ROUGH ON THE CREW.

(Alice and Mary, new arrivals, on seeing the crew go by.)

Alice: “See the poor convicts; how young they look.”

Mary: “Yes; but how wicked and depraved.—Lampoon.

‘Miss Clara: “Are you familiar with ‘Dante’s Divine Comedy?’”

Mr. K. (who is a sophomore): “No; I have never seen it. The fact is, Miss Clara, I think this comedy business is overdone. The sooner the stage returns to the legitimate drama, the better it will be for the profession.—Academica.

Wife (reading the paper): “Well, I declare, if that isn’t the queerest thing I ever heard of”

Husband: “What’s that?”

Wife: “Why, here in the paper is an account of a wedding up in Manchester, and among the wedding presents was a bull-terrier, given to the bride by her father.”

Husband: “I don’t see anything odd about that. She was the old man’s youngest daughter, wasn’t she?”

Wife: “Yes; but what’s that got to do with it?”

Husband: “Why, of course, if she and all the rest were married, he had no further use for the dog.”—Somerville Journal.
