During the Wednesday night meeting of the House Committees, Mr. Baker, who is in charge of the House, announced that the TCA Blood Drive would be held on Monday, December 19. This drive will be held in conjunction with the Oxford Fund Drive, which is scheduled for the same day. Mr. Baker also announced that the House Committees will meet in full session on Wednesday, December 21.

Lecture Series Committee Gives Talk By Al Capp

Mr. Al Capp, creator of the popular comic strip Li'l Abner, was the guest speaker at the annual lecture series. The event was held in the Lecture Hall on Monday evening. Mr. Capp discussed his years of writing Li'l Abner and how he enjoyed satirizing America.

Students Evaluate Freshman Courses, Instructors

The students in the freshman classes at MIT have been evaluating their courses and instructors. The results of the evaluation were presented to the students at a meeting last week. The students were divided on the quality of the courses, with some students reporting that they were not satisfied with the instruction. However, the majority of the students were satisfied with the courses and instructors.

According to the evaluation results, the courses that were considered to be the best were those that received the highest scores from the students. These courses included:

- Mathematics (Math 122)
- Chemistry (Chem 121)
- Physics (Phys 121)
- Computer Science (CSci 121)
- Biology (Biol 121)

On the other hand, the courses that were considered to be the worst were those that received the lowest scores from the students. These courses included:

- English (Eng 121)
- History (His 121)
- Psychology (Psy 121)
- Art (Art 121)
- Music (Mus 121)

The evaluation results were used to make changes in the curriculum and to improve the quality of the courses.

No doubt the main reason any student activity holds an audience for an acquaintance affair of two weeks ago. The Catholic Club, continuing a policy of apparently several years past, put on the line as well as the boy entrants to its Morss Hall dance. Nothing new, but this year it set up a stream of hows from ladies who came here expecting the usual stuff, i.e. the girls play, the boys pay. The main point: what was said about paying when invitations were issued.

There is no question but that no harm was meant. Nevertheless, this incident may have some repercussions, if one can judge from the comments of several newspapers from the finishing school set, and later mixers may find difficulty in obtaining the necessary accommodations.

Of course, no important damage may have been done, but it might be wise for the group concerned to reconsider this policy in the light of its very bad publicity.

A SERIOUS ISSUE

A cover of last week's Wellesley College News convinces us that Tech men worry much too greatly over insignificant things such as grades, money, the Draft (in some sort of order of importance). It's obvious that Wellesley girls are concerned with much more timely topics—such as marriage. "MARRIAGE and the College Community" reads the large black headline, beneath which is a vote of thanks for enabling the Deans, the psychiatrist, the Editors, the reviewers, the students and the press to see that the virtue of a college marriage is very, very few.

Teachmen who are contem- plating the giant step with a Wellesley product, it may be some comfort to know that Wellesley—in cross-section—seems to think more timely topics—such as marriage. "MARRIAGE and the College Community" reads the large black headline, beneath which is a vote of thanks for enabling the Deans, the psychiatrist, the Editors, the reviewers, the students and the press to see that the virtue of a college marriage is very, very few.

It is very seldom these days that one has the pleasure of enjoying a really fine performance from the motion picture world. Fortunately, however, such rare events do occasionally occur, and at such times it is only fitting to make full mention of the actor or actresses in question. Betty Garrett, as Ruth Sherwood, the elder sister in "My Sister Eileen"... has given such a performance. Miss Garrett is actually the forge which boms the film from the run-of-the-mill category to the enjoyable. The motion picture industry, and particularly its gentle critics, the press, owe her a vote of thanks for enabling them to have something to speak of when the conversation turns to contributions to the entertainment world, So does the public.

"My Sister Eileen" has come before the public many times previously, and under several titles. Originally a group of short stories by Ruth McKenney, it was staged in the early 1940's under the same title as the present movie. Since after a film was made from the play, appearing as "Dear Ruth." More recently Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov staged it as a play under the more familiar title of "Wonderful Town." The story has proved itself successful each time attempted, and there is nothing to lead one to believe that this time will be any different. Janet Leigh manages not to be bad in the role of Eileen, the stage spoiled younger member of the Sher- wood family, and Jack Lemon gives his usual witty performance as Burt. Betty Garrett, however, is what the Wellesley news depart- ment would call a "human possibility." To the laymen this means she is real.

On the same program, now showing at the Loew's State and Orpheum Theatres, is "Special Delivery" with Joseph Cotton. Aban- doned babies behind the Iron curtain. Amazing.

Tufts held the ball in their domain much of the last half,
and readily clicked the winning goal just as the scoreboard read 1-0, in the thirty-ninth minute.

The first goal came on Carl Blaschitz' s assist in the nineteenth minute of the first half.

Frank Fisher, Dick Miller '56, co-captain who received a cut over the eye late in the fourth quarter, and De Leon who was played his first game of the season.
Although lively, Morris Nielsen '57, was not hard pressed, a coup of his

Socrinatic Framework Houses Capp's Humor

After scoring a 71 par,
"It's not skill, it was hunger,
I just thought of the taste
Of Schaefer, be-cold, in the beer?"

What makes Schaefer taste so good? Flavor. Flavor that's light and lively, exciting and satisfying. Next time you're looking for the best in beer, your name (y) enjoy— Schaefer

For real enjoyment—real beer!

There are two important reasons why the Martin
Star is rising... and why your career can rise along with it:

1. The finest aircraft plant, engineering, electronics, nuclear physics and research facilities on the eastern seaboard.

2. An entirely new management concept in Advanced Design and weapons systems development, embracing creative engineering ranging upward from nuclear powered aircraft to anti-gravity research and tomorrow's satellite vehicle.

There are exceptional opportunities for dynamic young engineering talent at the Glenn L. Martin Company in Baltimore, Maryland.

See the Martin representative visiting this campus October 26 and 27. Contact your placement office for appointment and further details.
PHYSICAL EXAMS
All new students who have not yet made appointments for their physical examinations must do so before Friday, October 28 in order to avoid a $5.00 charge. Many have not yet done this. You should report to the Medical Department immediately. This applies only to freshmen and other new students.

BUSINESS SCHOOL TESTS
Admissions tests for graduate study in business, required for entrance by a number of graduate business schools or divisions throughout the country, will be offered by the Educational Testing Service under dates during the coming year: February 2, April 14, and August 15, 1956. Candidates for admission to 1956 classes are advised to take the February test. Applications and fees must be filed with the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau St., Princeton, N. J., at least two weeks before the tests on those dates.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL
Due to the beautiful Boston weather all intramural football games scheduled for last weekend will be played this weekend. The BIS is still available. Entries must be in the Tech office or Baker box 1300 before noon Saturday. The games: Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Chi, Beta vs. ATO, Delta Tau Delta vs. Sigma Nu, Theta Chi vs. Sigma Nu, and Phi Gam vs. DU.

EAST CAMPUS DANCE
The East Campus House Committee will present its East informal dance of the term tonight at 8:00 p.m. in Walker Memorial's Morse Hall. Music by Dan Ellis and his band. Refreshments will be served. Tickets are one dollar per couple and are available at the door.
