and Boylston, where, by great good luck, a policeman was found. He was then carried to the station. He protests his innocence, but was identified by several people as being the same who has been seen loafing around the lunch room several times before. When he was taken he had on his person claim checks for coats from several prominent hotels.

A Christmas Invitation.

The Technology Club desires through The Tech to extend its most cordial invitation to all students of the Institute who have no other invitation for Christmas Day, to make full use of the privileges of the Club. This means that every student is invited on that day to visit the Club House, and make himself at home there. If he chooses he can get his Christmas dinner, he can smoke, he can read, he can write, he can play billiards, chess, cards, in short, he can leave the dreary shades of a deserted boarding house and enjoy the day with other M. I. T. men in comfort. He is practically a member of the Club for that day. It is hoped that dozens of our men will avail themselves of these privileges, accepting them informally in the spirit of camaraderie in which they are so cordially extended.

Resolution.

Whereas, The Class of 1900 acted under a misunderstanding in refusing to meet a committee of the Class of '99 to confer regarding the result of the late Cane rush, and whereas, The feeling of the Class of 1900 is opposed to that action, be it hereby

Resolved, That the Class of 1900 apologize to the Class of '99 for said refusal, and offer to meet a committee appointed by Class of '99 at any time they may see fit.

C. M. Leonard, Sec'y.

On account of there being only three entries in the fence vault the event was given up last week. Of late years interest in this once prominent event has fallen off.

Mr. A. Lovering, a Senior at Harvard, recently broke the strength record of the college, formerly held by Klein. His total was 1,535½ points, or 64 points better than Klein's record.

Morse, '99, has the making of a good long-distance runner. In the B. A. A. road race last Saturday he came in fourth, getting one of the six prizes awarded. The run was a handicap one, over the usual course to Coolidge's Corner and back. Mills, of Berkeley School, finished first in 25 minutes 33 seconds, beating the record recently made by Osgood.

The medals given as prizes for the games of last spring and the fall meets of this year were distributed early last week. They are in silver and bronze, for 1st and 2nd places respectively. The engraving is by Shreve, Crump & Low; one side being their design, and the other a reproduction of the old M. I. T. Athletic Club seal of crossed foils and clubs. The execution is admirable, being clear cut and accurate, but there is a feeling about that the design is not entirely artistic or even appropriate, considering the fact that neither fencing nor club swinging hold a prominent part in our athletics to-day. As the die was new, anyway, a more artistic design might have been secured without extra expense. There is, of course, sentiment and historical value attaching to the present design, which might, perhaps, warrant its general adaptation as the Athletic Association seal.
