The opportunity of hearing Prof. Dr. Kuhneman of the University of Posen, lecture on Leo Tolstoi, is one that Tech men should not pass by.

We note with pleasure that an Orchestra has been added to our list of Musical Clubs, an extend our best wishes for its success.

Many men just entering upon the work of their Sophomore or Junior years, doubtless wonder what relation the subjects which Computing they take up bear to the Machine vs. profession which they are Engineer. to pursue. This is a perplexing question, and one which cannot often be explained with definiteness. Too often men here are so completely buried in the detail of the problems and tasks of study set for them, that they have no conception of the real nature of what they are attempting to accomplish. There are several ways in which a Tech man may keep in touch with what must be his real object in coming to Tech. One is by reading from time to time the scientific weeklies and magazines, or by visiting such works of engineering as may be accessible. By far the most helpful, however, is membership in the professional societies, with the opportunities which they give for coming into sympathy with the broad field of scientific and technical undertakings and its representative workers.

1908 TUG OF WAR.

The Sophomore Tug-of-War team practices at the Oval on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and at the Gym on Tuesday and Thursday at 4.10 P.M. sharp. The Manager desires that all the candidates come out regularly from this time on, as it is the practice of the next two weeks that will count. If new men come out now and work hard every afternoon, they still have a chance of making the team. It is a second team that makes a winning team of the regular men, and the scrubs have the satisfaction of knowing that their team could not have won without their aid.
