SAMUEL CAROFT.
(Covered from Page 1.)

In contact with him. What then, can be said by those who knew and loved him best?

"One who knew him forty-five years; as a boy at the old Public Latin School; as an athlete in the gymnasium and upon the campus; as a young business man, working hard and intelligent ly; and as a man who finally won wealth and enjoyed the love and respect of all; never heard him utter an impure word nor knew him to do an unkind act.

"Men such as Samuel Cabot im part glory to the human race and leave the world better and purer for having passed through it. At this season it is good for us, his friends and admirers, to give thanks in Almighty God for vouch safing to us the privilege of having known him and partaken of the abundant kindness which filled to overflowing his gentle, loving heart."
