Freshmen hold dinner.
athletics. The latter, however, said he felt it was not the time nor place to talk on athletics, but rather he should choose for his theme the spirit which every Technology man ought to have. Gazing on the members of the, as yet, plastic class, he said he often realized what great opportunities to meet each other and become well acquainted were constantly being passed by. The Freshmen are a class in the making: so far they have done well, but their future tendencies have yet to be developed. A strong organization can only be obtained by fostering a deal of spirit, which alone can accomplish wonders.

Mr. Mahan said he, too, felt the sad spell which the approaching loss to the Institute of President Pritchett cast over all. In his five years of work he had come to be very close friends with Dr. Pritchett, and called to mind in how many dilemmas in connection with his work he had been helped by the President.

President Schaff urged the necessity for more spirit and asked that the delinquent dues be made up. He then spoke for the class, regretting Dr. Pritchett's resignation, and going on to say that, although the latter was known individually to only a few members, his influence for good had already been deeply felt.

A few words by Whitaker, the manager of the track team, on the indoor meet tomorrow, concluded the evening.

Phi Beta Kappa, the society for recognition of scholarship in the literary and art courses at colleges, has recently made its annual awards of membership at Harvard. Seventeen seniors and eight juniors were chosen.

Macullar Parker Company
There is something about our clothing which gives it a decided and attractive individuality—perhaps the combination of style, fit, shaping, patterns—all these count in the appearance of a garment. Our new Fall lines are now on our counters and this is a good time to purchase while the stock is fresh and all sizes represented. We call special attention to the handsome patterns in suits for young men.
