TREASURER’S REPORT.

Books Show a Deficit of $3965.21 in spite of Many Bequests.

The Treasurer’s report of the financial affairs of the Institute for the year ending Sept. 29, 1906, was submitted at the monthly meeting of the corporation.

There has been an increase in expenditures during the year. The increase in the accounts of the students’ fees, the net result, comparing current expenditures with current receipts, being a deficit of $3,965.21. In this account, however, has been taken of one of the most interesting features of the year, namely, the results of the devoted and efficient work of the Income Committee. This Committee has paid over to the Institute during the past year $427,557.06, as against $508,407.21 which was previously paid over to the Institute during the past year.

Cheney; a motor valued at $3896.21 from Prof. Henry M. Howe.

Jacques has also given $1,000 for the Library; $80 from the Department of Physics. "A motion was made that at the end of the present month all students presenting themselves at the Union without tickets on Saturday evening will be admitted free of charge to the Union."

MANAGEMENT OF KOMMERS.

Preparatory Committees make their first move for the Institute in the world of business.

To the Students of Institute:

Our convocations are the sole occasions when a large body of students can be expected to hear a large number of persons, and the convocation is therefore an occasion when it is possible for a large body of students to be present. It is not necessary to go into particular details. But if everyone of us, during the term, is to find the best possible entertainment, it is very important that we should try to make the convocations as pleasant as possible.

In this connection, we wish to suggest that the convocation in January, when we shall be meeting President Swett in his home, may be an occasion for all of us to think of the absolute necessity of self-control and gentlemanly conduct. It is not necessary that there should be any disorderly conduct and boyish outbursts, but it is necessary that there should be a proper attitude. And this is something that we can all do. It is something that we can all do in the Institute, and it is something that we can all do in the world of business.

S. B. ROGERS BUILDING has been put in use.

Important changes and improvements have been made in the Rogers Building. The building has been improved and the building has been put in good condition. The final payments have been made, and the building has been made available for students. The report of the engineer indicates that in this department the Institute is doing a good job, but that some expenditures will have to be made in the future.

The report shows that the Institute now holds property to the amount of $1,610,877 in investments, and real estate to the value of $1,892,911.
