Tremont Theatre.

Miss Henrietta Crosman, surrounded by an able company, is continuing her success in David Belasco's scenic production, "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," at the Tremont. The scene of the play is laid in Bath during the Gainsborough period, and the love, war, and social intrigue of the time are faithfully portrayed. Miss Crosman as Mistress Kitty Bellairs, the dashing widow, adds one more triumph to her list of successes.

Park Theatre.

Boston now has a chance to see "The Secret of Polichinelle" which enjoyed so great a vogue when James K. Hacket presented it in New York.

Hollis Street Theatre.

William Gillette has been splendidly received in "The Admirable Crichton," and the general verdict is that this delightful comedy by J. J. Barrie is the most brilliant success that he has ever made. The castaways in the Pacific, and the rise and fall of the wonderful butler,
