make it as convenient as possible for the members of the class, the following list of days when sittings may be made, is given:

Course I, Thursday; II, Wednesday afternoon; III, Friday; IV, Wednesday evening; V, Tuesday afternoon; VI, Saturday morning; VII, Wednesday afternoon; VIII, Wednesday afternoon; X, Thursday morning; XI, Tuesday afternoon; XII, Saturday morning.

Men who cannot make engagements in these hours may make other arrangements by seeing members of the Committee at once or by seeing the photographer either on Monday or Saturday afternoon.

In view of the comparatively short time remaining in the school year, members of the class are urged to make sittings without further delay.

General Mills, Superintendent of the West Point Military Academy, devotes a considerable space in his annual report to the discussion of athletics at West Point. His stand is directly opposed to that taken by President Eliot in his last report. President Eliot states that, in his opinion, football is the most amusing and beneficial of the sports, and tends to refute most of the arguments advanced by Professor Eliot. General Mills says that careful investigation shows that the average football player loses none of his class standing because of participation for ten years with George W. Rogers Building, 12 Beacon St.

Successor Henry Morse, 12 Beacon St.

Morse & Henderson, successor to A. G. Morse and W. J. Henderson, 408 and 410 Boylston St.

We earnestly solicit your patronage. Early orders desired.

Very truly yours,

10 per cent Discount to Students.

THE TECH wishes to state that, as the exercises of the Institute will be suspended next Wednesday, there will be no issue on that day.

Tech men have an opportunity of seeing to-morrow evening a fencing contest which will be the highest excellence.

Harvard and Columbia have teams which compare very favorably with those which they have developed in previous years, and our own team is in decidedly better form than even the one which last year won in the Quadrangular Meet at Cambridge.

Men who enjoy an exhibition of skillful fencing should by all means attend the meet on their own account, if not for the sake of the Team.

Senior Portfolio.

The attention of Seniors is called to the fact that, notwithstanding the repeated appeals of the Portfolio Committee, as yet but few men have made sittings. To have such a thing as the Portfolio a success, it must be evident to all that every man should be in it. It is therefore imperative that appointments be made with the Class Photographer, Mr. C. W. Hearn, 544 Boylston Street, as soon as possible. To
