Brownell Plan Indefinite

Full House For HST Talk

By Henry S. Traum

This afternoon and tonight—and that is all—according to the latest word from Lectures Committee, the campus is scheduled to play host to four professors to inter- view a distinguished guest from overseas. The schedule originally assigned will be maintained, though there will be some delay in the order of appearance. The possibility of a second session on Thursday evening is being held open to the students at this time. No further announcements are expected.

The four members of the visiting faculty are: John A. Fassett, University of Virginia, former Commissioner of the American Electrochemical Society; William Reuben, University of California, Berkeley, head of the department of chemistry; and Paul E. Shepherd, University of California, Los Angeles, head of the department of physics.

The lectures will be held in the Little Theatre, and will begin at 8:00 p.m. tomorrow night. The audience is invited to attend the lectures and to participate in the discussion that will follow.

Dean Speer will continue as Director of the Technology Press.

The presentation was made at the first meeting of the Student Convocation Association of the School of Architecture and Planning, which is expected to meet on a regular basis in the future.

Alker Wins Borden Frosh Award; Only Member Of Class With 5.0

By Joe Duggan

A young Connecticut student, who was the only freshman to receive a straight "A" average at the Institute last year, received MIT's first Borden Frosh Prize for scholarly achievement this morning.

He is Hayward E. Alker, Jr., of Greenwich, Connecticut, who was also the top student each of the three years he attended the Bronx High School in Greenwich, where he took prizes in science, history, English, French, and mathematics.

The presentation was made at the first meeting of the Student Convocation Association of the School of Architecture and Planning, which is expected to meet on a regular basis in the future.

Dean Speer will continue as Director of the Technology Press.

"The father of chemical engineering" is an adequate title for Prof. Lewis. He was a summer professor and lecturer at MIT, where he has played a significant role in the chemical engineering curriculum since its beginning, and has been connected with the Institute for over forty years. His experiences with a team of British students have undergone by an ex-student and officer-candidate, Stan Windrush of the British army, have been skillfully presented to provide hilarious amusement. The tough army drill sergeant, most likely played by William Hartnell, earns our sympathy through his valiant and futile efforts to prepare our hero for combat. If the producers had decided to evolve the rest of the story along these lines, they might have given us an excellent farce. However, after his primary training, which he fails miserably, Private Windrush is hurled into a combination of circumstances which perplexes the viewer as much as the protagonist. As the plot unravel we find ourselves confronted by Windrush's Uncle, Bertram Tracepurcel, whose phenomenal rise in army hierarchy makes one wonder whether he is one of circumstances which perplexes the viewer as much as the protagonist.

Ryer Housing Report
Proves Discussion
At Inscomm Meeting

Discussing the newly-released Ryer Committee report at Wednesday’s meeting with R. Francis Bowditch, Special Advisor to the President, Inscomm Committee questioned the recommendation of having undergraduate facilities composed primarily of single rooms rather than doubles or suites.

The point under consideration was the one of specific conditions presented at the beginning of the report which says that the most desirable plan for new undergraduate houses, and for remodeling existing undergraduate houses would include "...at most 40 men to a floor, preferably in single rooms."

Two opinions seemed divided. The first, held by most of the representatives living in dormitories, was that his mode of residence be decided by individual and the ratios of single rooms to those of multiple occupancy according to recorded past preferences. The other opinion, was, as stated by Tom Florence '57, that the Institute in trying to bend to the Techman’s educational background prohibit his taking only engineering courses, and therefore should make sure he does not restrict his social background because of lack of close contact with any other student.

Ed Roberts '57 made a motion to have double rooms predominant in future dormitory plans, but it was tabled due to lack of proper information on the subject. After this discussion Mr. Bowditch asked a few questions on the report and is answering them mention that a report is coming on the re-location of fraternities.

The concluding discussion was on the proposed kitchen facilities on each floor for the preparation of snacks, as most of the committee felt that common refrigerators would prove unacceptable.

AA Sets Up ‘T’ Club
For MIT Lettermen

In a meeting yesterday, the Athletic Association made several changes in personnel status; moved toward the establishment of a letterman’s club, and charged representation on the AA Board. The posts of Treasurer, Equipment Manager, and Publicity Manager were given up, due to a reorganization of duties of other members of this group.

A new method of electing the two vice-presidents of the Athletic Association was also voted in. It is the Intramural Vice President and the Varsity Vice President were formerly elected by the Association; now these offices are filled by elections in their respective councils.

A "T" Club will soon be set up for varsity lettermen; the president of the group will hold a position in the executive committee of the AA. The executive committee of the "T" Club will all be members of the Athletic Association.

Membership on the Athletic Association Board, consisting of both students and administration, has been changed, with the result that representatives of the latter group has been cut, and the number of student members increased from three to four.

Dormitory Council Allotted

In its initial meeting of the school year, the Dormitory Council allotted the better part of its time to discussion and outline of perennial dormitory issues.

The initial problem discussed was that of property damage, which in the past has been particularly prevalent in the Fall and Spring. In order to study this problem along with its possible solutions, a permanent sub-committee was established. Following this, common problems, in particular overcrowding, were reviewed along with the necessity to convey dormitory rules to the student. The final problem touched upon was that of open house hours, which will be completely reviewed this year.
