WHAT '85 ARE DOING.

EDWARD R. BENTON, draftsman, with H. H. Richardson, architect, Brookline, Mass.

HEYWOOD COCHRAN, draftsman, with Louisville Bridge and Iron Co.

THOMAS W. FRY, in shops of M. C. Bullock Manufacturing Co., Chicago, Ill.

WALTER K. HARRINGTON, with Norman Water Works Co., Horsick, N. Y.

ELEAZER B. HOMER, with Hartwell & Richardson, architects, 68 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass.

ALLYNE L. MERRILL, assistant in Department of Mechanical Engineering, Mass. Inst. Tech.

EBEN G. MERRILL, in employ of H. W. Ellis & Co., hydraulic engineers, Laconia, N. H.

EVERETT MORSS, with Morss & Whyte, wire works, 75 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

FREDERICK H. NEWELL, Ohio Geological Survey of Oil Fields, Macksburg, Ohio.

MARCELLA I. O'GRADY, science teacher in Bryn Mawr School, Baltimore, Md.

RICHARD H. PIERCE, with Edison Electric Light Co., Brockton, Mass.

C. STANLEY ROBINSON, assistant engineer, Hancock and Calumet R. R., Opechee, Mich.

OTIS T. STANTIAL, private assistant to Prof. R. H. Richards, Mass. Inst. Tech.

HENRY P. TALBOT, assistant in analytical laboratory, Mass. Inst. Tech.

ERASTUS WORTHINGTON, JR., assistant engineer of Middleboro Water Works.

MORRIS L. GREELEY, teacher in mathematics, in Chicago, Ill.

JULIAN O. ELINGER, Sprague Electric Motor Co., 65 Fifth Avenue, N. Y.

HUGH MACRAE, Wilmington, N. C.

TRACY LYON, Oswego, N. Y.

On Thursday evening, October 22d, there will be a reception to the faculties and students of the Institute of Technology, Harvard Medical College, and Boston University, at the building of the Boston Young Men's Christian Association, corner of Boylston and Berkeley Streets, at 7.30 P. M.