The annual meeting of the Class of '75 was held at Young's Hotel, January 15th, with twelve members present. The following officers were elected: President, Thomas Hibbard; Vice President, B. L. Beal; Secretary-Treasurer, E. A. W. Hammatt; Executive Committee, B. L. Beal, M. A. Smith, H. E. Stowe. After the business meeting an adjournment was made to the subway, which was inspected under the leadership of Mr. Beal, who is secretary of the Boston Transit Commission. Resolutions were adopted on the death of President Walker.

Charles M. Wilkes, Course IV., was married on January 27th to Miss Addie May Smith, of Chicago. Mr. Wilkes, whom many about the Institute may remember, has been a jolly old bachelor until within the last month. He is located in Chicago as a Sanitary Engineer, and it was he who designed the Sewage Disposal Works of the World's Fair grounds.

THE HARVARD-WENDELL SYNDICATE.
AN EDUCATIONAL EXPERIMENT.

Doctor: "Well, Harvey, what have you been eating?"
Patient: "O Lord! I've tried to swallow the M. I. T. I knew I could do it. But it's a good deal bigger than I thought, and it's awfully solid!!"
