as it is impossible to proceed with the adoption of a constitution or the election of officers until the board is complete.

The Art Staff of Technique is one of its most important branches, and it does seem as though there should be some competitive effort made to get it, and in that way bring out the best material in the field. So far only four people have been invited to draw, and there are three places on the staff.
Such a state of affairs can not be called a competition. It is a sure thing.

Now what '09 wants to do is to get busy. Every man in the class that can draw at all should send drawings. Every '09 architect should have in one or two or at least. Remember this is not a school of talented artists but of engineers, and any artistic ability, however slight, will help make the
'09 year book worthy of the name Technique, and should not be be-grudged.

TARGET PRACTICE REPORTS.

Regular target practice was held Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the M. I. T. Battalion at Walnut Hill. The following were the three best scores made out of a possible 75. P. Hart, 29; E. A. Turner, 58; J. H. O'Neill, 51.
