The New England Cotton Manufacturers' Association will hold a meeting in the Institute building, April 26.

It is rumored with much plausibility that the Institute is to have a commodious new building erected by next fall. We have been unable to obtain any definite information regarding the matter.

The '82 chemists have appeared with their new pin or badge. It is in the form of the potash bulbs used in combustion, and makes quite a pretty thing, only it is not original. '82 as a class is quite original, and the V's should have kept the standard up.

Theses, accompanied by abstracts, are to be presented on or before May 10.

The new condenser for the laboratory engine has been placed in position, and experiments will soon begin.

At the judgment on the Art Museum problem, the first mention was awarded to Mr. Prentice and the second to Mr. Hale.

The officers of the Athletic Club have given notice that the next meeting of the club, the out-of-door games, will probably be held in Beacon Park the latter part of May.
