A canvas of the views of our students upon the merger deal has been suggested. There is no need, for they can hold but one opinion upon a plan which must destroy the identity of Technology.

Every freshman should attend the fencing meet this evening. The Springfield high team is reported to be very strong, and the freshmen team needs the support of every member of the freshman class both financially and vocally.

Those upholders of the alliance proposition who point to the opposition of the younger alumni as being based so exclusively upon sentiment as to be unworthy of consideration, make no reference to the attitude of the older alumni. The alumni of the classes before 1890 are more thoroughly against the alliance than the later graduates.

The track team is fortunate in being able to begin out-door practice at such an early date. The oval is in excellent condition, and Technology had field will soon be in shape for work. When the latter is ready the facilities for handling the number of men will be greater than we have ever had before. With the spring meet only a month away, it is none too soon for all men to turn out and endeavor to put their own class in shape to win on April 29th.
