has sought from its foundation to broaden and deepen the education which it gives, although hampered at times by lack of funds; that, accordingly, Alumni — even in recent years — may not realize the extent of gradual improvement; that many other elements than “resources” are involved in the questions raised; and that Institute work in general studies is of exceptional quality and student relations are founded on a broadly democratic basis of Tech spirit.
In regard to the Technology Fund, it was shown that the present attitude of the Committee, as repeatedly expressed, is that the combination plan can be more surely settled on educational grounds if it is shown that the Institute is not compelled to seek combination through poverty.

* An account of the Alumni procedure will be given in a later issue.

Dr. Gill will give four lectures on “Gas and Fuel Analysis for Engineers” in Room 23, Walker, from 4 to 5, on December 13, 14, 15 and 16.

Several interesting photographs of sewage filter beds, situated in different parts of the state, are on exhibition in Room 41, Eng. B.

Park Theatre.
Amelia Bingham's return to Boston after an absence of two seasons, will be especially welcome, for she will make a revival of “The Climbers” which many consider to be Clyde Fitch's most interesting comedy of fashionable life. Miss Bingham will be seen in her original character.

Colonial Theatre.
This is the last week of the engagement of Mme. Schuman Heink in “Love's Lottery” in this city. This distinguished graduate from the grand opera stage has had a splendid greeting in comic opera, and has proved to be one of the artistic treats of the season. Her splendid voice and her talents as a comedienne make her work in “Love's Lottery” a constant delight to all.

Hollis Street Theatre.
E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe make the first change of bill in their engagement, and present “Much Ado About Nothing,” which should show these distinguished Shakespearean artists to the greatest advantage. As Benedict and Beatrice these favorites will be found to be worthy successors to Romeo and Juliet.

Tremont Theatre.
Commencing to-night, Henry Savage will offer Raymond Hitchcock and the original company in the comic opera triumph “The Yankee Consul” for eight performances only.
