COLLEGE NOTES.

The Oxford-Cambridge boat race will be rowed April 7.

The Virginia House of Delegates adopted a joint resolution looking to an investigation of the Virginia Military Institute during vacation.

Lieutenant General Nelson Miles accepted an invitation to be the orator at the annual commencement of Nebraska State University on June 14.

Everet W. Hatch of McClelland, Ia., threatens to sue Creighton Medical College, Omaha, for $50,000 damages, alleging that he was crippled by hazing.

When Brown Freshmen won a debate from the Sophomores recently the Sophomores attacked the Freshmen and a general fight ensued. Twelve Sophomores and one Freshman were injured.

A report is current that an attempt is to be made at Columbia to abolish basketball as an intercollegiate sport after the close of the present season. President Butler is understood to favor such action.

Carroll D. Wright, president of Clark, said a three years' college course entitling a graduate to the A. B. degree is possible if athletics and waste of time in preparation for examinations are eliminated.

John F. Rowell, an unmarried painter and carpenter of Des Moines who has saved his earnings for years, gave $5,000 to the Drake University library fund, making it $25,000, the sum necessary to obtain a like amount from Andrew Carnegie.

The Sophomores of Barnard College (Columbia coeds) have laid down rules of conduct for the Freshmen. Among them are these:

1. No Freshman shall wear French heels on the Campus.
2. Freshmen shall not chew gum in the lecture rooms. Furthermore it is forbidden to stick gum on the college furniture.
3. Freshmen must not appear on the college grounds in the company of young men.

A communication has been received by President Northrop of Minnesota from the governing body at Michigan, stating that it favors the complete abolition of the paid coach. It advocates that as soon as the big nine is cleared of its present contracts with coaches, the system be entirely done away with, and only unpaid talent be used to direct the football teams. This is about the most radical step yet taken, and coming as it does, from Michigan, creates no little surprise.

Jiu jitsu, in which the Annapolis midshipmen have received instructions from Professor Yamashita, who instructed President Roosevelt, will not be retained at the Naval Academy when the professor's contract expires a month hence. The authorities at Annapolis do not consider the system suitable for the midshipmen and would have stopped the work before had not Yamashita had a contract for a hundred lessons of an hour each at $33.33 per lesson. Mr. Yamashita says there is not much money to be made by him at present and he expects to leave for Japan when he finishes at Annapolis.
