MEETING OF 1905 CLUB.

The first meeting of the Boston Club of 1905 was held at the Technology Club, Tuesday evening, Nov. 6. Fifteen men were present and seven or eight more had expressed their intentions of attending the future meetings. This Club has as its object the bringing together for an informal monthly dinner all 1905 or ex-1905 men in this vicinity. With this end in view it was decided that formal membership was entirely unnecessary, and that dinners should be held on the first Tuesday of each month, except the months of regular class dinners. But to provide for any possible change of date each man interested is requested to send at once six self-addressed reply post cards to Grafton B. Perkins, 285 Lafayette St., Salem, Boston telephone, Tremont 166, to provide for their notification and answer to same. Men temporarily in town are welcome if they send in their notification a few days in advance of the regular date. There will be no dues and dinners cost 60 cents. First dinner will probably be on Dec. 3, at 7.15.

THE TECH UNION.

The Tech Union seems to have obtained a good start on what promises to be a very successful year. Already this year Chef McIver has served a large number of class and club dinners, and with the beginning of the Komers last Saturday night, there is great promise for a busy season.

On last Friday there was an attendance nearly equal to the record, 205 men patronizing the lunch on that day.

The management of the Columbia basketball team is planning a Western trip of about ten days during the Christmas vacation. It is hoped that games may be arranged with University of Chicago, University of Wisconsin, and several Y. M. C. A. teams.

In order to stimulate a practical interest in the French language at Harvard, James Hazen Hyde '98, has offered a cup for the winner in a Harvard-Yale debate to be held in French. The debate will be conducted under the auspices of the Cercle Francais of Harvard.

A bit of true Dartmouth spirit was shown when practically the whole College turned out at midnight recently to welcome the team returning from the Williams game. Although the team had not won, it was just as loyally supported, because every man knew that Dartmouth had been represented to the best of the team's ability.
