Only a week now remains before the Annual Fall Handicap Meet. This meet, which gives the only chance to size up the new material at Tech, is important in so far as it enables the coach to estimate the approximate strength of this year's team.

Little interest has been shown thus far, and the men do not come out regularly. The lack of "T" men is particularly noticeable. While these men have rendered real service to Tech in the past,—and have been rewarded,—it is still their duty to uphold a reputation once gained. With the prospect of two dual meets next spring, besides the annual New England Intercollegiate Meet, a large list of entries is necessary.
