Who misses or who wins the prize; Go, lose, or conquer if you can, But if you fall, or if you rise, Be each, pray God, a gentleman.

In these days when even sport tends to become a serious business and there is too often evident the win-at-any-cost spirit, it is a pleasure to witness a contest such as the fencing bouts of last Saturday evening. It is not necessary to decant on the virtues of fencing as an exercise for hand and eye; it is that and something more. Fencing calls for a fine sense of honor, a willingness to acknowledge every hit, which in the heat of contest it is all too easy to forget. It therefore is most gratifying to record that our team were punctilious in acknowledging hits and showed that true sportsman's spirit characteristic of the best in our Tech life.

A LITTLE over a year ago the "Calendar" was introduced into the columns of THE TECH, and has grown to be one of the most important of our departments. Consequently every effort is made to have the Calendar as complete and reliable as possible, but, as was pointed out at the time this feature was begun, we cannot do this without some help from the secretaries and managers of the various student organizations. In order, therefore, to make it easy for these men to have notices appear in the Calendar, we have this week placed at the "Cage" blank Calendar notices which may be filled out and left there. All notices left at the "Cage" before 10 o'clock sharp Tuesday mornings will appear in the Calendar on Thursday of the same week, and we will also make every effort to print notices left up to 12 o'clock Tuesdays.

HONOR SOCIETIES.

At present about the only method of recognizing a student's ability or popularity is his election as a marshal in his Senior year. In other colleges there are honor societies to which a man is elected, in some for his high scholarship and in others for his evident popularity or leadership among the undergraduates. Such societies are perfectly fitted for installation here. At first the
