade through the streets of Boston or Cambridge. It was brought to an end when complaints were raised over the loud rumpus Tech Night caused. In its present form Field Day probably is as competitive as it ever was.

FRANCES WATTS WANTED

For Grid events understaffed

For those freshmen and sophomores who will not enter the glove fight tomorrow on Field Day, THIS TECH prints a history of the evolution of the Cane Rush to what we know today as Field Day. Why, after reading this, will dare to say that the Glove Fight is too strenuous?

Field Day, as a traditionally annual event at the Institute, is now fifty-one years old, but is much the same as it was when inaugurated in 1915. Previously underclassmen faced an outlet to their rivalry in the annual Cane Rush which was sometimes literally a fight to the death. The freshmen were given possession of the cane and attempted to defend their ownership from the sophomores who contested it. The fight was supposed to end with a pistol shot. Fifty-five minutes after the contest began, but it usually served only to increase the battle tempo. When armistice was finally called, the number of men from each class having a hand in the cane was compared, and the class having the highest number won. The traditional Purple Shaft commemorates this event.

Cane Rush Fatal

In 1910 the Cane Rush had fatal results. At the pistol shot on that day the fight appeared even more desperate. When the members of the rival classes were unpiled and, to quote The Tech, No. 15, 1915, "The unconquered classes were unpiled, but the usual served only to increase the battle tempo. When armistice was finally called, the number of men from each class having a hand in the cane was compared, and the class having the highest number won. The traditional Purple Shaft commemorates this event.

Tech Night Abolished

The night before Field Day is traditionally one of open rivalry between the freshman and sophomore classes. Until 1920 this night was known as Tech Night, a night when the student body met to make merry, usually at a local theatre production. A gang fight was a customary part of the proceedings and festivities usually ended with a parade through the streets of Boston or Cambridge. It was brought to an end when complaints were raised over the loud rumpus Tech Night caused. In its present form Field Day probably is as competitive as it ever was.

FRANCES WATTS WANTED

For Grid events understaffed

For those freshmen and sophomores who will not enter the glove fight tomorrow on Field Day, THIS TECH prints a history of the evolution of the Cane Rush to what we know today as Field Day. Why, after reading this, will dare to say that the Glove Fight is too strenuous?

Field Day, as a traditionally annual event at the Institute, is now fifty-one years old, but is much the same as it was when inaugurated in 1915. Previously underclassmen faced an outlet to their rivalry in the annual Cane Rush which was sometimes literally a fight to the death. The freshmen were given possession of the cane and attempted to defend their ownership from the sophomores who contested it. The fight was supposed to end with a pistol shot. Fifty-five minutes after the contest began, but it usually served only to increase the battle tempo. When armistice was finally called, the number of men from each class having a hand in the cane was compared, and the class having the highest number won. The traditional Purple Shaft commemorates this event.

Cane Rush Fatal

In 1910 the Cane Rush had fatal results. At the pistol shot on that day the fight appeared even more desperate. When the members of the rival classes were unpiled and, to quote The Tech, No. 15, 1915, "The unconquered classes were unpiled, but the usual served only to increase the battle tempo. When armistice was finally called, the number of men from each class having a hand in the cane was compared, and the class having the highest number won. The traditional Purple Shaft commemorates this event.

Tech Night Abolished

The night before Field Day is traditionally one of open rivalry between the freshman and sophomore classes. Until 1920 this night was known as Tech Night, a night when the student body met to make merry, usually at a local theatre production. A gang fight was a customary part of the proceedings and festivities usually ended with a parade through the streets of Boston or Cambridge. It was brought to an end when complaints were raised over the loud rumpus Tech Night caused. In its present form Field Day probably is as competitive as it ever was.
The Lecture Series Committee will have a mixer on Wednesday, Oct. 1, in Tyler Lounge at 5:00 p.m. If you have had any experience running projects or have a desire to meet people outstanding in their field, you are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Shapiro Appointed New Professor Of Finance

The appointment of Dr. Eli Shapiro as Professor of Finance at the Institute was announced last night by Professor E. P. Brooks, Dean of the School of Industrial Management. Dr. Shapiro, formerly Professor of Finance at the University of Chicago, assumed his duties at the Institute this week with the start of the new academic year.

Dr. Shapiro will be in charge of teaching and research in such fields as corporate finance, consumer credit, and the interrelation of business financial policy and the general economy. Rendered activities in those areas of the Institute, have been made possible by the establishment of the Institute’s School of Industrial Management under a grant of $500,000 from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, Inc., supplemented by a later grant of $1,000,000 for research in Industrial Management.

Graduate Brooklyn College, Columbia University

Professor Shapiro received the degree of bachelor of arts from Brooklyn College in 1936, and the degrees of master of arts and doctor of philosophy from Columbia University in 1937 and 1945.

From 1936 to 1941, Dr. Shapiro was an instructor in economics at Brooklyn College. During this same period he also served as research associate, Financial Research Program of the National Bureau of Economic Research (1938-1939); Consultant to the Financial Research Program of the National Bureau of Economic Research (1938-1942); economic analyst in the Division of Monetary Research of the Treasury Department (1941-1942); and economist for the research division of the OPA (1941-1942).

Served In The U. S. Navy

On active duty with the United States Navy from July 1942 until February 1946, Dr. Shapiro received commissions for his work in scheduling tanker requirements for the Pacific Theatre and for statistical studies for the Navy Manpower Survey. He also served with the Reparations Commission of the Office of Strategic Services. Following his war service, Dr. Shapiro returned to Brooklyn College as assistant professor of economics. In 1947 he was appointed assistant professor of finance at the School of Business of the University of Chicago, where he was named associate professor of finance in 1948 and professor in 1952.

Author On Banking and Finance

Dr. Shapiro has written extensively for professional periodicals on banking and finance and his books include "Development of Wisconsin Credit Union Movement" and "Money and Banking," which he wrote with W. H. Stiebel. He is also an associate author of R. A. Young's "Personal Finance Industry and Its Credit Standards." He was associate editor of the "Journal of Business of the University of Chicago" from 1947 to 1948 and editor from 1948 to 1952. In 1950 and 1951 he also served as consultant to the Committee for Economic Development.

The Lecture Series Committee will meet in Tyler Lounge at 5:00 p.m. The Lecture Series Committee will have a mixer on Wednesday, Oct. 1, in Tyler Lounge at 5:00 p.m. If you have had any experience running projects or have a desire to meet people outstanding in their field, you are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Shapiro Appointed New Professor Of Finance

The appointment of Dr. Eli Shapiro as Professor of Finance at the Institute was announced last night by Professor E. P. Brooks, Dean of the School of Industrial Management. Dr. Shapiro, formerly Professor of Finance at the University of Chicago, assumed his duties at the Institute this week with the start of the new academic year.

Dr. Shapiro will be in charge of teaching and research in such fields as corporate finance, consumer credit, and the interrelation of business financial policy and the general economy. Rendered activities in those areas of the Institute, have been made possible by the establishment of the Institute’s School of Industrial Management under a grant of $500,000 from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, Inc., supplemented by a later grant of $1,000,000 for research in Industrial Management.

Graduate Brooklyn College, Columbia University

Professor Shapiro received the degree of bachelor of arts from Brooklyn College in 1936, and the degrees of master of arts and doctor of philosophy from Columbia University in 1937 and 1945.

From 1936 to 1941, Dr. Shapiro was an instructor in economics at Brooklyn College. During this same period he also served as research associate, Financial Research Program of the National Bureau of Economic Research (1938-1939); Consultant to the Financial Research Program of the National Bureau of Economic Research (1938-1942); economic analyst in the Division of Monetary Research of the Treasury Department (1941-1942); and economist for the research division of the OPA (1941-1942).

Served In The U. S. Navy

On active duty with the United States Navy from July 1942 until February 1946, Dr. Shapiro received commissions for his work in scheduling tanker requirements for the Pacific Theatre and for statistical studies for the Navy Manpower Survey. He also served with the Reparations Commission of the Office of Strategic Services. Following his war service, Dr. Shapiro returned to Brooklyn College as assistant professor of economics. In 1947 he was appointed assistant professor of finance at the School of Business of the University of Chicago, where he was named associate professor of finance in 1948 and professor in 1952.

Author On Banking and Finance

Dr. Shapiro has written extensively for professional periodicals on banking and finance and his books include "Development of Wisconsin Credit Union Movement" and "Money and Banking," which he wrote with W. H. Stiebel. He is also an associate author of R. A. Young's "Personal Finance Industry and Its Credit Standards." He was associate editor of the "Journal of Business of the University of Chicago" from 1947 to 1948 and editor from 1948 to 1952. In 1950 and 1951 he also served as consultant to the Committee for Economic Development.

WHAT PRICE GLORY?

Ford Foundation

(Continued From Page 1)

A second grant of $125,000 for a one-year period will enable the Center to conduct a research program in the closely related field of economic development and political stability, subject of major interest to the Department of Economics and Social Science. It will include studies of ways in which foreign countries might employ their resources to raise their living standards. Studies of the political, cultural, institutional and psychological factors that affect the rate and character of economic growth are also contemplated.

"Journal of Business of the University of Chicago" from 1947 to 1948 and editor from 1948 to 1952. In 1950 and 1951 he also served as consultant to the Committee for Economic Development.

Dance Instructors

Add to Attractions

OF ANNUAL FAD

Something different has been provin-

d by the Dormitory Committee for their Annual Fall Affair.

Dance on Friday, October 10. Four professional dance instructors will be on hand during the evening to aid those who are not too sure of themselves on the dance floor.

The evening’s dancing will include both the square and the ballroom varieties. Hayden Scott will call the square dances. Girls from Radcliffe, Wellesley, Brandeis, Wheelock, Drexel, Lowell, Simmons, and Boston University will be present to help the Techmen enjoy the evening.

The dance will be held in Walker Memorial from 8:00 until 11:30 p.m. Details regarding decorations, orchestra and ticket prices are still to be decided upon by the dance committee.

CHESTERFIELD

FIRST QUALITY CIGARETTE

TO OFFER BOTH REGULAR & KING-SIZE

Ask Your Dealer for Chesterfield—Either way you like 'em

CONTAINS TOBACCO OF BETTER QUALITY AND HIGHER PRICE THAN ANY OTHER KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

CHESTERFIELD

LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA’S COLLEGES

Buy CHESTERFIELD, Much Milder