TECHNOLOGY ORCHESTRA.

An enthusiastic rehearsal of the Technology Orchestra was held Monday afternoon at 4.15 in the Tech Union. The attendance was not as large as on some previous occasions, but the interest shown by those present is already making itself felt. Under the direction of Leader Willis the men are exhibiting much ability, considering the fact that the organization has only recently been formed.

A very successful season seems to be in store for this new ensemble in musical circles. Need of more proficient men with both first and second violins, however, is apparent, and any men playing such instruments are requested to confer with C. F. Willis, ’06. The next rehearsal will be held Thursday at 4.15 p.m. in the Tech Union and a full attendance is requested.

INSTRUMENTS LOST.—A leather-covered box of Alteneder drawing instruments was lost from the Architectural drawing room (third year) some time between Friday and Monday, Nov. 17 and Nov. 21. The top of the case was marked in gold letters, "E. W. Stowell Reed, Jr." Will find owner return same to owner at 215 Newbury Street and receive reward of five dollars? No questions asked.

Will the person who borrowed a red turtle-neck sweater with a white B. L. S. monogram from the Tech Field during the week before Field Day please leave same at the Cage for Tobin, 1908.
