The Argonaut states that "Professors are forced by the Russian government to say nothing about history, philosophy, or economics. A translator of Mill was recently banished to Siberia." Is it possible that this state of things exists?

What a curious way the Chronicle has of making two clippings out of one. Thus, in the last issue, it quotes the Lampoon: —

"Barber (consolingly). Oh, well, sir, ten cents a year ain't much of a 'shaving.'"

Then follows half a column or more, at the end of which comes: —

"Student (to Parker House barber). What! twenty cents for a shave? Why, I can get shaved in Cambridge twice for twenty cents."

PREPARATION FOR THE
Mass. Institute of Technology

Is a specialty at CHAUNCY-HALL SCHOOL, Boston, Mass., and its remarkable success can be ascertained from the Chairman and Secretary of the Faculty of the Institute.

It aims to fit its candidates so thoroughly that they will not be weighted by "conditions" to be made up after entering, when all their powers are needed for their regular work.

The School is within two minutes' walk of the Institute, affording to the teachers, who are preparing the candidates, unequaled opportunities for consulting the professors.

Successful preparation is made also for College and for Business. Chauncy Hall is the oldest and largest private school in Boston.
