Technology defeated Boston College 23 to 21, in one of the closest and hardest fought games Tech had played this season. With any kind of support, the home team would have completely defeated the B. C. Five. There were only ten people present at the game, including all the reporters from the daily papers, and, of course, these ten saw the B. C. make all the baskets they could, the Tech five showed the effects of poor support.

The first half started with a rush, McGuinness, of Boston College, scoring a basket in thirty seconds. Tech came right back and scored five baskets in the next five minutes. The men of both teams settled down to work then, and during the remainder of the half McGuinness scored two baskets, and made two goals from the foul line. The half ended Tech 11, B. C. 4.

In the second half, Fitzgerald and Supple of the visiting team changed places, while Lympo, Tech, went in for Butch. Gregory, of B. C., got a shake up in the first half by a hard fall. Boston College opened strongly, and McGuinness scored two baskets out of six tries. The team did not seem to have developed a good defensive game, and B. C. continually went away with the ball.

Burleigh was injured by hitting Mr. W. S. Johnson, '89, T., Assistant Engineer on the Massachusetts State Board of Health was the speaker.
