ROBERT E. SPEER'S ADDRESS.

About three hundred men were present in Huntington Hall Saturday morning to hear Robert E. Speer speak on "What Christianity Does for a Man." As the meeting was held under the auspices of the Technology Christian Association, Mr. Speer addressed the students as Christian men, taking for his theme the words of Christ, "Without Me ye can do nothing." He dwelt upon the need of decisive action in the fight for character. In conclusion he said that the whole centre of Christianity was the fact that there was a help in Christ for the man who wishes to overcome, a help which no man could supply for himself or for another.

CALIFORNIA CLUB.

With the purpose of gathering the men from the Golden Gate together, and getting them to know each other, the California Club gave them a dinner Friday evening at the Tech Union. The affair was meant to be informal and social, and there were only three speeches made. Mr. Mayberry of the class of '97, of the University of California, and Mesmer the president of the club, spoke. There were about twenty men at the dinner.

The unqualified success of our "all ready" clothing for men has encouraged us to present this season even a more extreme line of garments, such as until we entered the field were exclusively the province of the to-order tailor.

Our clothing is distinctive in character, of the finest American and English woollens, cut in rare taste, and includes all innovations—provided they are correct—that the best New York tailors promise.
