DARTMOUTH WINS.

The Last Game of the Season Goes to Dartmouth. Team Began to Win.

In a brilliant game before full benches, Dartmouth outplayed Tech last night. The score, however, is creditable to Tech, for Williams failed to score, and Yale was beaten recently by the Hanover five.

Team work was the strong element in Dartmouth's game, and Tech's playing could not meet it.

The game started off with a rush and for the first half was an exhibition game for Dartmouth. Tech was passed about the floor at the visitors' pleasure, and against a husky Dartmouth men seemed to stand small show. But in spite of this, the home team rallied enough to score three times on foes. Burleigh made some good tries but failed to fill the ring. Kinnear played well for Dartmouth but failed to get a start. Grebenstein and Russ were the stars. Grebenstein made five goals from the floor and three on the stars. Grebenstein, McGregor, and Russ were made some good tries but failed to stand small show. But in spite of this, the home team rallied enough to score three times on foes.
