The Tech Tea.

Last Thursday afternoon The Tech Board held its annual tea in its office in the Rogers Building. Although one of the rainiest afternoons of Junior Week, many friends of the members of the Board attended, and as in former years, the reception was a great success. The Tech office and the rooms adjoining were decorated with plants and flags, and these, with the many cushions and the gowns of the guests, produced a charming effect. The office was used as reception room, and refreshments were served in the room adjoining.

The sincere thanks of the board are extended to the Matrons, Mrs. Henry S. Pritchett, Mrs. George F. Swain, and Mrs. Dana P. Bartlett, and to Mrs. King, whose assistance enabled the committee to make the affair a success.

Among those present were Dr. H. W. Tyler, Prof. Davis R. Dewey, Prof. Arlo Bates, Prof. Peter Schwamb, Mrs. Peter Schwamb, the Misses Katharine White, Emmie Bridges, Mary Shepherd, Yoonne Sanborne, More, Rising, Dolley, Pinkham, Abbott, Chalifoux, Helen Monks, Nutter, Edith Conant, Alice Morse, Ethel Briggs, Sherman, Webber, Ruth MacNaughton, Brooks, Florence Pendergast, Janvier, Bissell, Niles, Helen Cook, Amy Wallace, Louise James, Helen Parsons, Cheney, Frances Bacon, Louisa Mellen, Lemcke, Thomson. Messrs. R. V. Brown, Glover, P. R. Smith, H. D. Gardner, Chalifoux, H. H. Fletcher, Raymond, Dickson, Fitzgerald, Boardman, Pope, C. T. Bilyea, Bartlett, Goldenberg, B. H. Hall, Swett, Conant, Nutter, Bates, Cheney, Lawton, Nelson, Jackson.

FRONT — I'd like to know why they call this car line the Elevated Railway.

Rowe — Because, like everything else in Boston, they consider it above all others, I guess.
