The outlook for winter athletics is unusually encouraging this year. In addition to the customary indoor track athletics and gymnasium work, we may look forward to an interesting basketball schedule, a series of excellent fencing matches, and probably to several intercollegiate games of hockey. The Fencing, Basketball, and Hockey Teams have all taken warning from their past experiences to begin work early, and men intending to go into these branches of athletics should not lose sight of the fact that they cannot this season delay their entries.

Dr. Thomas M. Drown, president of Lehigh University, died last Thursday at his home at Bethlehem, Pa. Dr. Drown was born in Philadelphia, March 19, 1842, and was Professor of Chemistry at the Institute from 1865 to 1895.

Dr. White gave a lecture last Saturday, to the Freshman Class on "Personal Hygiene." Before the Dean introduced Dr. White, he stated that the Technology Club, in charge of the basketball schedule, a series of track athletics, and a contest for the most prominent features of which are one of the largest and finest floors in the country, modern apparatus of the highest order, and a swimming pool 120 feet long and 40 feet wide and from 3 to 10 feet in depth. The work in the gymnasium is compulsory for all students of the college under twenty-one.

A special service for men students will be held in Emmanuel Church, 15 Newbury Street, on Sunday evening, November 27, at 8 o'clock (instrumental music 7.30 to 9.) The preacher will be the Rev. William S. Rainford, D.D., Rector of St. George's Church, New York. Admission only by cards, which may be obtained free at the Y. M. C. A., 15 Newbury Street, on Sunday evening, November 27. All cards must be in the hands of the managing editor, Mr. Ettore Benvenuto, by 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

A $600,000 athletic field, which has just been completed at the University of Pennsylvania, includes a gymnasium costing $300,000, the most prominent features of which are one of the largest and finest floors in the country, modern apparatus of the highest order, and a swimming pool 120 feet long and 40 feet wide and from 3 to 10 feet in depth. The work in the gymnasium is compulsory for all students of the college under twenty-one.

Lowell Institute Lectures.

The Lowell Institute lecture tonight will be given by Mr. Ettore Pans, Professor of Ancient History and Classics in the University of Naples, and a member of the Academy of Sciences of Rome. The subject of Professor Pans, course is "Legends of Early Roman History," and his lectures are given at 8 p.m., in Huntington Hall. Albrecht Penck, Professor of Geography in the University of Vienna, Austria, will lecture tomorrow night in the same hall on "Selected Chapters in Phy- siography.

Penn's New Field.

A $600,000 athletic field, which has just been completed at the University of Pennsylvania, includes a gymnasium costing $300,000, the most prominent features of which are one of the largest and finest floors in the country, modern apparatus of the highest order, and a swimming pool 120 feet long and 40 feet wide and from 3 to 10 feet in depth. The work in the gymnasium is compulsory for all students of the college under twenty-one.

A special service for men students will be held in Emmanuel Church, 15 Newbury Street, on Sunday evening, November 27, at 8 o'clock (instrumental music 7.30 to 9.) The preacher will be the Rev. William S. Rainford, D.D., Rector of St. George's Church, New York. Admission only by cards, which may be obtained free at the Y. M. C. A., 15 Newbury Street, on Sunday evening, November 27. All cards must be in the hands of the managing editor, Mr. Ettore Benvenuto, by 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

A $600,000 athletic field, which has just been completed at the University of Pennsylvania, includes a gymnasium costing $300,000, the most prominent features of which are one of the largest and finest floors in the country, modern apparatus of the highest order, and a swimming pool 120 feet long and 40 feet wide and from 3 to 10 feet in depth. The work in the gymnasium is compulsory for all students of the college under twenty-one.

Lowell Institute Lectures.

The Lowell Institute lecture tonight will be given by Mr. Ettore Pans, Professor of Ancient History and Classics in the University of Naples, and a member of the Academy of Sciences of Rome. The subject of Professor Pans, course is "Legends of Early Roman History," and his lectures are given at 8 p.m., in Huntington Hall. Albrecht Penck, Professor of Geography in the University of Vienna, Austria, will lecture tomorrow night in the same hall on "Selected Chapters in Phy- siography.

Penn's New Field.

A $600,000 athletic field, which has just been completed at the University of Pennsylvania, includes a gymnasium costing $300,000, the most prominent features of which are one of the largest and finest floors in the country, modern apparatus of the highest order, and a swimming pool 120 feet long and 40 feet wide and from 3 to 10 feet in depth. The work in the gymnasium is compulsory for all students of the college under twenty-one.

A special service for men students will be held in Emmanuel Church, 15 Newbury Street, on Sunday evening, November 27, at 8 o'clock (instrumental music 7.30 to 9.) The preacher will be the Rev. William S. Rainford, D.D., Rector of St. George's Church, New York. Admission only by cards, which may be obtained free at the Y. M. C. A., 15 Newbury Street, on Sunday evening, November 27. All cards must be in the hands of the managing editor, Mr. Ettore Benvenuto, by 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.