and a copy placed at the information bureau. The "student house," an experiment of last year, has been continued, and, finally, informal receptions have been held. All these things have required time and energy, and the fact that they have been accomplished successfully reflects great credit on the officers and members of the Y. M. C. A.

The Editorial Board of THE TECH needs reinforcement from the lower classes. Nineteen hundred and one, in particular, should as soon as possible put some representatives on the paper, in order that the affairs of the class may be better treated than can possibly be done by outsiders. There is no limit set upon the number of editors from each class. The Board chooses its new members from those who show their ability and enthusiasm by sending in news items, editorials, verse, stories, etc., and all men of literary leanings and experience on school periodicals, as well as any who without experience are willing to work, should communicate with the Editors, Room 30, Rogers Building.

Every member of the entering class should avail himself of the opportunities for economy offered by the Co-operative Society, by enrolling himself early on its lists of membership. Be it said for the benefit of the Freshman that the holder of a co-operative membership ticket can secure considerable discount on articles of any kind whatever that he will be likely to purchase in Boston. Furthermore, the very considerable income derived by the society is spent entirely in scholarships for students under Faculty recommendations. The society is operated entirely by Technology men, and enjoys the hearty sanction and assistance of the Faculty in its good work.

Henry Walter Allen.

Since the close of the last collegiate year death has separated from us one of the most popular men, and one of the best students the Institute has ever known. On the second of July last, Henry Walter Allen died of typhoid fever in this city. He was born in Boston on October 5, 1875, and prepared for the Institute at Chauncey Hall School.

During his career here he was a member of the executive committee of his class, chairman of the committee on the Cane-rush; "Sachem" of the Mandaman Club; captain of a company in the Battalion, and president of his class during his Freshman year. During his Sophomore year he was again president of the Class of '97; he was also on the Electoral Board for "Technique"; a member of the Sherwood Club; vice president of the M. I. T. A. C. in '94-95 and '95-96; a member of K2S; secretary and treasurer of the M. I. T. F. B. A. in '95-96; chairman of the Cane-rush Committee; chairman of the Junior Promenade Committee; secretary of the N. E. I. A. A. in '96-97; president of the M. I. T. Athletic Association; toastmaster at the '97 class dinner; pallbearer at President Walker's funeral; second marshal on his Class Day; colonel of the 1st Regiment in the Republican Promenade; and referee of the Freshmen in the Sophomore Cane-rush in '96.

Good companion, good friend, good man, fare you well!

Memorial Meeting.

The Walker Memorial meeting proposed last year is to be carried out, and Tech. men will have one more chance of showing their appreciation of General Walker's character, and the love they held for him in his position as President of the Institute.
